Arlington Dollar Days Coming

Arlington Heights HERALD

32nd Year — 50 THURSDAY, JULY 30, 1959 Arlington Heights, Illinois 5 Sections, 68 Pages $4.00 A Year — 10c A Copy

NOT CHILD BRIDES, but make believe brides are these young ladies who will participate in "Tom Thumbs' Wedding," one of Arlington Heights' park district's plays to be presented tonight and tomorrow evening at 8 p. m. at Recreation park. From left to right are Stephen Eiserman, 6, Suzanne Le Van, 6, David Ullrich, 7, and Lana Villand, 6.

FATE OF HASBROOK PARK UNDECIDED

The Editor's Column

by STUART R. PADDOCK

Is it not too much to ask our schools to provide community recreation facilities in addition to classrooms and instructors, as has been suggested in Palatine?

Our school boards would probably have no objection to use of surplus area for recreation purposes by the general public, but their financial problems are too great to finance the installations that would be needed.

Great as is the need for additional park facilities in Palatine, the result of the recent park election bans the use of tax money for such a purpose.

We complain about taxes and the encroachment of government on our private life, but we still brag about our independence.

With the taxes and personal restrictions that are being forced upon us, we sometimes wonder how independent we really are.

At least there are no restrictions on going into debt — for our government or for ourselves.

We do a lot of talking about the need for light industrial plants. They are being erected all around us, while three towns we can mention just sit down and let the world go by.

It would not be amiss if the three chambers of commerce and the interested taxing bodies sat around a conference table and collectively send some invitations industrial-wise.

We hope that the county and municipal rezoning will pinpoint areas that can be offered to interested firms without an ensuing zoning battle.

White collar workers of a firm which will locate in this vicinity next year are being given the opportunity to choose the community in which they desire to live.

A hundred copies of five editions of this paper will be distributed to them each week the coming months by their employer. By studying the various editions, the employee will be acquainted with the community life in each, also the existing housing situation.

This method has been used by one of them who became an Arlington resident a month ago.

"The cost of living is certainly going up in more ways than one," said a Palatine woman when she paid $10 because she was traveling the wrong way on a one-way street. She says,"The officer did not even give me green stamps."

She felt better the next day when inadvertently she did the same thing over again and there was no officer to say, "follow me to the station."

We had forgotten how much fun there is in picnics until last Sunday when we dropped in on two of them in Deer Grove.

Tables in forest preserves make picnics deluxe these days —there is no need to sit on the ground with ants and bugs as table companions.

The resignation of Evan Olmstead as chairman of Arlington Heights plan commission is to be regretted.

He and Secretary Rudolph Lacina have done a terrific job guiding the master plan to its adoption by the board last month.

They have completed a civic job that needed doing and without remuneration. We hope Mayor Carlisle will be able to find as successors, two men as well qualified. If a master plan is worth adopting, it is worth protecting.

The Bible says, "A prophet is not without honor save in his own country and his own house."

It is too often the same with Planning Commissioners who attempt to spread the gospel of Good Planning.

Village Breaks Down Tax Dollar

Where does your tax dollar go, and who gets how much?

In a brochure mailed to Arlington Heights residents this week, the village points out that only 12 cents of every tax dollar goes to support village government.

This is contrasted with 37 cents for public school district 25 and 30 cents for the high school district. The village takes the third biggest bite out of the tax dollar.

TIED FOR FOURTH place are Cook county and the Sanitary district with six cents each. The park district is fifth, receiving five cents. Miscellaneous bodies receive four cents.

Each tax dollar received by the village is spent as follows: streets, sewers and sidewalks, 31 cents; water and sewer utilities, 25 cents; police protection, 15 cents; general goverment and miscellaneous, 11 cents; fire protection, five cents; library, four cents; parking lots and meters, three cents; debt service, three cents; building inspection and control, two cents, and health inspection and control, one cent.

The village's 1959-60 budget of $1,465,696 was adopted this month. The budget dollar is derived from the following sources of revenue: property taxes, 32 cents; water and sewer, 25 cents; sales tax, 11 cents; motor and fuel tax, nine cents; miscellaneous, eight cents; licenses, five cents; parking meters, four cents; fines, three cents; permits, two cents, and other services, one cent.

Mt. Prospect Youth Drowns At Race Track

A 19-year-old Mt. Prospect youth was drowned last week when he and three other boys decided to "cool off" with an after work swim in an Arlington Park race track pool.

Randall Virgil, 105 S. Main, and his co-workers on a track maintenance crew finished their task of cleaning race track culverts shortly before 9 p.m. last Thursday, and decided to go for a dip in one of the track's two employee swimming pools.

THE BOYS stripped to their shorts and jumped into the pool feet first, according to a race track spokesman. Virgil failed to surface with the others, who found him on the bottom of the pool and pulled him out.

The Palatine fire department was summoned, but efforts to revive the 1958 Arlington high school graduate with a pulmotor failed. A coroner's report listed the cause of death as "asphyxiation by drowning."

The funeral was held Monday at Friedrichs funeral home. The deceased is survived by his mother, Esther; a brother, Robert; and a sister, Nancy.

Dollar Days Coming!

Hard Winter Blamed for School Delay

Old man winter has given Arlington Heights youngsters an additional four days of summer vacation.

The severity of the winter months has delayed construction on Westgate and Windsor school additions, thus moving the opening of District 25's fall term from September 8 to the 14th.

It's really not much of a gift for the youngsters, however, as the spring term will be lengthened to terminate on June 16 instead of the normal June 10 date. State law requires 176 school days.

Both Westgate and Windsor are receiving 12-room additions.

Public Auction Set August 10

Need a used vacuum cleaner or an extra-large tricycle? Or perhaps you can use 65 assorted hub caps. These items plus 19 bicycles will be offered at public auction at the Arlington Heights police station on Monday, August 10.

The items will be on display between 8 and 9 a.m. on the day of the auction. Sealed bids on the various articles may be submitted between 9 and 10 a.m. All bids will be opened at 10 a.m.

The majority of the items, according to the police chief, were confiscated as stolen goods or abandoned and picked up by police.

Propose New Site For Masonic Hall

The proposed site for erection of a Masonic lodge in Arlington Heights was shifted this week from its controversial Stonegate subdivision location in the northeast portion of the village to a tract on S .State rd. south of Central rd.

In a letter mailed to village board members this week the Century club notes that it has entered into a contract to purchase a tract at the southwest corner of Magnolia and State rds., provided the land is rezoned from single-family residential to multiple-dwelling in order to permit erection of the proposed lodge.

SHOULD THE rezoning be granted the Century club points out it would abandon its pending request for a building permit to erect a modernistic lodge on the east side of Dryden pl., near the Northwest hwy.

Originally issued in 1957, the Stonegate permit involved both the village and the Century club in a still pending law suit, with an abutting property owner to the proposed building as plaintiff.

In objecting to issuance of the permit the plaintiff claimed the proposed building's plans violated off-street parking requirements, and the building would, in addition, increase congestion, noises, dust, and overload community facilities, charged the plaintiff.

A CENTURY CLUB spokesman pointed out this week that the proposed State rd. site would provide ample parking. He also noted that no liquor would be served on the premises, and that the proposed building would be used only for meetings of Masonic bodies.

A hearing on the rezoning petition for the 230'x140' tract is scheduled for Tuesday, August 18, at 8 p. m. in the village hall.

A Jinni Wail at Noon

Caterwauling Screech Blasts Suburban Air

by TED SMART

Whooooooop.

A Mt. Prospect housewife dropped the dish she had been drying. It splattered over the kitchen floor.

Whooooooop.

A motorist jumped in the bucket seat of his sports car at the corner of Vail and Davis in Arlington Heights. He swerved and narrowly missed a parked maroon sedan.

Whooooooop.

A startled Wheeling resident, home for the lunch hour, dropped the gallon jug of milk on the front stoop. The freed white fluid jumped up and rolled down his trousers, spilled off the stoop and onto the wilted begonias. He said something nasty.

Each noon, over the northwest suburbs, the screech breaks in upon the mid-summer torpor that settles on the cement, the asphalt, and the parched, browning lawns. The heat waves rise, perspiration falls, the step becomes more leisurely, the blood courses slower, and then comes the wailing, high-pitched moan of the noon whistle like a jinni in anguish, jangling the sleepy nerves.

LIKE A LOT of other folks, I accepted the blare of the noon whistle without question. "It just goes off at noon to tell people what time it is," I told myself.

But then one day (after narrowly missing a parked maroon sedan) I thought: "Heck, I know it's noon. I can tell by the clock on the dashboard, the watch on my wrist, that big drug store clock over there, and a rapid-fire computation of the azimuth.

"Also," thought I, "most other folks probably have access to some sort of timepiece."

Why, then, the noon whistle?

POLICE departments in various towns were called and asked just this question.

"Whasamatta, ya goofy? We've always had a noon siren," one desk sergeant responded.

Palatine's Chief Foxworthy said, "We stopped blowing ours about a year ago. Now when our whistle goes off it means trouble. I don't know why they blow them at noon elsewhere."

Chief Calderwood of Arlington Heights says, among other things, the noon noise is a holdover from the old days when workers were summoned in from the fields to chow.

ONE DEPARTMENT head, who wished anonymity, said, "Once this sort of thing gets started it's impossible to stop." The philosopher-chief continued:

"It's a funny commentary on man. He begins with one idea—and a practical idea at that—to remind him of the time of day. The thing grows out of hand and he becomes enslaved by it.

"You could no more stop this noon whistle than the boss can stop the employee coffee break," he concluded.

THREE OTHER chiefs put forth some justification for the nerve rattling blasts. Chief Witenburg of Mt. Prospect, Chief Horcher of Wheeling, and Chief Campbell of Rolling Meadows vouchsafe that it is to test the fire signal apparatus.

A natural question that would arise from this answer is, "Why don't police departments use a muffler on the noon-hour blasts? Or, why not limit the roar to five seconds?"

BUT NO, the caterwauling of the noon siren will go on undiminished. Housewives will continue to drop dishes, milk will be spilled, and motorists will have wide and narrow scrapes.

As a concession, though, you police chaps might move the hour of the tests back to—say—7:30 a.m. It would replace at least one alarm clock.

Misunderstanding Cited by Official

A misunderstanding between Hasbrook Construction company and the Arlington Heights park district has left the fate of a proposed 14-acre park in the Hasbrook subdivision undecided.

The controversy over what would be the village's second largest park came to lignt last week with a premature publicity release on behalf of the construction company to the effect that landscaping of the park was completed.

Albert Riley, president of the company, noted to the contrary this week that shrubbery still remains to be planted around the pond located in the park. This, said Riley, is all that remains for his company to do in the way of landscaping or improvements for the park.

According to Director of Parks Tom Thornton, however, the planting of shrubbery by the construction company is just a start toward the improvements that are expected before the district will accept the park.

"WE NEED A park in the Hasbrook area (in north Arlington Heights), and we feel the 14-acre site would be a welcome addition to the district. But I'd definitely be against accepting the land in its present state," said Thornton. A village ordinance requires that a certain percentage of subdivision land be donated for park and school purposes.

Thornton maintains the company is obligated to build a sidewalk through the park from Thomas to Maude st., plant more trees, plant shrubbery, and reseed the tract as necessary to insure a substantial stand of grass. These actions, he argues, were promised by Riley to the park board, and are envisioned on an artist's sketch of the park.

Riley answers that his company is complying with a resolution adopted by the park board and with the plans and specifications submitted to the village for development of the subdivision.

The resolution, as it refers to the points in contention, stipulates that the company will provide sidewalks for entrance and exit to the park, and will grade, seed, and landscape the site in a manner approved by the park district board.

SUCH SIDEWALKS, claims Riley, have been provided. He also maintains that his company has seeded and is landscaping the area to a "reasonable extent."

The young construction company president claims his outfit has already spent $2500 on sidewalks bordering the park.

"We're not going to quibble about a little seed or fertilizer for landscaping, but when it comes to spending thousands of dollars for sidewalks, that's different," said Riley.

The village enters the picture by virtue of its accepting the site and then transferring it to the park district. The next move, according to Village Manager L. A. Hanson, should be a meeting between himself, Riley, and representatives of the park district and Hasbrook in an attempt to reach an agreement.

Six Boys Are On Probation For Thefts

Six young Rolling Meadows boys were placed on probation last week in a "station adjustment" of their series of thefts from Westgate shopping center stores. The boys, ranging in age form nine to 11, confessed their operations to Arlington Heights police several weeks ago after two of the boys' parents had contacted a Westgate shop owner stating their sons had admitted shoplifting from the store.

In a meeting last week with Rolling Meadows police officials, parents of all six boys agreed to pay their share of damages for the merchandise taken from stores. Total amount of stolen goods was about $50 according to police.

BECAUSE OF the extreme youth of the childred involved no formal charges were placed against them. The boys will be required to report weekly to special probation officer George Almgreen.

Rolling Meadows Police Chief Cy Campbell stated parents had been cooperative and concerned and expressed satisfaction at the settlement of the case.

Expect 400 Entrants In Lions' Olympics

The ninth annual Lions club Junior Olympics will be held Wednesday, August 5 at Recreation park, and will climax the Arlington Heights park district's summer playground program.

An estimated 400 youngsters will participate in the day-long program that will open with athletic competition at 9:30 a.m. Events will include the standing broad jump, softball throwing for distance and base running against time. Six-member teams will compete in shuttle relays in each division, and a basketball free throw contest will find the best shot in the junior division.

THE DIVISIONS are the four traditional Lions Olympics classes: digit, grades one and two; midget, grades three and four; intermediate, grades five and six, and junior, grades seven and eight.

First, second, and third place ribbons will be given to both boys and girls in each event

Checker competition among the champions from each playground will also be held in the morning. Tennis champions have already been determined and awards will be made.

Starting at 2:30 p.m. a Wheel Parade will get under way. The event is open to any child 12 years old or under, and may be entered with any vehicle that rolls. The wagons, roller skates, and other inventions can be decorated in any manner and will be judged on the basis of originality and beauty. The Lions will give merchandise certificates from local stores to the first, second, and third place winners.

SWIMMING EVENTS will be raced at 7 p.m. with competition in the free style backstroke. Age classifications will be eight and under, nine and 10, 11 and 12, 13 and 14, and 15 and 16, with separate contests for boys and girls. First, second and third place winners will receive medals.

Lions club members will judge events and present ribbons or medals to the winners. The club sponsors the Olympics to urge youngsters to participate in sports and recreation.

Bet Cases Continued

Four men charged with booking an estimated illegal $50,000 to $100,000 a day at Arlington Park race track were granted a continuance until August 19 last week by Justice of the Peace Carl Behrens.

Free on $1,500 bond, Daniel Freeman, 37, 3430 N. Lakeshore dr.; Simon Olshanky, 6618, E. Elm st.; John Cannato, 49, 4240 N. Mozart st., and Robert H. Thorp, 35, 6130 N. Hoyne ave. appeared in Wheeling township's justice of the peace court in Arlington Heights for a preliminary hearing.

ELDRED BENZ, assistant state's attorney, was granted permission to file an amended complaint charging the men with keeping a gambling house.

The bookmaking complaint carries a maximum penalty of a jail term of one year and a $2,000 fine. The other charge has a penalty limited to either six months in jail or a $500 fine.

Apprehended at the track and charged week before last at the Arlington Heights police station, the men, according to the state's attorney's office, used Freeman's box at the track as headquarters to book large bets, principally by hoodlums and racketeers who did not want to have their heavy betting noted at the parimutuel windows.

CHICAGO AND NORTH WESTERN railway workmen make repairs on Evergreen st. crossing. They hope to complete repairs of crossings at Evergreen and Dunton sts. this week. Next on the repair schedule is the Vail st. crossing for which gumwood will be used. This type wood, according to railway workmen, is the best for crossings, and is installed at the State rd. crossing.

The need for vitamins does not automatically disappear with the season. Summer, with its strenuous outdoor activities and vacation sports consumes our reserves; and the torrid hot spells rob many people of their usual vitality. Normal appetites wane as the thermometer rises . . . diets often become lop-sided—with further effects on general good health.

Summer is the time to continue taking vitamins to build up resistance for winter months. If you have been taking vitamins, don't stop now! And, if you haven't, why not check with your physician on the advisability of beginning now. Let him also suggest the formula that is best for you and for your children. Arlington Heights Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Now that the peak of the summer season is here many Arlington Heights families are riding the crest of the vacation wave and several recent returnees are sporting bruises to prove they literally rode, and fell off, a wave or two during initial water skiing attempts. Whether just coming home or just leaving town most Arlington Heighters seem to be on the move the past week or two.

Really on the move is the Z. A. Sutter family, formerly of New Jersey, leaving their home of less than a year at 1130 N. Dunton for a new one in Valdosta, Ga. A dozen neighborhood friends farewelled Mrs. Sutter Tuesday morning at a "coffee and" in the home of Mrs. Richard Weidner, 1131 N. Dunton. The Sutters leave for the south this weekend.

Recent arrivals from Summit, N.J. are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson and their two daughters who have moved into the new home at 623 S. Evergreen. Several neighborhood women were introduced to Mrs. Johnson over coffee last Thursday in the George Vitoux home, 610 S. Evergreen.

THE WALTER Oetzell family, 901 S. Dunton, came home Saturday night after a week at Silver Lake, Mich. Youngest fisherman in the crew, 4-year-old Michele, repeated last year's success with hook and line and hauled in a whopper just big enough to keep. She also joined the rest of the family for a thrilling "dune scooter" ride, but left the new experience of water skiing to the older family members.

Judy Eriksen and Cheryl Winkler can also now be counted among the nation's water-ski enthusiasts just one week after their initial try at the sport. Judy and her parents, the Peter B. Eriksens, 5 W. Orchard, had Cheryl as their guest during a family vacation last week near Hayward, Wis. where the girls met the skis for the first time.

Testimonials to the ease of super-highway motoring are Mr. and Mrs. Mark Rightmire and the children, who travelled 2200 miles last week and came home smiling. They toured the Badlands and Black Hills and stopped at "The Plunge" in Hot Springs, S. D. In Nebraska they visited with Mr. Rightmire's brother, Roger of Smithfield, and his sister and family, the Louis Karisches of Hastings. Next stop: Omaha where they were welcomed by former Arlington Heights residents, the Glenn Sorensens, and Janet was invited to stay on for a week's visit. She did and the Rightmires minus one began the homeward route, arriving home at 116 S. Walnut Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Loudon, Jim and their guest, Jim Jedd, returned home early last week after a 2-week vacation trip to the west. They toured the Black Hills and Yellowstone National park and enjoyed a week at a dude ranch in Jackson Hole, Wyo.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Condon, Carol and Mary, 314 W. Fairview, returned last week from a 2-week vacation in Philipsberg, Pa. visiting their families.

A ROUND TRIP hayride to Prairie View recently perked up a lazy summer Saturday evening for a dozen local and Chicago couples. The Arlington Heighters, all from the Olive-Mitchell st. area, and their Chicago friends concluded the evening with a barbecue supper at the Jack Bobzien home, 404 W. Olive, where the hostess, celebrating a birthday the following day, was presented with a birthday cake and a couple dozen congratulations from the dozen couples.

"We couldn't stop catching them" is a common enough complaint in the measles season but such a statement concerning fish, especially walleyes, is rarely heard. It is, nevertheless, the favorite expression of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Stoehr, Doug and Dick, since their return Sunday night from three weeks in Baudette, Minn. where the pike couldn't have known what was in "Stoehr" for them. The local Isaac Waltons of 441 S. Prindle began their vacation the end of last month and stopped in Kansas City, Mo. where they were joined by fellow fishermen, the T. P. Tadlocks for the raid on the waters at Baudette.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Mueller, 110 S. Vail, spent two days last week in Birmingham, Mich. where they attended the wedding Saturday of Mr. Mueller's nephew, David Lanphear. They returned here immediately after the wedding celebration to begin the trip to Wild Rose, Wis. where their sons, Thomas and John, ended two weeks at Camp Napowan.

THE JUNIOR Sam Clark family is home again at 608 S. Walnut after two weeks at a family cottage in Douglas, Mich.

Miss Charlene Rehfeldt, 315 N. Pine, was hostess over the weekend to 10 fellow Bowling Green university students to celebrate her coming graduation August 21 from the university. Her friends, all of Ohio, enjoyed a day at the races, an Hawaiian party at Brookwood country club and a night at the Gaslight in Chicago.

Mrs. W. S. Gildersleeve of Oak Ridge, Tenn. left here Tuesday after 10 days at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, the Howard Stiefenhoefers, 926 S. Vail. Her trip to this area was timed so that she was able to attend the Altrusa International convention held recently at the Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago.

Miss Joanne Muran, daughter of the Joe Murans, 1319 N. Dunton, who will be married Saturday to Austin Brodnan of Arlington Heights was recently feted by her fellow workers in Des Plaines at the last of a half dozen prenuptial parties in her honor. Party planner, Mrs. Sharron Huege of Des Plaines had the cooperation of Miss Muran's boss who detained the honor guest after working hours supposedly because a correction was needed in her day's work. Obediently trotting to the cafeteria at her boss's orders Miss Muran found 15 coworkers waiting to shower her with personal gifts and best wishes.

TWO RECENT surprise showers have honored Miss Carole Finch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Finch, 523 S. Chestnut, who will be married August 8 to Richard Rademacher of Arlington Heights. Forty family friends and relatives showered Miss Finch with miscellaneous gifts at a pre-nuptial party given by Mrs. Wm. Gronert and Mrs. John Lentner at the Gronert home, 2012 E. Euclid.

Ten Chicago area Chi Omega sorority sisters honored Miss Finch at a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Jacqui Notarnicola of Chicago Heights, who will serve Miss Finch as maid of honor. Bridesmaids will wear pink and the hostess used varying shades of the pastel as the shower color scheme.

Mary Jo Galdoni, was 8 years old last Wednesday, celebrated at a family party that included her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morray of Detroit, who were here for a 3-day visit at the Galdoni home, 742 S. Chestnut.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Dale, 1020 N. Walnut, had as dinner guests last Wednesday evening, the Ted DeWolf family of Cleveland. Mr. Dale and Mr. DeWolf served together during World War II as shipmates on the USS Cabildo.

Miss Shirley Niemeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Niemeyer, 635 N. Dunton, was one of the honor guests last Thursday at the 73rd anniversary celebration of the Avon company held at the VFW hall in Des Plaines. Miss Niemeyer was presented the Chicagoland area golden slipper award in recognition of her outstanding sales record.

"old-timers" who has made his home here most of his life, received the congratulations of neighbors and friends Sunday evening following a family dinner for 15, given by his son and daughter-in-law, the Arthur Guenthers, who make their home with him.

The James Drake family, which recently moved from 820 N. Dunton to a new home at 411 N. Beverly, were the surprised guests of honor in their own home at a housewarming party a week ago Saturday night. Twelve local couples, laden with all the makings for a party and a housewarming gift of a lamp, called on the Drakes, announced their most honorable intentions and 411 N. Beverly was properly "warmed." Co-planners and hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mees, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fritz, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mathews and the David Soyats.

Mrs. Mathews had just returned from two weeks in Colorado Springs where she attended the International Girl Scout Senior Roundup with Miss Barbara Rasmussen, daughter of the Bruce Rasmussens, 202 Windsor, and Miss Molly Miller, daughter of the John Millers of Sherwood. The fifty United States and 27 foreign countries were represented by 8200 girls at the roundup, Mrs. Mathews attending as a staff member, Miss Rasmussen a guide and Miss Miller the delegate from the eighth district of Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Allen Kovar, 431 Windsor dr., will participate in the regional sports car races sponsored by the Chicago region of the SCCA to be held in Wilmot, Wis. August 8 and 9. The event will benefit the Illinois Epilepsy league.

MR. AND MRS. L. L. Van Oosten, 600 S. Pine, and their daughter, Sue, are home from a 6-week tour of Europe. They flew by jet to England, where they purchased a car and toured five countries, England, France, Germany, Holland and Switzerland. The Van Oostens returned home on the S. S. New Amsterdam, a Dutch liner with a crew so hospitable, that the voyage will be remembered with sheer delight for a long time.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Oestman, 315 E. Park, were at Browns lake, Burlington, Wis., over the weekend to attend the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. Oestmann's parents, the C. E. Oestmanns. Sixty-four guests gathered for a dinner party held in their honor.

Mrs. Oestmann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Clark, will arrive Monday from Keystone Heights, Fla., for a visit here and the Oestmanns and their son and family, the F. B. Clarks of Waycinden Park.

GUESTS OF Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Joachim, 331 Bristol lane, are Mrs. Joachim's sister and brother-in-law, the A. W. Smiths of Miami, Fla. The Smiths will also visit with another sister, Ruth Smith and her family in Oak Park.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Dotts' daughter, Dottie, who is touring Europe with the "TOPS" group, sends word that she is having a wonderful trip and enjoying every day to its fullest. She was in Germany recently, visiting the Black Forest and staying with a German mother and daughter in Pforzheim, and will be leaving for Venice and other points of interest in Italy soon.

County to Schedule Suburban Hearings

Suburban hearings are expected to be held either in August or September on the comprehensive zoning ordinance offered for Cook county unincorporated areas.

That hearings will be held in the suburbs is promised by Andrew J. Dallstream, chairman of the county zoning board of appeals.

THE BOARD held what it termed "preliminary" hearings in Chicago in the past fortnight. Suburban officials complained it was difficult for suburbanites to attend the hearings because of the location.

"We'll hold hearings at a later date for those who found it inconvenient to come to Chicago," Dallstream said.

"We will work out a series of meetings in the county areas, but not based on townships. Some of our villages spill over into sections of several townships, so their problems are not limited to a township, but are area problems."

DALLSTREAM said requests by farmers to keep the farming district classification in the zoning ordinance "is under consideration" and "no final decision will be made until all hearings are completed and everyone is heard."

A. F. Wild, attorney representing the Cook County Farm Bureau's 6,600 members, has said: "Whatever is permitted can be denied. We fear the elimination of the farming classification would be detrimental to the farmer solely from the standpoint of taxation."

Farmers fear their land would be assessed by how it's zoned and not by how it's used. (AF

Open-Air Chapel Set For Memorial Park

An unusual and distinctive open-air Chapel-in-the-Woods, with a domed Star of David reflecting the sunlight, will be constructed in Shalom Memorial Park, Chicagoland's only all-Jewish garden-plan burial ground at Rand and Wilke roads in Palatine.

Leo E. Aronson, president of the Park, who made the announcement, said the cost of the project will exceed $100,000.00.

The dome of the chapel has been designed for unusual effect by taking the six pointed Mogen David (Star of David) and molding it so that the six points touch the ground, with the center of the star more than 25 feet high. The area between the points is set at different planes and angles to reflect sunlight. When the sun strikes the dome, the shadow which it casts is that of a Star of David.

Only the points of the star touch the ground so that there is space and openness between. The altar can be seen from any direction. White translucent glass will fill the spaces between the steel frames supporting the body of the dome. The unique structure was designed by the architectural firm of Alper and Alper of Chicago, and construction is scheduled to begin this summer.

ON THE ALTAR there will be a Hebrew and English inscription lettered with the Hebrew lettering of a new design, patterned after the Dead Sea Scrolls script. This design was developed in the famous Bezalel Institute of Art in Jerusalem, Israel, by Noah Ofir of the Arts-and-Crafts School. A type font was also designed by the artist and will be used in Hebrew printing throughout the world.

The following inscription, translated from the Hebrew, from the Talmud, Aboda Zaraa, 18a, will be cut into the granite:

"Beneath this altar lie sacred parchments returning to dust; their eternal truth hovers above the Society of Man."

The chapel will be built over a hallowed area, which was the scene of a Geniza ceremony held at Shalom Memorial Park in July, 1957.

During the Geniza ceremony held at Shalom Memorial Park in 1957, more than 50 synagogues and other religious institutions, including the Hebrew Theological College of Skokie, were represented when more than 15 tons of old, worn, torn or damaged religious items no longer useful, were interred in accordance with the centuries-old Jewish law.

THIS LAW forbids indiscriminate destruction, burning, or simply discarding of these objects because, as Herschel Auerbach, Executive Director of the Park, pointed out, "The books, scrolls and other objects contain the name of the Almighty and must never be desecrated. They cannot be disposed of in any manner that may be irreverent or disrespectful, and so reflect upon the Holiness of God."

In writing about the Geniza ceremony at Shalom Memorial Park, one newspaper reporter drew an analogy between this interment and the burial of the Dead Sea Scrolls. It is believed that the Biblical writings, more than 2000 years old, found in the discovery of the Dead Sea Scrolls, were interred in a similar Geniza ceremony. Jewish tradition has remained unchanged to this very day.

"Objects that are used for religious ritual," Auerbach stated, "are considered holy according to Jewish tradition and are always handled with deepest respect. We must make certain that they will not be desecrated and are disposed of by interment in a holy place—a Jewish burial ground."

Auerbach stated that the Chapel-in-the-Woods "has been designed as a place of prayer and meditation. Here, in a quiet and peaceful atmosphere among the natural beauties of trees, flowering shrubs and singing birds, our honored war dead will be remembered on Memorial Day and Veterans Day. On the Sunday between the Jewish High Holidays, Rosh Hashannah and Yom Kippur, when Jews traditionally visit the final resting place of a loved one, special services paying tribute to the memories of those at rest at the park will be held by synagogues and organizations with sections at the park. A large enough area has been set aside to seat more than 2500 people at one time."

The Chapel-in-the-Wodos will be open to visitors to Shalom Memorial Park and for public memorial and dedicatory services which are held in the park by more than 15 synagogue organizations and the Jewish War Veterans, Department of Illinois. These organizations sponsor sections for their memberships at the Park. (B8

AN UNUSUAL Chapel-in-the-Woods will be constructed at Shalom Memorial Park, the only all-Jewish garden-plan burial ground, located at Rand and Wilke rds., Palatine. The $100,000 project will be built over an area hallowed by the Jewish Geniza ceremony in 1957 and containing more than 15 tons of interred religious items.

Bus Firms Lament Veto of Exemption

Seven big suburban bus companies estimate they would have saved a total of about $200,000 annually if Gov. Stratton hadn't vetoed a bill exempting them from paying the state motor fuel tax.

Some local bus companies need relief, but the governor doesn't feel "an indirect subsidy" is the "proper way" for them to receive such help, according to his veto message.

The bus ompanies now will reappraise their financial position. It appears doubtful that the veto will lead to higher fares on this factor alone. But, Paul Elward, attorney for the West Towns and Evanston bus companies, says riders will have to make up the difference somehow.

HERE ARE the estimates of the companies on what they would have saved annually if exempted from paying the gas tax:

West Towns Bus company, $60,000; South Suburban Safeway, $40,000; United Motor Coach, $25,000; Leyden Bus company, $22,000; Evanston Bus company, $20,000; Bluebird Bus company, $20,000, and American Coach, $10,000.

The Chicago Transit Authority is exempt from the tax.

Forty-two bus companies have gone out of business in Illinois since 1946, Elward said, and 'the veto will insure a few more."

Air Pollution Bill Vetoed By Governor

Despite support from nearly every industrialized suburb in Cook county for the measure, Gov. Stratton last week vetoed House Bill 1626 by Rep. Kenneth Wendt (Dem., Chicago) appropriating $15,000 for an Air Pollution Investigation and Study Commission.

The governor's veto message stated:

"While the purpose of this bill is a laudable one, the sum appropriated was not included in the budget and this project must be deferred for more pressing needs of the state."

The veto was similar in the reason given to several others on bill creating commissions for studying various new problems, which would have added $625,000 to the $250,000 provided for such commissions in the governor's budget.

Lady Commissioner Speaks Up on Taxes

The only woman on the Cook county board jarred the ranks of the other 14 commissioners Monday with this unexpected outburst against higher taxes:

"Somebody who has some brains ought to do something to lower taxes. If they keep going up, it won't be long before we won't be able to pay them."

Mrs. Elizabeth Conkey, a board member for more than 20 years, added:

"Taxes must be held down by somebody."

THIS SHOOK the commissioners to their feet.

"What do you think we've been doing?" Daniel Ryan, board president, thundered in indignant retort.

"We—that is, the county board—haven't raised our taxes in Cook county for 25 years." The county rate hasn't been increased, Ryan exclaimed.

JOHN DUFFY, another commissioner, dwelling on the words for emphasis, declared:

"Mrs. Conkey, the county board has no control over tax increases by other taxing bodies—the city of Chicago, the suburbs, the sanitary districts, the park districts, the school districts."

"I know," Mrs. Conkey answered, "but I feel it's about time a woman has something to say around here."

Her comments came as the board adopted a half cent sales tax to be collected by stores in unincorporated areas.

Suburban Licenses Are Suspended

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier this week announced the revocation of 195 and the suspension of 464 drivers licenses, chauffeurs licenses, and driving privileges, based on local court convictions and police reports.

In addition 84 persons whose licenses were suspended earlier and who did not have more than a total point accumulation of 62 points have been granted probationary permits to drive.

AREA RESIDENTS with revoked or suspended licenses are: Joseph A. Burgy, 901 N. Pine, Arlington Heights, suspended for driving while intoxicated; Geraldine C. Crane, 2302 Meadow dr., Rolling Meadows; Donald L. Erion, 941 Higgins rd., Arlinton Heights; Louis J. Gilleran, 710 Shabonee, Mt. Prospect; Edward J. Golab, 100 W. Berkshire, Mt. Prospect; Roger L. Larson, 46 Elm, Willoway trailer court, Elk Grove; all having committed three violations.

Others suspended for three violations are James C. Ewing, Bensenville; James C. Ferrell, 410 Ronald R., Addison; Fredrick Fiebernirz, Bensenville; Calvin A. Flaig, 412 Catalpa, Itasca.

Fiebernitz, Flaig, and Ewing were issued probationary permits.

Q. When talking with someone whose name you cannot remember readily, and another friend happens to join you, should you attempt an introduction?

It is better to attempt an introduction than to have the two persons stand there awkwardly staring at each other. You can say, "I'm very sorry, but for the moment, I just cannot recall your name."

Barbara, daughter of Eileen and Raymond Brown, 1504 W. Oakton, celebrated her fourth birthday last Wednesday afternoon with playmates Nancy Jo Geer, Colleen Coleman, Suzanne Burkhardt, Lisa Yates and Patty Murphy, a visitor from Chicago. Terry Trummer and Ellen Frisbie were unable to attend. The guests enjoyed birthday cake and ice cream, playing games and being the recipients of party favors.

Saturday afternoon marked the birthday celebration of Linda, daughter of Alice and Richard Brown, 1413 N. Chicago, who was six. Sharing her festivities were her brother, Don, sister, Susan, and Jimmy Dean, Beth Martin, Linda Donath, Linda Cech, Joan Kohler and John Reinhardt. After the birthday cake and ice cream, they played games for prizes and each received a favor.

Mary, daughter of Polly and Charles Millhouser, 1702 W. Oakton, celebrated her 13th birthday at Hickory Hill Girl Scout camp, Edgerton, Wis. It has been a busy two weeks for her, crammed with activities.

Another scout to have enjoyed two weeks of camp life was Bert, son of Evelyn and Albert Schmidt 1321 N. Illinois, at Camp Napowan, Wild Rose, Wis. The highlight for him was achieving the 100-yard swim race, thus entitling him to an overnight canoe trip.

SHIRLEE AND FRANK Pircher, 133 N. Illinois, spent a pleasant weekend with their children, Frank, Steve and Mike, at Madison, Wis. They enjoyed dining out, swimming and sightseeing. Main point of interest for them was Cave of the Mounds.

An active and fun filled week with their grandmother, Mrs. Harold Splon, Oak Park, was recently enjoyed by Nancy and Cynthia, daughters of Marguerite and James Cates, 1334 N. Yale. They dined in many restaurants in Chicago and also visited two zoos and saw six movies.

Nancy celebrated her 13th birthday last Friday by inviting several schoolmates from St. James school to a slumber party. It began early in the evening with volley ball, followed by birthday cake and ice cream. After a night of much eating, talking and little sleep, the girls enjoyed breakfast before taking their leave.

Sunday Mrs. Ralph Cates, Springfield, arrived for a month's visit with her son and family, which also includes a grandson, James.

A barbecue yard party was held Sunday evening in honor of the first birthday of Elizabeth, daughter of Anne and Fred Miller, 1256 N. Illinois. Those attending were her sisters, Mary Anthony and Theresa Marie, and brother, Frederick, as well as the Donald Klien family, Morton Grove, Fran Parker family, Oak Park, and the Dan Stubing family, Chicago.

DOROTHY AND Richard Kirstein, 1310 Jo lane, and their children, Ricky and Donna, spent their recent 2-week vacation visiting both sets of parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lierman and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kirstein, who live in Bloomington and Normal, Ill., respectively.

Although finally rained out, Marge and Dick Frisbie, 1512 W. Oakton, and their children, Felicity, Ann, Tommy, Ellen and Paul, did enjoy a 5-day camping trip, which took them to New Salem State park, where they enjoyed sightseeing relevant to Lincoln's boyhood residence, and the Indiana Dunes State park, the scene of hiking and swimming.

Last Saturday Ann celebrated her seventh birthday by entertaining several friends at a luncheon party, after which they attended a performance of the movie, "Around the World in 80 Days," at the Arlington theatre. Wishing her many happy returns were her sister, Felicity, brother, Tommy, Kathleen Brown, Jill Turner and Leslie Yates.

Marvis and Jim Terry, 1251 N. Chicago, spent their vacation time visiting their families and preparing their new home for residency. Happy to see their grandchildren, Sharon, Shea and Catherine, were Marvis' mother, Mrs. Isabel Charlet, Galesburg, and Jim's father, C. D. Terry, Kewanee.

With Disney characters at the scene, via plates, cups, napkins and all, the setting was complete for the luncheon party held last Saturday afternoon in honor of Kevin, son of Barbara and Ralph Wierderhold, 1322 N. Chicago, who was celebrating his fifth birthday. Among the guests were his brothers, Kim and Kyle, Ralph and Paul Menick, Dick Silverman, Kevin Conley, Robert Husted and Danny Healy. Guy Eisenhuth was unable to attend.

JANET MARIE, daughter of Valerie and Frank Dawson, 1314 N. Illinois, was baptized last Sunday in ceremonies presided over by Rev. George Roth at St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights. Godparents were her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Dawson, who flew here from their home in Circle Pines, Minn., for a weekend visit. Also happy to see their aunt and uncle were the other Dawson children, Steven, Susan and Jean Ann.

Leaving the Terrace today are Liz and Joe Silverman, 1317 N. Race, and their children, Maura, Richard and Tracey. Their neighbors will miss them, and they wish them well in their new home at 2925 Idlewood lane, Highland Park.

Jane and Joe Lennon, 1401 Clarendon, and their children, Kathleen, Sally Jo and Joseph, had a wonderful weekend holiday, during which they attended the annual picnic held by American Motors in Burlington, Wis.

Saturday the Lennon family will leave the Terrace for their new home at 120 S. Dwyer, Westgate division of Arlington Heights.

A week ago Sunday Diane Lucina, daughter of Adele and Frank Yore, 1260 N. Illinois, was baptized at St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights, by Rev. John Lane. Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Connor, Chicago. The occasion was marked with a buffet supper, which was attended by the Yore children, Sheila, Patty, Michael and Danny, the O'Connors and their five children.

A surprise birthday party for Darlene Krug, 1212 N. Race, was held recently at the home of Shirley and Bob Vogtritter, 1208 N. Race, attended by her husband, Bob, Kay and Don Jacobsen, Edith and Ken Larson, Charlene and Chuck Sayre, Phyllis and Charles Marshall, Connie and Charles Dolejs and Elaine and Bill Petrucci. The couples enjoyed the evening on the patio, with conversation, games, toasting the birthday girl and indulging in the various snacks prepared by Shirley.

July 22 marked the sixth birthday of the Vogtritters' daughter, Kim, and they entertained her friends at a barbecue luncheon party that afternoon. Although Dawn Dolejs and Maura Silverman were unable to attend due to illness, Shirley Rozdalovsky, Jennifer Marshall, Linda Riefstahl, Jill Turner, Joan Jacobsen and Robin Mells were on hand, as were former neighbors from Des Plaines, Nancy and Judy Harms, and Kim's cousin, Lori Vogtritter, also of Des Plaines.

In the evening, a family dinner party was held, at which Kim shared her birthday cake with her uncle, Curt Vogtritter, Des Plaines, who had a birthday the day before. Wishing them both many happy returns were the other Vogtritter children, Gary and Scott, and Lori's mother, Mrs. Art Vogtritter, also of Des Plaines. (A

Pastor Reviews Church Book

Hughes B. Morris, pastor of the First Methodist church in Arlington Heights, reviews Martin Anderson's new book, "A Guide to Church Building and Fund Raising," in the August issue of New Christian Advocate, professional journal for Methodist pastors and church leaders.

Rev. Morris believes that for those who are thinking of building a church or have already begun, this book shuld be "must" reading. He says that Dr. Anderson, by presenting his views on the various problems which confront every pastor and church building committee, gives a firm base line on which to consider these problems. (A

Q. Is it considered proper for a girl, who is not engaged, to wear a diamond ring on her third finger, left hand?

A. There is no question of "propriety" involved here. She may wear a ring on this particular finger if she wishes — and if she doesn't care about the impression she will undoubtedly give to many others that she is engaged.

County Approves FM Tower

A special use zoning ruling by the county board allows the erection of a 250 foot transmitting tower for a new FM radio station that will serve northwest suburban communities.

Permission to erect the radio tower on a one-eighth acre parcel in Wheeling township was granted by the board to John D. Morgan, 321 S. Drury lane, Arlington Heights.

Morgan said a residence on the property, located 150 feet west of Arlington Heights road about 650 feet north of Palatine road, will be utilized as the station's studio and office.

THE SPECIAL USE ruling was needed because the tower will exceed the 100 foot maximum height for towers in a business district.

Morgan, an advertising agency owner, said he received the Federal Communications Commission license to operate the station December 30, 1958. The station's call letters are WNWC, the last three letters standing for "north west communities."

The station will be powered by 1,000 watts with an average coverage radius of 12 to 14 miles. Assigned a band at 92.7 megacycles, the broadcasting station will be known as a true high-fidelity community station.

Morgan plans to broadcast between the hours of 1 p.m. and 11 p.m., but he is licensed by the federal government to operate around the clock. The assigned frequency will not interfere with any other station in the area, he said.

THE TRIANGULAR steel tower will have a 12 foot concrete foundation and is designed to withstand a wind load of 30 pounds or 85 mile an hour winds. All but six inches of the foundation will be below ground.

The evidence shows there will be no vibrations, noises or any disturbance to neighboring residents and that the lighting will be controlled in accord with FCC regulations, according to the County Zoning Board of Appeals. It recommended granting of the special use permit.

The board noted there were no objections from Arlington Heights, Palatine, Wheeling, and Buffalo Grove—all within 1½ miles of the site. (ACM

Censorship Bill Vetoed By Governor

A bill giving Cook county power to prohibit obscene theatricals and exhibitions has been vetoed by Gov. Stratton.

The bill "appears to grant to the county board the power of censorship of entertainment without, at the same time, providing an adequate definition of the term 'obscene' to protect the constitutional rights of citizens," Stratton said in the veto message.

Movie houses (indoor and outdoor), night clubs, and other businesses providing entertainment or recreation in unincorporated areas also would have been subject to an annual county license fee ranging from $25 to $50. The bill was introduced by Rep. Levelt and others.

STRATTON also vetoed a bill which would have extended "quick taking" provisions in the law of the right of eminent domain to the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago. The district would have had the power to take land now for easements and other purposes in construction of sewers and other drainage structures and pay for the property later after a jury determined a fair price.

Stratton said: "Heretofore, those provisions have been available only to the State of Illinois for highway purposes. This limitation appears, for the present, to be in the best public interest." (B8

Investment Books Now Available

A boom in small investing, with United States stockholders now totaling more than 10 million, and growing at the rate of about 500,000 a year, has brought a continuing demand at the Arlington Heights Memorial Library for books on all aspects of investments, according to Mrs. Charles Stadelman, librarian.

Many practical books are available which give information essential in planning a sound investment program.

ONE HELPFUL handbook for people who are investing in the stock market is Harry Kahn's recently published "A Primer for Profit in the Stock Market," with specific suggestions about what to buy as well as general advice on how to buy.

Other recent books covering stock market investing include Philip Fisher's "Common Stocks and Uncommon Profits," Ralph C. Epstein's "Making Money in Today's Market," and Ira U. Cobleigh's "How to Get Rich Buying Stocks."

Other helpful books which provide basic knowledge for the potential investor are "How to Gain Security and Financial Independence," by Ira Cobleigh and "How to Buy Stocks," by Louis Engel. (A

New Filter System at Pool Keeps the Water Warmer

by JOEL CARTER

The new filter system at Recreation park has greatly increased the popularity of that north side pool. Attendance is up 96 per cent partly because the new mechanism keeps the water warmer.

In past years the overflow that was splashed into the surface gutter had to be replaced with cold water from the city mains and the pool temperature stayed pretty low. Now it is cleaned and returned to the pool in its sun warmed state.

The new method also saves money by reducing the park's water bill. A lot of water can be splashed into the gutter by 1,000 kids and replacing it daily was expensive.

THE PARK district provides summer employment for nearly 75 Arlington Heights students and teachers. These people are the cream of the crop selected from a huge list of applicants. Each is highly qualified in his specialty and their services are the biggest factor in giving Arlington one of the finest summer recreation programs anywhere. Let us introduce a few of them beginning with the Recreation Pool staff.

BOB MORS is head guard and oversees the entire pool routine from testing the water's bromine level to keeping the dressing rooms orderly and safe. The University of Illinois sophomore is well known to local sports fans for winning the quarter mile event in the 1958 state track meet for Arlington high. The son of a sales executive for Benjamin Electric, he is majoring in physical edcation and wants to coach after graduation. He guarded at the Mt. Prospect pool for two years before coming here where he has been head guard for the past two years.

BOB LOCKWOOD is Mors right hand man and was also a track star at AHS. A sophomore at Northwestern, he expects to finish in accounting and go on to law school. This is his second year as a life guard and he worked on the playground for two years before that. He is the son of a patent attorney and has lived in Arlington for the past 13 years. Lockwood also works as head swim instructor in the mornings.

JUDY KEPPEN is an 18-year-old second year guard. She was homecoming queen at Arlington high where she was an honor graduate in June. She plans to attend the University of Denver and become an elementary school teacher. This is her third year as a lifeguard and swim instructor.

WARREN PHILLIPS is known sardonically as "The Butcher" for his duties as trainer of the high school's athletic squads. He won a scholarship to Northwestern University for his training skills where he will start work toward an MD. Phillips worked his way up to the guard job from a lesser job in the locker room.

KEN HADLAND quarterbacked the AHS football team and is going to Purdue for engineering. The 18-year-old guard and instructor also has been promoted from the locker room.

LYNN MASCHHOFF is a substitute lifeguard and wading pool attendant working here for the first year. The daughter of a local grocer, she teaches swimming in the mornings. As a newcomer to Arlington she finished high school here after attending Sullivan High in Chicago.

BONNIE Lippke is the youngest in-the-water attendant at the park. She enters her senior year at Arlington in September. She enjoys her work in the wading pool because she likes small children.

JANICE SMOLTZ is the practical nurse. A junior at Eastern Illinois University she is studying to be a teacher. She moved to Arlington from Edwardsville last year with her father who is an executive for the Chicago and North Western Railroad.

JOHN MOCKENHAUPT, Tom Clark, Mike Castor, John Lacina, Kathy Damerow, Lynn Weber, June Good, and Maurita Kelly are all local high school students who check baskets and keep the locker rooms orderly.

The Earl Stouts of 620 E. Clarendon completed a 3-week motor trip west recently, which included numerous stops for sightseeing along the way. Some of the more intriguing spots were Grand Canyon, Petrified Forest and the Will Rogers Memorial, before arriving at their destination, Keseda, Cal., where they visited with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Stout, for several days. The return trip over a northern route afforded more sightseeing, with stops at the northern rim of the canyon, a treat for the boys, Charles and Earl Jr., playing in the snowbanks of the Rockies, as they crossed the mountains.

July 20 was moving day for the Ronald Krause family from 618 E. Clarendon to their new home in the Mt. Prospect country club section. A farewell supper party was given for them several days before by Mr. and Mrs. Pat Danna in their home at 624 E. Clarendon. Attending the affair were their immediate neighbors, the William Andersons, Don Helblings, Howard Kayes, Ben Lockharts, John Marshalls, Bill Sedlaks and the Earl Stouts.

JUNE CATHERINE, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lynch, 605 E. Olive, was christened July 19 at St. James Catholic church during an afternoon ceremony, Rev. John Lane officiating. Godparents were Mrs. John Summers of E. Oakton st. and Roger Gerard of N. Dunton. A dinner party for the godparents and their families followed the ceremony.

Last Saturday ended a 2-week vacation in a cottage on Big Martha lake near Mercer, Wis. for the Will Hampels of 611 E. Clarendon, with fishing, swimming and just enjoying the great outdoors.

House guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Funk, 1133 N. Beverly lane, are aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sears, and their son, Dale, who drove from their home in Odenton, Md., and are visiting for several days.

Newcomers to the Greens are Al and Marty Kargol, who moved into their new home at 618 E. Clarendon 10 days ago from Kansas City, Mo., where they lived for the past six years. The Kargols have two daughters Ellen, 7, and Jeane, who will be 5 Sunday. Mr. Kargol is distriet sales manager for the Toledo Pipe Threading Machine company in their Chicago office.

SO THEY could meet their neighbors, a get-acquainted potluck supper was given for the Kargols last Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lockhart, 606 E. Clarendon. The "about 40" guests included the William Andersons, Don Helblings, Will Hampels, Bill Sedlaks, John Marshalls, Earl Stouts, Ed Schlacks and the Pat Dannas.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Coward, 1142 N. Dryden, were club members, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Albrights, LaPorte, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McAlpin and Mrs. Rose Krenkel of Chicago.

Patricia Danna, 624 E. Clarendon, celebrated her eighth birthday July 22 with a trip to Kiddieland, where she and her guests had lunch, individual birthday cupcakes topped with a candle and rides. Attending the outing were Lynn and Ronni Krause, Janet Saflarski, Ellen and Jeane Kargol, Spring Sedlak, her brothers, Joseph and Steve, and sister, Lorraine.

Another birthday celebrant this past week was 12-year-old Susan Dettloff, 1160 N. Hickory, whose guests, Joan Gran, Martha Bruest, Sally Bell, Susan Baugous, Melody Uselding, Kathy Shannon and cousin, Diane Dettloff of Lincolnwood joined her last Saturday evening for supper and the movies and then back home for cake and ice cream.

THE CARL Andersons of 634 E. Clarendon returned last week from a 5-day visit with great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Williams, of Watertown, N.Y. While in the vicinity, they toured the Niagara Falls area.

A dinner invitation last Saturday evening extended by John and Shirley Heyer to Dick and Dorothy Braun of 700 E. Clarendon turned out to be a surprise birthday party for Mrs. Braun and was held at the Glenview Officers club. Making up the rest of the party were the Ronald Leuhrs, John Walshes, Paul Hembds, Junius Zolps and the Ray Thorsens. Unable to attend were the Don McNamaras and the Charles Eichelkrauts.

A farewell supper party for Major and Mrs. Roy King, 1176 N. Beverly, was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Baker, N. Phelps, last Sunday evening. Other bridge club members attending were the John Cowards, Gordon Baers, Henry Korffs and the Don Schreiners. The Kings are moving to Montgomery, Ala., sometime in August where the Major will attend command and staff school.

The Bob Lippens family of 707 E. Clarendon spent last weekend visiting with vacationing grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Zimmerman, at a resort on Lake Tomahawk in Wisconsin.

MR. AND MRS. William Foote, 687 E. Clarendon, announce the birth of a daughter, Hillary, July 26 in Evanston hospital, weighing 7 pounds. Older children are William Jr., 4½ and Allison, 3.

The Ben Zaborowskis of 1209 N. Hickory returned last weekend after a week's stay at a resort near Fontana, Wis., in the Lake Geneva area.

Four-year-old Douglas Harrison of 1129 N. Beverly lane celebrated his birthday last Sunday with an outdoor supper party. Guests were Marilyn, Peter, Joe, Joan, Gloria, Janet and Joyce Buchmiller, cousins from Palatine, sisters, Sheryl and Mary Lou, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dahm.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson, 1158 N. Dryden ave., entertained 15 relatives at a barbecue supper party given for Mrs. John Woodruff of Denver, sister of Mr. Thompson. Another party, bridge and midnight supper on Saturday evening was attended by neighbors and friends and given for Mrs. Woodruff. (A

PAUSING TO REFRESH is Little Bo Peep, son of Donna, a mother who took time off from giving rides to youngsters to feed her own. Reining in "Bo" is Mrs. H. J. Hartzell, who's making sure the pony colt doesn't make a pig of himself. Scene took place at the Wheeling Township Democratic Annual picnic Saturday at Hutter's picnic grove on S. Milwaukee ave.

Eastwood Events

Just two weeks ago the Donald Narquis family of 703 E. Euclid ave. returned from Cleveland, but last week they decided to spend another week there. Along with their children, Cliffie and Kathie, they visited Mrs. Narquis' sister's family, Mr. and Mrs. Milton R. Young. Much of their time was spent on Lake Erie initiating the Young's new boat.

Zeramis resort at Round Lake was the vacation spot of Mr. and Mrs. Webb Hartmann and Joanne of 603 N. Beverley ave. They spent a wonderful five days there golfing, swimming and enjoying the food.

On Thursday evening, August 6, Mrs. Sam Cullison will be hostess at a meeting in her home at 511 N. Hickory ave. to line up charter members for an AAUW chapter from this area. In order to establish a chapter, 15 charter members are needed, so any graduate of a qualified university or college is invited to attend the meeting. Mrs. Cullison is acting as temporary membership chairman.

HOUSEGUEST at the Cullison home is son John's friend, John Mullach from Edwardsville, Ill. He arrived today, Thursday, and will visit until Saturday, Aug. 8, at which time John will accompany him to Edwardsville to spend several weeks. Edwardsville was the former home of the Cullison family, so John will enjoy renewing his many acquaintances there.

From July 3 through the 18th, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Pownall, 722 E. Euclid ave., spent a leisurely vacation in the East. They visited Valley Forge, New York city, Connecticut and Philadelphia. On the way home they stopped in Youngstown, Ohio, to pick up Mrs. Pownall's mother, Mrs. F. K. Wilton, and brought her to Arlington Heights where she is spending two weeks. Mrs. Wilton lived on N. State rd. from 1924 until two years ago, so she has had a wonderful time visiting her old friends in town.

On Sunday, Mrs. Thomas Loftus of N. Dryden ave., entertained 21 guests in honor of her cousin, Mrs. Rose McMillan from Fort Worth, Texas. Among the guests, most of whom were cousins of Mrs. McMillan, were Mrs. Loftus, brother, Mr. Majewski of Barrington, and the James Rogers family of 501 N. Lincoln ln.

MISS NATALIE Glover of 713 N. Hickory ave., who graduated magna cum laude from Beloit college this spring, has accepted a position as secretary to the head of pediatrics at a Birmingham, Ala. hospital.

Visiting at the John Haslam home, 406 N. Beverley ln., is Mrs. Haslam's sister's family, Attorney and Mrs. E. V. Leach Jr. and children, Karen and Jeffrey, from Portsmouth, Ohio. Much of the time will be spent showing the children the sights of Chicago such as the Museum of Science and Industry, the Field museum and the Aquarium.

From Monday to Friday of this week houseguests of the William Steuber family, 414 N. Beverley ave., are Mrs. Stueber's sister, Mrs. Lyman Olson and children, Jill, Gail and Bonnie, and her mother, Mrs. Clara Peterson, all of Minneapolis.

Over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. Stueber and Curt and Karen visited the William L. Steubers in Horicon, Wis.

Ridge Park—Sherwood

Judy Durgom, daughter of the John Durgoms, 1007 Oakton, had lunch at Carsons last week with Susie Lips, Judy Erwin and Kitty Crockett before going to see "Music Man," which the girls enjoyed thoroughly.

A week ago the Charles Vetters oldest son, Bob, became engaged to Karen Corey of Chicago. Both Bob and Karen work at General Mills.

The George Lurtzes, 909 N. Patton, are back from a 2-week vacation in Three Lakes, Wis. Staying at a cabin right on the lake, they entertained several Arlington Heights friends while there. The George Krilcics were with them more than a week, and the Richard Ekstrand family also spent a day with them. Dorothy and Eugene Friker dropped in on them for an evening too.

Marge celebrated her 14th birthday up there and as part of the celebration she and a friend went into Eagle River to see 'South Pacific." There was plenty of boating, swimming and water skiing available and they took advantage of them every chance they could.

THE WELCOME MAT is out to the Curtis Briscoe family, who moved into a new home at 930 N. Patton. They, who have three children, Bonnie, Karen and Blair, aren't strangers to the town, having moved to Patton ave. from N. Chestnut.

The Bill H. Grohs, 912 N. Chicago, spent nine days of their vacation on a farm near Allegan, Mich. The children especially liked the rides on the tractor and playing in the hayloft. Billy made quite an impression on everyone with his skill in shooting with the bow and arrow used for deer hunting. There was a lake close by for swimming and plenty of outdoor barbecues for swimmers' appetites, too.

Before going to Michigan, they made a trip to the Wisconsin Dells, where they enjoyed the Indian ceremonies. Mrs. Groh said that a 2-year-old Indian boy stole the show with his dancing. They also stopped off at Baraboo, where Barnum and Bailey have summer quarters. The children had the rae experience of riding on an elephant and their parents have movies to prove it. They found the circus museum there especially interesting, with the original caliope used by Barnum and Bailey and many of the props used in the old days.

It's another boy for the Wilbert Kedrows, 906 N. Kaspar. Richard Paul was born July 15 in Sherman hospital, Elgin, and weighed 6 pounds 6½ ounces. He has a brother, Jimmy. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Hans Rieken of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. William Kedrow of Des Plaines.

THE THOMAS C. Adams, 1016 N. Fernandez, have been having fun these days and it began with them being guests of the North Western Railroad for dinner at the Traffic club in the Palmer House. Afterward they went through the fair on Navy Pier to spend the evening aboard the Dutch ship Princess Irene docked next to the pier.

The following week they went to the Edgewater Beach Playhouse to see Hans Conreid in "Tall Story." They give glowing reports of the play and say the cast was excellent.

When Alice Flanigan, 1504 Brown st., went to Kansas City house hunting recently, her children stayed on a farm in Palatine and had such a good time they'd like to try it again. Much as their friends and neighbors will dread seeing them move to Libertyville, Mo., August 8, they will be happy that the family will be reunited again.

Thursday Jeff Platt, son of the Dick Platts, 806 N. Kennicott, celebrated his 11th birthday by inviting several friends to lunch at his house. They played games indoors until the weather cleared up, then moved outdoors.

The Stafford J. Machases, 1019 N. Salem, spent three days of their vacation at Dewey lake near Dowagiac, Mich. The balance of their vacation was spent with her mother.

It is fun for the Douglas R. Jenkins, 808 N. Patton, to be showing his sister, Miss Eulene Jenkins, the sights of Chicago. Miss Jenkins, is from Windsor, Ontario, Canada, is spending two weeks with the Jenkins.

Sympathy is extended to the Al Kellar family, 1016 N. Kennicott, in the death of his mother, in Chicago, last week. (A

Gas Pipeline To Airport Authorized

The Illinois Commerce commission last week authorizd the Badger Pipeline company, of Bartlesville, Okla., to construct additional eight and six-inch pipe lines from its plant in Des Plaines to O'Hare International Airport in order to supply the needed gasoline to the expanded airport at a minimum risk to traffic in the area.

The two lines will have a maximum capacity of 50,000 barrels of petroleum products daily, and be 2.75 miles in length, paralleling previous pipelines authorized. The route follows the north side of Oakton st. west to the toll highway, then southeasterly parallel with the toll rd. for 1300 feet, south 1200 feet, east under Elmhurst rd. for 1300 feet, south 2600 feet under Touhy ave., continuing south another 2600 feet crossing under the Chicago and North Western tracks, near its end.

The authority is subject to getting final permission from owner of the land and public bodies.

Cities Must Now Print Zone Maps

Gov. Stratton has signed House Bill 880 requiring all municipalities with zoning laws to publish official zoning maps by March 31 every year.

Introduced by Reps. George Dalezal of Berwyn and Elmer Conti of Elmwood Park, the new law permits any citizen to sue to compel city officials to obey it on threat of contempt of court.

Each copy will cost $5 to help defray the expense to the municipalities. This was a compromise between $2 provided in the original bill and $25 suggested by opponents, Dolezal said.

DOLLAR DAYS IN ARLINGTON

Assessment Lists In Pamphlet Banned

Gov. Stratton last week signed House Bill 1036 by Rep. William G. Clark (Dem., Chicago), repealing the authority of the Cook County assessor to publish personal property assessment lists in pamphlet form.

The new law authorizes the publication to be made in a newspaper of general circulation.

Also signed was House Bill 1059 by Rep. Carroll of northwest Cook county, redefining newspapers authorized to publish legal notices. They must be printed by a conventional press, have 130 square inches of printed matter per page, have 25 per cent or 1,000 column inches of news content, and be published at least once a week for a year except for suspension through act of God, labor dispute, or war.

A companion bill, 1060, also signed, requires at least four printed pages.

ALSO SIGNED was House Bill 487 by Rep. Carroll amending the Revenue act to require publication of personal property delinquent tax lists in "one or more newspapers published in the county."

House Bill 320, by Rep. Burhans, amends the School Code to permit the posting of notices of elections, if no newspaper is published in the district or if there is no newspaper which has general circulation during the prescribed publication period.

House Bill 530, by Rep. Lelivelt, in providing for listing of real estate by county clerks for assessment by street code numbers, eliminates the requirement that changes in assessment made by the Cook County Board of Appeals be published.

Junior College Law Signed by Stratton

New state laws for the operation and financing of junior colleges, summer classes, and special schools for gifted children, were signed last week by Gov. Stratton.

Two laws permitting junior college operation both require a voter referendum. House Bill 1236 by Rep. Bottino permits organization of special junior college school districts with tax rates which may also be raised from .5 per cent to .75 per cent for education, and from .1 per cent to .175 per cent for building, through referendum.

THE OTHER junior college law, House Bill 893 by Rep. Clabaugh, chairman of the Schools Commission, provides that any high school district with a population below 500,000 may establish a junior college if the voters approve, as well as non-high school districts or those maintaining grades 9 to 12. The law permits a qualified pupil from another district to enroll under certain conditions.

House Bill 140 by Rep. Joseph Lelivelt of the west Cook county suburbs, authorizes summer classes during July and August through a tax of .15 per cent, if approved by a referendum, but applies only to counties of less than 500,000 population which excludes Cook county.

HOUSE BILL 57 by Rep. Reum permits special educational facilities for gifted children and provision of home and hospital instruction for physically-handicapped children. Cost of teachers' salaries is half reimbursed by the state, up to $600 per child or $3,000 per teacher, whichever is less, annually.

House Bill 58 by Rep. Reum appropriates $150,000 to reimburse school board for a study project for gifted children.

Award Contracts For Expressway

Two contracts in connection with the Northwest Expressway were awarded by the state highway department last week to the Keno Construction company, Inc., of Highland Park.

One contract for $146,553 was for a pedestrian underpass at Campbell ave. and a water main gallery at the intersection of the Expressway with Wellington ave.

The other was for $124,742 for relocation of the North ave. team yard of the Chicago and North Western railroad at the intersection of Elston and Blackhawk.

SCIENCE AND RELIGION NOT ENEMIES
Religion owes to science new methods of studying its own data and therefore religion today is more reasonable and helpful. Science owes to religion the institutions in which it has come to maturity, church founded universities such as Harvard, Yale and Princeton. And to religion it owes its goals for helping people.

Mental Health Crisis Demands Swift Action

Mental illness is expensive not only in the emotional tribute it extracts from both sufferer and family; but just in terms of "cash register" economics it is ringing up a bill of extravagant proportions.

Estimated total cost of mental illness: $3 billion a year.

Yet for what has been described as the nation's number one health problem (there are now more hospital patients with mental illness than the sufferers of heart disease, cancer, tuberculosis and all other physical diseases combined), the amount spent on research in 1959 will amount to a little more than one per cent of this total cost.

In 1959, public and private funds will amount to about $40,000,000 for research in all aspects of mental illness. Of this sum, $27,000,000 has been voted by Congress to the National Institute of Mental Health for research grants, fellowships, and drug research.

For purposes of comparison, consider the recent Congressional appropriation of $157,098,281 for agricultural research.

Yet there is no other chronic illness in which more hope can be entertained for the future. Schizophrenia and involutional melancholia (or psychosis), thought almost hopeless 30 years ago, today are showing about 60 per cent recovery rates in cases treated.

The key word here is "treated." Illinois mental hospitals are 31.8 per cent overcrowded; this means that little more than custodial care can be offered.

A brochure prepared by the National Association for Mental Health says that the cornerstones for an assault on the nation's number one crippler are: research, training, treatment. Add to this public awareness.

The public should be aware that:

—on any day of the year there are as many patients under treatment in mental hospitals as in all other hospitals combined;

—about 500,000 persons will be admitted during the year for psychiatric treatment to a mental hospital or to the psychiatric service of a general hospital; at least 100,000 will be readmissions;

—the average U. S. ration is one psychiatrist for every 19,000 persons; —an estimated 6,000 children and young people under 20 are under treatment in our public mental hospitals each day of the year;

—the maintenance cost of each patient in public mental hospitals is $3.65 a day or $1,332.75 per year compared to $26.02 spent on a patient in general hospitals or $10.31 spent in VA hospitals.

The public should also note that there is only one suburban mental health clinic available (in LaGrange).

People should feel a tinge of compassion when realizing that there are no facilities in Illinois state hospitals for children.

They should see the need for an organization like the finacially-floundering Northwest Family Service whose waiting list is near 40 ("I suppose we won't wake up to the fact until someone shoots himself," said one disgruntled family service director).

The public, tooling down new tollways and boarding efficient new mass transit systems, should witness the court commitment process (described as "brutal") or know that patients committed lose their civil rights (a voluntary patient, however, can petition for discharge).

People should talk with members of the psychiatric staff of Cook county family court, where salaries are said to be "notoriously low," and where the phrase "follow-up" is foreign in practice.

But perhaps the most convincing argument to be advanced is the fact that one's contribution to the mental health fund is tax deductable. (FP

Community Theatre Groups Flourish

Suburban Groups Slate 10 Shows

(This is the fourth and final article in a series on culture in the northwest suburbs. The series has explored suburban tastes in music, art, and books and the fine old art of conversation. This article will discuss suburban interest in theater in the light of the oft-heard charge that "suburbs are culture vacuums.")

by TED SMART

Ten theatrical productions will be presented northwest suburban residents during the coming season, all staged by four amateur groups in three towns—Arlington Heights, Palatine, and Hoffman Estates.

For the theater-going suburbanite, there is variety to suit every appetite from farce through the classics to avant garde one-act thinkers. About the only theatrical area left untried by these slick suburban amateurs is the centuries-mellowed morality plays—and that may not be long in coming, judging from the amount of experimentation among the groups.

First production of the summer season is John Van Druten's "I Am a Camera," staged by a 45-member group of youngsters of high school and college age. The group, founded four years ago and known as Summer Stage, presents one show each summer.

"CAMERA" WILL open next week at the Miner school auditorium, Arlington Heights, with a benefit performance August 6. The following two evening performances will be August 7 and 8.

Summer Stage was started by a Mt. Prospect high school sophomore, Penny Pearne, who wanted to get into summer stock, but "found the going rough," said John Nimmer, a past vice president of Summer Stage and a student at Goodman Theater, Chicago. He explained the beginnings:

"So she called all the kids from drama class and got the ball rolling. We're limited to accepting young actors up to 21 years, and draw most of our members from Arlington High school, where we hold our plays."

Young Nimmer said that the response "has been most favorable, especially last year. We've had parents and neighbors who come to watch the kids act, but gradually we're beginning to attract more outside people—people not connected with cast members."

According to Nimmer, "It's been a struggle, operating mostly on ticket sales and ads from our programs. This year may make us or break us," he said.

FAR AND AWAY the most experienced group is Palatine Players, a 50-member group now in their 12th year. A statement in their by-laws may well serve to explain the philosophy of all four theater companies: "...stage productions for the enjoyment of members and for the entertainment of the general public." All groups are operated on a not-for-profit basis.

Explains Helen Bodelson, a past president, director, and excellent actress in her own right:

"We are now scheduling three productions each year, plus a Christmas play for the kids. All our shows are held at Cutting hall in Palatine Township High school.

"Our first production, back in 1947, was "Arsenic and Old Lace," and we're doing a repeat of this standard in 1960. Our first production this year will be 'Gigi' sometime in November, followed by 'Stalag 17' with an all-male cast.

Palatine Players is perhaps the most financially successful of the groups.

"We're a non-profit organization—by design," she adds quickly, with a simle. "Our proceeds go to community charities, churches, and for civic improvements," she said.

Like all four theaters, Players is made up of people from all parts of the community and from all walks—professional men, housewives, students, salesmen, and trades people.

WHAT IS THE future of amateur theatrical productions in suburban America?

"I think the public is becoming more enthused." Mrs. Bodelson answers. "This is reflected in increased ticket sales and actual polls we've taken. We get reports such as, 'I wouldn't miss a performance', and, 'I enjoy your shows more than I do going to see a show in the Loop'." Many newcomers, she said, comment, "I had no idea you did work like that. I'll never miss another one.' "

The Players are strictly an amateur group, the veteran actress said, although "at one benefit performance in 1956 Ronald Reagan was our guest star."

The newest theater group is the Hoffman Theater Guild, in existence since July, 1958.

Already with two productions under their collective belt, "Tender Trap" (last December) and an April showing of "Harvey," guild members are planning three more for the coming season.

Response has been "good," said Virginia Netter, the guild's public relations chairman. "Many people at the first show commented at the professional quality of the production, and returned with their friends in April," she went on.

GUILD MEMBERS plan to stick with comedy shows "to hold attendance and keep building. It seems comedy is what people want most," she explains.

"Eventually, we may work up to one serious play a year. In fact, we're departing from our plans slightly with our second production of the season next December—'The Emperor's Clothes,' " Mrs. Netter said.

The young housewife believes the future of suburban amateur dramatics is "terrific"—at least, she says, "with our group." Her formula for success: "Keep expenses down."

A not-for-profit group can go indefinitely, Mrs. Netter said, and what little money is made can go into acquiring properties and costumes.

NOW IN THEIR 10th year is Village Theater, Arlington Heights' gift to the amateur stage. The largest of the four drama groups, Village Theater lists among its members nearly 100 amateur actors, actresses, and production [illegible]

Scheduled for the 1959-60 season are performances of "Howie," "Man in the Gray Suit," and "Picnic." The group will also hold their annual children's show in December—this year with "Sleeping Beauty."

Explains Kay Hawley, the group's president:

"We're organized as a non-profit organization, and whatever is made from our productions is plowed right back into equipment. That's the way we were set up."

Village theater sticks to a schedule of three productions a year plus the childrens' show, and, up to now, has used only members from the area in the production of their plays. This year, however, there will be a departure from this. Says Mrs. Hawley:

"With the October production, Village theater will use the services of a professional director. We will do this with the other two shows, also. The directors have been recommended by Actors Equity and ANTA, and we believe they will bring a more professional air to our performances."

MRS. HAWLEY says she believes there is an "excellent future" for local theater groups "if you put on a good show consistently."

She said the group was "extremely happy" with past turnout, and added: "We started a patron program two years ago, and last year sold 650 season passes. This year we have hopes for 800, taking the burden of ticket sales off our shoulders and leaving all our efforts for the production itself."

While a lack of patronage has traditionally hamstrung amateur theater, the Village Theater president reports attendance has grown to proportions that are beginning to present a problem.

"We have no room to expand. The shows are already playing three nights to capacity or near-capacity audiences at either Arlington or Prospect High schools. We've had to ask patrons a month in advance which nights they'd like to attend, and how many guest tickets they want. We have to seat them on a first-come first-served basis."

The consequences?

"We're looking for a permanent theater—perhaps we could go into one on a cooperative basis with the other theater groups in our area. We think, with the size to which these communities have grown, that a community auditorium or theater is not far off."

Mean Bullies

I live on N. Belmont ave., across from the park. Last evening I was sitting on the front porch looking across the park. I saw two boys about 14 years old standing on the sidewalk near the field house. They had on light trousers and white shirts.

Then I saw four boys about 19 years old in a group come across from Wing st. and walk across the park toward the young boys. As soon as they reached the young boys, one of the big boys grabbed the little one and gave him a terrible beating. When he was through, another big boy grabbed him and was beating him something terrible.

I couldn't stand it any longer so I went over to the park and stopped the fight. The big 6-footer said, "Well, we were taking him one at a time!" How generous!!

The little boy's shirt was torn to ribbons and the buttons were torn off with a patch of cloth still on. His face and lips were so swollen he could hardly talk.

If I hadn't gone over, two more would have beaten him and he may have needed hospitalization. What can be done to stop these bullies from forming gangs and beating up smaller boys. What kind of parents do they have. Don't their parents teach them the golden rule, to do unto others as they would like others to do unto them? Haven't they learned the Ten Commandments? Don't they know that as they sow, so will they reap?

I have two young grandsons who work all summer and save their money to pay their way to college. They don't roam the streets and gang up on smaller children.

I have lived in Heights 39 years and have never seen such mean bullies before.

Sure Miss Paper

Wonder if I would be asking too much if you would mail us your paper each week, as Mr. Rugen was a Des Plaines rural mailman and delivered your paper for over 30 years.

Many times names were missing, but he knew to whom they belonged and he always saw they got the paper.

He's reitred and he and I sure miss your paper, also his dad and my dad, William Tatge, were some of the very first cash subscribers.

Mrs. George Pugen

P. S. I mean without charge.

Permit a Vote

The homeowners of the Itasca Heights area are extremely disturbed over the lack of proper restrictions and the reduction of requirements in the proposed zoning ordinance. It is our opinion that the proponents of the ordinance have presented the people of Itasca with a set of laws based on personal prejudices and not on facts. The ordinance will not protect the character, welfare or tax base of our village, nor will it insure the people of "Campus Type Industry" as they have been led to believe.

This ordinance has been presented to our village Board of Trustees for their study and as yet has not been passed. We feel sure the Board will act in the best interest of the people they represent and in keeping with their will.

It has been suggested by many homeowners in Itasca, in order to help our Village Board carry out the wishes of the people, that the proposed zoning ordinance should be voted on by the people. This would provide the Trustees with the information they need to carry out the will of the people and to act in the best interest of all concerned. It is for this reason the people in the Itasca Heights area and many other homeowners in our village request the village board of trustees to permit the people to vote on the proposed zoning ordinance.

Governor Approves New Speed Zone for Schools

A new law allowing a special low speed limit of 20 miles an hour next to schools has been signed by Gov. Stratton.

This change in the 1957 traffic code, which established a minimum speed limit of 30 miles an hour, was demanded by many Parent Teacher Association units and civic organizations.

The bill signed by the governor last week establishes a special speed limit of 20 miles an hour for motor vehicles pasing schools, when the streets are properly posted, and when traveling on a thorough fare which children use in passing to and from school.

Another bill signed into law permits the Cook County Board to levy a county highway tax for maintenance of highway construction equipment and the construction of offices.

THE GOVERNOR vetoed a bill which would have created a commission to study diseases of elm and oak trees and methods of combating such diseases. In his veto message, Stratton said the University of Illinois and other organizations already are studying the aspects of the diseases with a view to recommending methods for their control and elimination. Information compiled by these agencies is readily available, he said.

In another veto action, Stratton said there was no need for a bill which would permit cities to use motor fuel tax funds to replace trees lost in street widening. The policies and specifications of the state public works department governing these funds by municipalities permit the use of gas tax funds for this purpose where it is incident to construction, he said.

Other bills vetoed by Stratton would have:

1. Provided that a verdict in civil action could be rendered by vote of as few as 8 of the 12 jurors if all parties involved in the litigation agreed before the trial to be bound by such a verdict. In a veto message, Stratton said:

"The requirement of a unanimous verdict has been an integral part of a litigant right to a jury trial" and "failure to agree to a verdict rendered by less than all the jurors would prejudice the rights of a litigant."

2. Established a county reconsisting of the county clerk, and the state's attorney, clerk, and the state's attornes. The committee would have had the power to determine which records to destroy and which to preserve, subject to state approval. The state agency involved has no appropriation and "consequently, it would not be feasible for it to carry out the lengthy duties assigned by this bill," Stratton said. (FP

Flood Control Law Is Approved

A state flood control plan with a $150,000 appropriation and nine bills adding flood control to the legal powers of other local governments, were signed into law last week by Gov. Stratton.

The state plan was provided in Senate Bill 156, introduced by Sen. Arthur Sprague, providing for the appropriation to the state Department of public Works and Builders for establishment of a statewide plan of drainage and flood control "for all watershed areas."

The nine other flood bills are amendments to the existing laws setting forth the powers of various local governments introduced by Rep. Randolph, as follows:

HOUSE BILL 1301, adds floodwater drainage as a permissible item of planning for cities and villages; 1304, adds regulation of structures that might contribute to flood hazards; 1306, adds general building regulations; and 1308, permits acceptance of gifts of public grounds and their regulation and maintenance.

H. B. 1302, creates regional planning commissions with power including floodwater drainage.

H.B. 1303, adds to county regulatory powers flood water runoff channels and basins; 1306, adds as a purpose of county zoning the lessening of flood hazards, including building lines along flood water channels and heights of buildings and surrounding space; 1307 adds to county building regulation hazards "electrocution, flooding, asphyxiation"; and 1309, permits county boards to accept gifts of public grounds including flood plains and channels, and to maintain and regulate their use. # Maximum Tax For Schools Is Increased

An important increase in maximum tax limitation for school building in Illinois was signed into law last week by Gov. Stratton.

Introduced as House Bill 147 by Rep. Eberspacher, the property tax that may be levied for building purposes for 1960, and from 25 to 30 per cent the tax for 1961, and later years.

For educational purposes, the law provides a tax levy for 1960 at a rate of not over 1.38 per cent, and for 1961 and later of not over 1.425 per cent.

ANOTHER LAW signed, House Bill 703, by Rep. Coulson, repeals the provision that the school building tax rate be reduced by the rate for bounds outstanding on July 1, 1953.

Cook county schools gained the right, through Sen. Bill 103 by Sen. O'Brien, to use the proceeds of sale of common school lands or interest from such proceeds, as of July 17, when the act became effective, for building or repairing schools.

In cook county, the salary of the county superintendent of schools was raised by a maximum of $20,000, compared to $9,000 in counties below 9,000 population, and the salaries of two assistant superintendents authorized in Cook county was raised to 75 per cent of the superintendent's salary for one and 60 per cent for the other.

Four New Taxes Are Authorized in Bills

At least four new taxes were authorized in Illinois among over 1,200 bills signed by Gov. Stratton after passage by the legislature just added.

Removal of dead or diseased trees was made a legal purpose of taxation in House Bill 179 by Rep. Willett, revising the Cities and Village act. However, this tax would have to be approved at a voter referendum.

The operation as well as the construction and maintenance of traffic control lights or permanently mounted school crossing signals was placed on the list for which can be used money alloted to cities under the Motor Fuel Tax law, in Sen. Bill 513 by Sen. Crisenberry.

CONTRACTS with and maintenance of garbage disposal plants, and a tax levy for disposal of garbarge, were authorized by House Bill 1009 by Rep. Conti, in another revision of the Cities and Villages act. The old law related only to the collection and disposal of garbage. A companion bill, by the same author, permits the county to contract with a city or another county with regard to the disposal of garbage.

Senate Bill 281, by Sen. Ziegler, permits county boards to levy a tax not over .03 per cent of the assessed value of the county for assistant to indigent war veterans and their families, providing at least 10 per cent of the voters petition the board. A referendum is also necessary on this, to be submitted at the next general election after thirty days. (FP

THESE COURSES are provided both for beginners and accomplished swimmers, and the Red Cross instruction is given without charge by volunteer safety instructors.

Thornton is the parks and recreation director of the Arlington Heights park district. He is a graduate of Michigan State university and served in the U. S. Navy from 1943 to 1945.

GEORGE HARRIS

Hey, you guys, I was just thinking how all we fellows take care of our cars — have the oil changed every so often, new plugs, new points. Man, we sure do watch over our cars, BUT how do we take care of ourselves?

No kiddin' fellows, we have a great big responsibility to our wives and children, but we just won't take the time to see our family doctor. Actually, it just makes good sense to see your family doctor at least once a year and have him give you a good check up. So much pain and suffering could be avoided if only the doctor could have treated you sooner. That is a familiar saying to be sure. Why not make a pledge to your family that you will take better care of yourself, huh?

Last, but not least, fellows, you can always get a new car, but that "old ticker" is the only one you have, so be sure and take good care of it. Sure, we make our living selling prescriptions, but we'd rather sell you preventatives than we would a cure. Again, makes good sense, doesn't it?

He Makes Living Seeing Others Have Fun

Supervises Huge Heights Rec Program

Joel Carter likes to see other people having fun. In fact, he makes his livelihood supervising one of the biggest "fun" programs in metropolitan Chicago.

The young superintendent of recreation for Arlington Heights' park district spends the day going from playground to playground, keeping the summer program at full speed.

HE IS A combination of boss, instructor, publicity agent, equipment manager, and complaint department.

Carter must choose, train, and supervise a staff of about 65 persons, including lifeguards, swimming instructors, health nurses, playground attendants, secretaries, coaches, and others.

The superintendent selects and organizes the recreation activities, and recommends to the park commissioners the amounts to be budgeted for each item.

CARTER SERVES as his own publicist, writing a weekly column, "Just For Fun," in Paddock Publications, arranging for other news stories, speaking to PTA, service clubs, and other groups, and preparing a big summer brochure which describes the program.

Carter must be constantly available to hear complaints, suggestions and special requests and then take appropriate action to insure that the "parks always belong to the public."

While his job is mostly supervisory in nature during the summer, Carter must direct activities which no one else can handle, such as the water safety instructors' course. In the winter he gets a full workout, coaching most classes and teams sponsored by the park board.

HE WILL HANDLE basketball, volleyball, tennis, physical conditioning, badminton, and tumbling, and other sports. He also works with community groups such as the Junior Football association, which offers an additional program.

Hopping back and forth between eight village parks, Carter, 26, and a bachelor, watches some 3500 children at play. He admits the noise gets on his nerves from time to time, and indicates that a big set of ear-drums is an asset in his job.

The supervisor holds a B.S. degree in physical education from Florida State university, and a M.S. degree from the University of Tennessee. He joined the Arlington Heights staff in February, after serving three and a half years in the navy.

SID BROWN (left) and Joel Carter pump up a volley ball, one piece of the thousands of dollars of equipment which the superintendent must supervise.

PHONE CALLS take up part of Carter's time. He must explain why Johnny got home late from his swimming class, promise to look for Susie's lost sun-glasses, and inform Mrs. Jones that the volleyball action has been rained out. Handing him the phone is secretary Mrs. Kay Renfro.

A GAME OF "FISH" captures the attention of some of the 3,500 youngsters enrolled in park activities. Carter looks at play-leader Judy Lips' hand as Jerry Sell, Art Miller, and Patty Wollerman participate.

ALSO IN CHARGE of publicity, the ex-sailor posts daily park activities on one of the new "play poles" located in the village. Carter must also write a weekly newspaper column, "Just For Fun."

PLAYGROUND SUPERVISION is an important item in the park board program. Carter discusses activities at Virginia Terrace park with man-in-charge Lodi Reinke.

WATER BALLET practice draws the attention of superintendent Carter, who listens as instructor Jane Schaefer barks out directions. Pools are kept busy practically 12 hours a day, and Carter must see that they are properly cared for and safeguarded against accidents.

TIME OUT FOR LUNCH! Doris Higby offers the busy superintendent a snack from the kitchen at Pioneer Park.

CHECKING IN with librarian Judy Grose, Carter hears the activities planned for the young readers at the Pioneer Park library.

WE STICK TO OUR LASTS

There was a time when pharmacists often were called "Doc." Doubtless it was a complimentary gesture.

Even in this late day, the pharmacist frequently is asked to diagnose and prescribe by his customers.

But like the shoemaker, we pharmacists stick to our own lasts. We neither diagnose nor prescribe. These health team functions fall within the special province of physicians both by law and professional training.

As a member of the health team, we are an intermediary, serving both the doctor and the patient. Our job is to compound your prescriptions carefully and promptly.

Authorize Trade of Preserve

Gov. Stratton has signed a bill authorizing the forest preserve district to trade a 22-acre parcel on Milwaukee ave. south of West Lake ave. in Northfield township for a long, narrow strip of 30 acres located nearby on Central rd., the Maine township line.

"The exchange of land is the logical thing to do," says Charles G. Sauers, general superintendent of the district.

The piece the district will acquire was split from a larger tract owned by Temple Manufacturing company by construction of the tri-state tollroad. When the district moved to buy the 30-acres, the company in negotiations suggested the trade, Sauers said.

The 30-acres lie on the north side of Central road and at the imaginary extension northward of East River rd. The site is bordered on the west by forest preserve land.

Keefer's Pharmacy — AUGUST, 1959 — Prescription News

A Message From J. T. Keefer, "Your Pharmacist"

AN OLDER PHARMACIST FRIEND once gave us this good advice which we have never forgotten and always tried to follow.

HE SAID, "ANY MEDICINE OR HEALTH-AID can do much good if properly used and great harm if improperly or excessively taken."

"PHARMACISTS LEARN IN COLLEGE how to compound medicines, protect their potency by proper storage and the possible dangers involved if they are not taken properly."

"PHARMACY'S CODE OF ETHICS directs pharmacists to consider the public's health to be more important than greater profits. It is the dedicated obligation of every pharmacist to caution folks who may be unwisely taking a patent medicine or home remedy."

PLEASE ASK OUR PROFESSIONAL OPINION of any patent medicine, vitamin, or home remedy. We will always give you an honest, informed answer. If necessary, we will explain when it would be wiser for you to consult a physician.

THIS HELPFUL ADVICE IS IMPORTANT. Every medicine or health-aid should only be secured from a pharmacist. We will never knowlingly permit you to gamble with your health.

Gasoline Station Zoning Rejected

The county board has voted against permitting the construction of a gasoline station at the northeast corner of Wilke and Palatine roads in Wheeling township.

The commissioners rejected an application that sought to change the zoning from farming to B-1 business district. The petition was filed by Albert W. Meyer, 109 S. Mitchell, and Herman J. Meyer, 420 N. Wing, both of Arlington Heights.

A GAS STATION already is planned for the intersection, at the southwest corner. A large residential development is under way at the northwest corner and the southeast corner has been subdivided for residential development.

These facts were stressed by the county zoning board of appeals in a report containing a recommendation against rezoning the northeast corner.

The village of Palatine also opposed rezoning. The northwest corner of the intersection is within the village limits and is property adjoining the southwest corner which was recently annexed and set aside for industrial use.

NO OPPOSITION to rezoning was offered by Arlington Heights, Wheeling, Mt. Prospect, and Rolling Meadows.

In the opinion of the zoning board, the area east of Wilke road and north and south of the subject property should be held for residential development as its highest and best use. (AP

Municipalities Now Retain More of Tax

By W. RUSSELL ARRINGTON

By virtue of two amendments approved in the closing days of the last General Assembly, municipalities throughout the state will now retain from city sales taxes collected by them approximately $90,000 a month—more than $1 million a year.

Heretofore the State has charged cities and village 6 per cent of the city sales tax proceeds as reimbursement to the State for its cost in collecting such taxes. Through the efforts primarily of the Illinois Municipal League, the amount to be retained by the State has been reduced from 6 per cent to 4 per cent.

Through inadvertence, however, this 2 per cent savings to municipalities was almost nullified. As part of the ½ cent sales tax increase, the Legislature provided that retailers would be allowed a discount of 2 per cent of the sales taxes they collected to cover their expenses in collecting the money. When it was learned this would offset the savings to the city provided by the first amendment, there was some consternation.

STEPS WERE taken immediately to provide another amendment which permits the retailers to retain only 2 per cent of the state taxes they collect and not 2 per cent of the city sales tax.

Now that Governor Stratton has signed the bills, municipalities will commence receiving 2 per cent of their city sales tax collections for expanding and improving city services.

Based on collections made in the past, this 2 per cent boon will average approximately $90,000 a month for the more than 1,000 municipalities levying the ½ cent city sales tax.

In my own senatorial district, for instance, the City of Evanston is receiving approximately $550,000 a year on its city sales tax. The 2 per cent differential will mean that on an annual basis Evanston will be receiving additional revenue in the approximate amount of $11,000 per year. Corresponding advantages will be provided the other municipalities in my district.

Another Bill adopted at the last session vested counties with the power to levy a ½ cent sales tax in unincorporated areas. Retailers operating in municipalities argued forcefully that they were at a great competitive disadvantage with shopping centers and other stores operating outside municipal limits. By giving counties an authority to impose the additional tax in unincorporated areas, it was hoped this disadvantage could be removed. Since the Governor has now signed this Bill, the County of Cook has exercised its authority to impose the tax. Commencing August 1, therefore, retailers, whether they reside within or without an incorporated area, will be charging the same amount of tax.

THERE SEEMS little question that the validity of the county tax will be challenged in the courts. There is speculation as to the constitutionality of a tax which is imposed by the county but does not operate uniformly throughout the area. If such tax is upheld, additional funds will be provided in the county.

It is hoped this will operate to lessen the tax burden on the local property owner. (ACM

Science Develops Techniques To Help Treat Mentally Ill

A VIEW OF FOREST HOSPITAL with its newly-completed "Country House" addition of 30 beds is shown above. An open house will be held at the new facility Saturday, August 8. It complements the hospital's 60 beds and adds over 6,000-square feet of floor space.

Forest Hospital Example Of 'Total Push' Program

by RICHARD C. HOFFMANN

(Fourth in a Series)

"The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be; and that which is done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun." —Ecclesiastes (660:1:9)

The preacher's lament, which Novelist Herman Melville called "hammered steel of woe," would seem to apply to the phenomenon known as mental illness.

For anthropologists tell us that mental illness has been apparent in all cultures from the most primitive to the complex.

Yet, there are always new techniques developing to treat age-old complaints; a condition formerly described as "possessed by demons" or "moonstruck" has been relegalated to its proper perspective.

For mental illness is now accorded the treatment its name defines. Recognized as an illness, former repulsions it aroused in the public mind are dissipating.

AND NOWHERE is recovery from this illness treated with more dogged, systematic determination with the tools at hand than at the Forest hospital, 555 Wilson lane, Des Plaines.

For this is where the "total push" program holds sway; where intensified psychiatric treatment has reduced the mental patient's average hospital to 18 days.

This is where 30 attending psychiatrists combine their services with a staff of 65 at the 60-bed hospital to achieve this remarkable statistical fact.

And this can be compared to some state institutions in the country where there is only one psychiatrist for 450 patients; their discharge rates also reflect this unhappy fact.

Of course, treatment at Forest hospital is expensive. But as Morris B. Squire, hospital administrator, questions: "Is it cheaper to spend $150 a month for three years at a state hospital or pay out $175 to $200 a week for short-term care?" Obviously, it is not.

But Squire also points out: "A person can be admitted free of charge on recommendation of the consultant psychiatrist."

And Dr. Rudolph G. Novick, medical psychiatric director and chief of staff, says, 'Most of our patients are from the middle-groups."

FOREST hospital is located on three acres of land bordered on the south by a forest preserve and the east by the sluggish Des Plaines river.

The only activity which appears to be sustained above a subdued pitch is work being concluded on the hospital's "Country House" 3-bed addition and solarium.

But treatment is intense; it exhausts the range of therapies, from psycho, chemical, electro, and occupational therapy.

Add to this "milieu" therapy, in which staff attitudes toward the patient's feeling of recovery are stressed, and you begin to see the "push" in its totality.

Forest hospital's total push was inaugurated in February 1957, when it was reorganized from its former conservatism as a private sanitarium.

Now treatment is what Donald J. Tyrell, an Arlington Heights psychologist, has defined as 'global."

A PATIENT entering the hospital is first given a searching physical examination, complete with X-rays and lab tests. Organic complaints, such as a bad heart, are then treated along with psychological ills whether such ailments are thought to be contributing factors to the mental illness suffered or not, Dr. Novick said.

A neurological examination for instance,might turn up a brain tumor which requires surgery to correct.

The second step taken is an interview conducted by the psychiatrist to diagnose the type of patient's mental illness to decide on a course of treatment. Further consultations with family members render a more complete history of the patient.

Under supervision of occupational therapists, patients are encouraged to paint, undertake ceramic and needle work; the nearby forest preserve provides solitude in a comforting awning of shade from elms, spruces and maples; recreational therapy is emphasized in games requiring two or more persons as testified to by the backyard basketball hoop, the ball diamond and volleyball net. Music is continuously piped through the building.

But this retreat and its monastic setting does not represent an escape from reality's harsh light which drove patients to escape into psychotic responses.

RATHER, as Dr. Novick says, patients, who range from youngsters to the aged, are reintroduced to the environment in which they became ill.

"Patients are allowed to visit homes as well as having families visit here," he said. Often this "reestablishment of contacts" is achieved by having patients spend their evenings at home, returning to the hospital for treatment during the day.

But Dr. Novick adds this note of caution: It is not always desirable to have a rapid discharge rate. "You begin to notice that some patients discharged early are coming back too soon."

And he considers: "If there is a long-term prognosis in which it appears that the patient is in for a prolonged stay, it is better to send him to a state hospital. It is easier on the family, which you have to consider as a total unit.

"But the goal of psychiatry is the same: early diagnosis and intensive therapy," Dr. Novick asserted.

Psychiatry then, in mustering all its resources, can return those in a psychotic state to society in a minimum of time, though certainly not of effort.

THE RECENT introduction of tranquilizers - that chemical modification of the human personality, as one writer put it - for a time captured the public imagination as a panacea for mental disorders.

But despite its sometimes dramatic effects in treating formerly considered "hopeless cases," most professional behaviorists now dismiss the tranquilizers as having been smothered in a bear hug of over-optimism.

"We're becoming much more discriminating in seeing where the drugs do good and are beginning to realize their shortcomings," Dr. Novick said.

"Tranquilizers are not a curative," declares an Arlington Heights psychiatrist, Dr. Gerard W. Weber. And he considers insulin shock treatments obsolete. He related that of 30 patients to whom he was administrating iinsulin, 29 relapsed after being discharged and taken off the drug.

Dr. Weber allowed, though, that a few forms of schizophrenia are organic in nature, and notes that senility is often accounted for by organic brain changes.

But that man is biologically determined is now disregarded in most circles; and this would seem to rule out any quick solutions to a problem increasing in the toll it is taking.

AS DR. NOVICK explains: 'Treatment could be much more rational rather than empiric if it was found that mental disorders were grounded in organic causes."

And the psychiatric movement is becoming increasingly sensitive over the terminology it employs. Dr. Monte J. Meldman, another Arlington Heights psychiatrist who is a senior attending psychiatrist at Forest Hospital, blanches over the term "schizophrenia."

He seems to hold with the physiologist who stated: "I do not consider schizophrenia a more specific term than headache."

And to Dr. Novick "cure" is equally an indulgence in the brash generalization. "We prefer the word, 'recovery.' We don't even know what a cure is."

Novick disclosed that Forest hospital patients are equally divided between the suburbs and Chicago, noting that there are no facilities in northwest Chicago for the treatment of mental illness.

He feels that the move to the suburbs does sometimes disturb one's patterns of existence. "It (the suburbs) is a strange and new enviornment. The person doesn't know if he'll be accepted by the old settlers. This fear of the unknown - the new neighbors, shopping centers - prompts anxiety. In the city he knew the position he held; in the suburbs he has to establish it."

Dr. Novick also cited the house mortgage and daily commuting as contributing additional stresses, "And while he was lost in the crowd in the city, he is subject to close scrutiny in the suburbs," the psychiatrist continued.

"The old familiar friends and surroundings - the lighthouses - are gone, and until he establishes new ones, he's at sea," Novick illustrated metaphorically.

THERE ARE covert as well as overt reasons for moving to the suburbs, Novick thinks. "That the suburbs have a better school system is a legitimate statement, but it is not the most important factor for moving."

Unspoken factors are the prestige which such a move supposedly involves and an escape from a Negro population - on the move.

But most observers see no significant contributions by either city or suburb which might point up these two varying modes of existence as intensifying problems of life.

Rather, it is that all-inclusive syndrome which ignores bank accounts and creeds which characterizes mental illness.

And probably applicable also is this observation from Ecclesiastes: "I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill; but time and chance happenth to them all."

But that this all-pervasive malady running the ranks of society can be adequately met has been shown in Forest Hospital's "total push" program. The goal, again, so little realized: early diagnosis, intensive therapy.

(Next week: God and sex.)

THE HOSPITAL'S Forest Trail leads through a forest preserve adjoining Forest hospital grounds, as pointed to here by Morris B. Squire, hospital administrator. Nearby, the Des Plaines river courses past this setting.

OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY at the Forest hospital in Des Plaines includes ceramic work by patients, exhibited here by Mrs. R. P. Maveety of Des Plaines, one of a staff of six occupational and recreational therapists.

DR. RUDOLPH G. NOVICK: "Early diagnosis and intensive therapy."

AN ARCHITECT'S sketch of the "Country House's" 50 by 16-foot solarium shows natural light from sky-domes featured. The solarium connects the 30-bed "Country House" addition with the hospital's 60-bed facility.

Mt. Prospect Man Named Ad Veep

ALLEN WILSON

The 26 year old advertising agency, Merchandising Advertisers, Inc. added a new member to the firm in July when Allen Wilson, 220 Wa-Pella Mt. Prospect, joined its staff as vice president.

President Fred Ohlrich, founder of the agency, states that this addition to the staff is a major step in the firm's general expansion program to provide a broader and more efficient counselling, planning and production service for its clientele. "This expansion", Ohlrich said, "includes a relocation on or about September first when the agency will occupy its new quarters, tripling its present space, now under construction at 410 East Northwest Highway, Mt. Prospect." The agency has occupied offices in the Chicago loop since its beginning a quarter of a century ago during the depression years.

Wilson comes to the agency from the BurgessManning Company where he was general manager of the architectural products division and vice president of the company. He brings to the agency a wide and intensive experience in general sales promotion, advertising and public relations work.

For 12 years, he was a Celotex Corporation, Chicago headquarters, staff member. He joined that companys advertising department in 1940, after several years as a partner of Wilson & Colman, public relations directors in Los Angeles.

Shortly after joining Celotex, he was assigned to the accoustical division where he served as assistant manager in charge of advertising, publicity and general sales promotion for the division. While there he became nationally known for his work in publicizing and applying noise control measures in the architectural and industrial fields. He was one of the organizers of the National Noise Abatement Council, The Greater Chicago Noise Reduction Council, serving both organizations as president and director for several years, playing a leading rile in planning and executing the public relations programs for these organizations.

Wilson's assignments have called for extensive travel throughout the United States and Canada, supplying first hand knowledge of sectional marketing and sales problems. His earlier training years included experience with consumer products in the retail field in addition to that in the national field of advertising and selling.

Tell Higher U. S. Benefit Payments

Many northwest residents who are Social Security beneficiaries are getting increased benefit payments or may be entitled to increased payments because of recomputation provisions according to Julius Berman, Manager of the Social Security office at 4255 Milwaukee ave.

'Persons who had filed for Social Security payments in the past and have since then returned to work may now, in some cases, receive increased benefit payments if their recent employment was for wages higher than those received most of the time before filing," Berman said.

BENEFITS ARE based on average earnings and a benefit can often be increased through refiguring, if the retired person returns to work and earns more on an annual basis plan the usually did before first filing.

"To receive a possible increase in benefits because of additional work, a beneficiary must file for recomputation at his nearest Social Security office, or in any event if a beneficiary wants to know about refiguring his benefits, he should visit, write or telephone his nearest Social Security office for more information," Berman concluded.

Marine Air Group 25 Reunion on Labor Day

Veterans of Marine Air Group-25, the air transport outfit which made history in its airlift of supplies and evacuation of wounded in the Solomons during World War II, will hold two reunions this Labor Day weekend. Both will convene concurrently — one in Washington, D.C. and the other at the Marine Club in San Francisco.

Inquiries may also be sent to R. J. Biggane, 91 Hihland dr., Williamsville, N. Y., secretary-treasurer and editor of the outfit's recently revived overseas newspaper The Tontooter.

Both segments of the reunion are trying hard to get Vice-President Richard Nixon as guest speaker. Nixon, as a naval ground officer in World War II was attached to Southern Cross Air Transport (SCAT), a combined Army-Navy-Marine effort in the Solomons and is well known to many of the flyers. It is expected that groups of ex-MAG-25 vets still in active service will fly to the conclave from Marine bases around the country.

Coast Guard Celebrates 168th Year

The U. S. Coast Guard will celebrate its 168th birthday Aug. 4, and finds itself looking forward to one of its busiest years since its birth in 1790.

Few people realize that the Coast Guard is the nation's oldest seagoing military service, having been in continuous operation since it was established as the United States Revenue Marine on Aug. 4, 1790. During the years between the disbanding of the Navy after the Revolutionary War until its reestablishment, the Coast Guard was our only armed force afloat.

From its small beginning, with only ten vessels, the Coast Guard has varied in size and strength, and, at one time during World War II reached a peak strength of 172,000 officers and men. The Coast Guard has now leveled off to a more or less stablized strength of 30,000 men. Except in case of war or national emergency, it is expected that it will continue to maintain approximately that many men on full time active duty. (WUS

He made a tour of duty in Lebanon and states that his favorite reading is still the hometown paper. He is looking forward to returning to the States by next January. (WUS

Winston Developer Offers School Aid

It took the village of Palatine nearly a century to reach a population of 7,000, yet within the next 10 years that figure will nearly triple, it has been estimated.

But despite the rapid growth of the community—due in part to the 1,900 home development under construction by Winston Park Northwest — adequate acreage has been put aside for schools, parks and playgrounds by the housing firm to relieve overcrowded educational facilities and provide safe, outdoor recreation room.

Sixty-two acres, valued by the developers at $750,000, have been donated to the village of Palatine, its park and school district.

ONE OF THE schools, Winston Park elementary, has opened and construction on the second wing is in progress.

The Village of Palatine originally purchased 14 acres of land for the school site from previous owners. When Winston Park Northwest corporation bought 755 acres surrounding the intended school area the home developers returned $18,000 that Palatine originally spent for the land.

The $18,000 gift enabled an early start on construction of the new school which relieved overcrowding and double shift classes. Some students were being tutored in stores, basements and churches opening date closer.

TO AID completion of the new building Winston Park Northwest donated the services of its workmen to lay sewer and electrical lines. The men worked overtime and weekends at no charge to the village and brought the building's open date closer.

In addition, Winston Park Northwest is making a voluntary contributuion of $200 for every home in the first unit to the Palatine school district.

Another plot of ground has been donated in the northern part of the project to the school district for a supplementary elementary school.

A total of four park sites, plus several acres of fringe territory in the green belt area along Salt Creek have been donated by the builder for parks.

AT PRESENT, the first unit of 559 homes is under construction in Winston Park Northwest at Chicago ave. and Wilke rd. Eight split level and ranch style models, priced from $17,890 to $27,290, are featured.

Four units are planned. The community is designed with all city improvements, including independent storm water and sewage systems, paved streets, curbs and gutters, city garbage and snow removal service and complete underground installation of electrical and public utility cables.

Winston Pleased With Reception

In the 18 months since Winston Park Northwest unveiled its homes to the public and officially became part of Palatine's growing community, public acceptance and progress have been "very gratifying," officials of the construction firm have stated for the record.

Robert Richards, vice president and general manager of Winston Park Northwest, said more than 350 families have purchased homes in the first unit, part of 755 acres bounded by Wilke and Chicago aves.

He noted that public acceptance is a "great civic boost for the area—a recognition that Palatine is keeping pace with growing demands of new suburban responsibilities and we are proud to be a part of this progress."

Richards said, "the plan for our $45,000,000 housing, shopping and industrial development is a pace setter for the northwest suburbs and points out the foresight of the Palatine community for its very gratifying acceptance."

BOTH RICHARDS and David Muss, president of Winston Park Northwest, envisioned this area as the nucleus for community living advancement and look to a "brighter future."

Currently under construction are the last of 559 homes in the first unit. Plans were announced recently and work will be started later this year on the $18,000,000 shopping center with room for parking 6,000 automobiles at Northwest hwy. and Rohlwing rd.

The shopping center will be Chicagoland's largest in total acreage, containing 100 specialty stores and two major department store units. A 25 acre industrial park, separated from the residential district, will also be erected.

The housing development has its own independent storm water and sewage systems.

ALL ELECTRICAL and public utility cables are installed completely underground. Paved streets, curbs and gutters with city garbage and snow removal services will be provided.

"Since the growth of Winston Park Northwest will more than double Palatine's current population, 62 acres have been devoted to construction of parks and two new school sites," said Richards.

Winston Park Northwest turned over $18,000 to Palatine's school district for land on which to build the new elementary school and recently gave another large piece of property to the Park District. The construction firm will have donated an additional $100,000 for expansion of school facilities by completion of the first unit of homes.

Homes within a given area will be composed of several models. This—combined with an exterior color scheme exclusive for each group of residences—will allow units to retain individuality, officials say.

EIGHT HOME styles, split level and ranch models, are priced from $19,890 to $27,290. Minimum home lot sizes are 80x105 feet and free landscaping and seeding are included.

"During the 1960's we will be recognized as having the largest concentration of planned communities in the United States," Muss said.

He cited Chicagoland's advanced transportation schedules, construction of vast superhighway systems linking the suburbs with Chicago's metropolitan area, growth of outlying industrial sections and the huge seaway project as determining factors in the spread of favorable suburban living.

THE MULTI-MILLION dollar Northwest Tollway is just three minutes away from Palatine's border, it was pointed out.

"The future for this community is one of the most promising anywhere," he noted. "With this greath growth, however, comes a new-found responsibility which must be measured past its present capacity.

"The largest factor in suburbia's growth is the great awakening of civic consciousness by community leaders. Palatine — like so many villages — knows that not only will its size increase, but adjacent properties must be maintained to reflect favorably on the community as a whole.

"It is only by smart planning and cooperation between the builder and village officials that the high standards of the community can be met and upheld," Muss stressed.

Future plans within the Winston Park Northwest development call for "more expansion instead of reduction," related Muss. He said this type of thinking is reflected in all of Palatine's future progressive ventures.

Accident Rate Is Up, Deaths Lower

For the third consecutive year, suburban Cook county recorded more highway accidents but fewer deaths in the first half of the year.

Reports from the Cook County Traffic Safety Commission, announced by Daniel Ryan, county board president, show the death toll at mid-year stood at 66. For comparison of similar periods, the total was 82 in 1958, 96 in 1957, and 118 in 1956.

All are preliminary figures recorded at the end of the six month periods and do not include deaths occurring later from traffic accidents that happened in the first half of the year. Such deaths are charged against the month of the accident and are reported in final year-end totals.

There were 16,829 traffic accidents reported in suburban Cook county in the first half of this year. This compares with 14,657 in the same period of 1958, a report of 12,008 in the same period of 1957, and 10,226 in the first six months of 1956.

Area traffic statistics for the first six months of 1959 are listed in the first column in the table, with June's report listed in the second column of each category:

"One third of all our industrial facilities are as obsolete as the spinning wheel" *

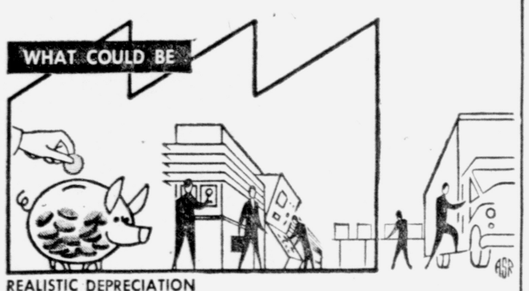
TODAY'S INADEQUATE DEPRECIATION ALLOWANCES



REALISTIC DEPRECIATION ALLOWANCES

NEW, IMPROVED MACHINES ALWAYS CREATE JOBS. In fact, employment would increase like a chain reaction with more liberal depreciation allowances. More men needed to build and install new tools of production. More needed to move and to sell better, cheaper products. In short the classic picture of a healthy and growing economy — one which can slug it out toe-to-toe with ever-increasing competition at home and abroad.

Women Outlive Men

G. F. Tegtmeyer, M.D., medical director of Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., explains to Nurse Mary C. Kuhr that the difference in life expectancy between men and women has led to his firm's reducing rates to women.

"A woman of any given age will probably outlive a man of the same age," says Dr. G. F. Tegtmeyer, medical director of Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. "This makes her a better 'insurance risk' and she should pay less than a man for the same life insurance policy."

In effect, Northwestern Mutual's new lower rates for women take years off women's lives—something the ladies have been doing socially, anyway. For insurance purposes women will be considered several years younger than they actually are. They will thus pay less than a man for a policy, since the cost is based on age at purchase.

The difference in life expectancy between men and women, which led to the new rates, is growing more pronounced. A girl born at the turn of the century could expect to live about 48 years on the average, while a boy's average life was about 46 years. But girls born in 1959 can expect average lives of approximately 73 years and boys approximately 67 years.

Noble J. Puffer, Cook county superintendent of schools, will take the oath of office for his sixth term on August 3. Otto Kerner, judge of the county court, will administer the oath.

"I appreciate the vote of confidence which has made this long service possible. I shall continue to fight for the best public schools possible; for a fairer base of support; for increased state support of public schools and for the best teachers we can secure. ## Gay Comedy Opens Aug. 3 At Playhouse

Recently married in Hong Kong, Dorothy Malone and Jacques Bergerac make their honeymoon debut in the 1959 N.Y. comedy smash hit, "Once More, With Feeling," in the Edgewater Beach playhouse at the Edgewater Beach Hotel for two weeks, Aug. 3-16.

Groucho Marx, a sensational success in "Time For Elizabeth," continues at the Edgewater thru August 2 with a special 3 p.m. matinee Saturday, Aug. 1. His show was called "Hysterical Fun." Groucho is expected to break the box-office record set by Hans Conried in "Tall Story" in the most popular year of all at the beautiful Playhouse.

DOROTHY MALONE, Chicago-born winner of an Oscar in the movie, "Written on the Wind," will co-star in Harry Kurnitz's exciting comedy with her romantic husband, Jacques Bergerac, seen recently as the ice-skate instructor in "Gigi."

Concerned with the antics of an erratic conductor, the comedy—a satire of musicians goes backstage of a Chicago concert appearance at what could be the Civic Opera House and delves into the lives of the romantic and business friends of a hectic musician who could be a Leopold Stokowski.

Miss Malone and Mr. Bergerac, seen in many movies, have never before appeared on the Chicago stage, let alone together. Additional interest follows their marriage in Hong Kong on June 26. Dorothy Malone has been one of filmdom's most fiery actresses since her debut in "The Big Sleep" with Humphrey Bogart. Bergerac, born in France, has been in Hollywood since 1953 and was married to Ginger Rogers until 1957. (Bill

DeMille's 'Ten Commandments' Opens Friday at Prospect

The big film news in town is that the much-talked-about, greatly acclaimed spectable, Cecil B. DeMille's "The Ten Commandments," arrives Friday at the Prospect Theatre, every minute of entertainment intact, exactly as it ran in previous, special engagements throughout the country.

The Technicolor Paramount production, in VistaVision, stars Yul Brynner as Rameses II; Charlton Heston as Moses; Anne Baxter as the seductive throne Princess Nefretiri, who loves Moses but when rejected turned against him; Edward G. Robinson as Dathan, tricky overseer of the Hebrew slaves; Yvonne De Carlo as Sephora, Moses' faithful wife; Debra Paget as the gentle water girl, Lilia; and John Derek as Joshua, Moses' trusted lieutenant throughout the Exodus.

"The Ten Commandments" is the account of the life of Moses from his infancy when his mother set him afloat on the Nile, through his years as a young man, a mighty general in the Pharaoh's army, to his betrayal and exile to the desert, and finally his deliverance of the Israelites and his receiving God's Commandments. Many scenes wer filmed on Mount Sinai itself, on the shores of the Red Sea and on the very desert sands that Moses trod.

CHARLTON HESTON as Moses in Cecil B. DeMille's unforgettable masterpiece, "The Ten Commandments," which arrives, uncut and intact, Friday at the Prospect Theatre. The Paramount Technicolor and VistaVision spectacular co-stars Yul Brynner as Rameses.

Q. When a house guest wishes to give his hostess a little gift of appreciation, when should he present it?

A. He may bring it with him and present it soon after his arrival, at some opportunity during his visit, or send it to her soon after his return home. All this, of course, does not relieve him of his obligation to write that all-important "bread-and-butter" letter to his hostess promptly after his visit.

Q. When a small paper cup of sauce is served on the dinner plate, what is the proper way to use it?

A. Turn the cup over and use your fork to empty it. Then put the empty cup on the plate, to one side, out of your way.

AT THE CATLOW SUNDAY

SHIRLEY MACLAINE and Gig Young, doing some house-to-house research on what perfumes are preferred by the ladies, interrupt Kasey Rogers' bath in this scene from M-G-M's romantic comedy, "ASK ANY GIRL," opening Sunday for four days at the Catlow Theatre in BARRINGTON. Later, Shirley, aided by Academy Award Winner David Niven, uses some scientific research of her own to snare the man she wants for a husband.

Van Druten Play Opens August 6

John Van Druten's Broadway hit, "I Am a Camera" will be presented August 6, 7, and 8, in the Miner Junior high school gym by Summer Stage, under the direction of Don Baylor of Des Plaines.

Christopher Isherwood will be played by John Nimmer, who has an extensive acting background and is affiliated with Goodman Theater in Chicago. Playing opposite John will be Sue Marshall as Sally Bowles. This is Sue's first appearance with Summer Stage, although she played in Arlington high school's production of Arthur Miller's "The Crucible" last fall.

"I Am a Camera" opened in 1951, at the Empire theater in New York, and starred William Prince and Julie Harris. The play enjoyed an extended run and received the Drama Critic's Award for 1952.

THE PLAY is an adaptation of the short story "Sally Bowles" from "The Berlin Stories" by the English author Christopher Isherwood. Van Druten writes, "The story of Sally Bowles appealed to me when I first read it, over 15 years ago. I knew then that there was a play buried in it, but it was only recently, and through an accident, that I turned to look for it. Then I found it hidden only a few feet below the surface. I wrote the play swiftly."

The book, "The Berlin Stories," is a journal of Christopher Isherwood's experiences while living in pre-war Berlin, and, for that reason, the premise of the play is true. (B8

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

by Edward Rentz

A famous chef will use only a drop or two of wine in cooking over a low fire for a minute or so. The most common used wine is Sherry. The general rule, whether you are cooking or serving wine with the meal is, white wines go well with white meat and the red wines are best with red meat.

Red wine is made by allowing the juice of dark colored grapes to ferment in contact with the skins to extract the color. Red wine is recommended with liver, game, beef, lamb, ham, cheeses and desserts.

Wine made in other ways is yellow or colorless but called White Wine and is used with soups, fish, veal, and all poultry not classified as game.

Palatine's Where the Buffalo Roam

Buffaloes were roaming in Palatine township Saturday night.

Some 15 head of the beasts were freed from their pasture at the Terry Jean's Stables on Ela rd., north of Algonquin rd. The herd, released when vandals cut the fence which enclosed them, ambled down Ela rd. towards the Algonquin intersection.

OWNER L. B. Andersen, a Wheeling realtor, reported that it took an hour and half to round up the animals and return them. Concerned over the possibility of a serious accident should the buffaloes have wandered into heavy automobile traffic, Andersen is offering a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the animals' escape.

He said that the pranksters had to have used heavy wire cutters in wrecking the fence. "If it hadn't been for the bright moonlight, the buffaloes would not have been so easy to catch," Andersen remarked.

Family Service Plans October Fund Appeal

A goal of $25,000 has been set by the Northwest Family Service association for its annual fund raising drive scheduled for Palatine, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Des Plaines October 4 through 10.

Stephen Jurco, 217 Windsor, and Albert E. Goldthwaite, 426 E. Park st., Arlington Heights, both members of the association's board of directors, are co-chairmen of the finance committee which will conduct the drive, according to Dr. Robert G. Savage, Prospect Heights, association president. Community chairmen and neighborhood team captains will be named within a few days, Savage indicated.

"The $25,000 goal is the minimum amount needed by the Association to serve our northwest area adequately during fiscal 1960," Dr. Savage asserted. "Only by achieving this goal can we hope to help the 40 to 50 families which seek our assistance and counseling each month."

Goals for each of the communities in which the Family Service Association operates are, Des Plaines, $9,500; Arlington Heights, $7,000; Mount Prospect, $5,000; and Palatine, $3,500. The Palatine figure includes Inverness which as part of Palatine township is served by the association. Community quotas are based on the average number of cases handled from each community during the past year, Jurco explained.

MOST OF THE money needed for the coming year will be sought in a door-to-door canvass of the four communities, Jurco said. Industries, businesses and service organizations in the area served also will be asked to contribute.

This is the second year a general fund has been held by the Family Service Association. Last year, when the goal was $28,750, only slightly more than $12,000 was collected.

"This, of course, was very disappointing and resulted in our curtailing plans for expanding Association service," Jurco said. "We believe it largely was caused by a lack of information about the agency and its need in this area. Many persons at that time did not understand the need for a Family Service Association in the northwest suburban area, thinking the type of problems the agency handles 'can't occur here.'

"The experience of the agency during the past two years, however, should completely eliminate such beliefs. That it can happen here is illustrated by the fact that each month from 40 to 50 individuals and families approach us for aid or counseling. However, because we have been able to provide only limited facilities for assistance. only the emergency cases can be handled. As a result, there continually is a waiting list of 50 or more cases.

"At present, we have only one case worker, Mrs. George E. Nicklaus, who also serves as our executive director. Based on the number of requests for assistance that are received, we should have at least two more full-time case workers. Obtaining these necessary workers will be possible only if our fund drive goal is achieved."

ALL FUNDS collected in the drive remain in the area, Jurco pointed out. "Ours is one of the few organizations operated in this manner," he asserted. "Nearly every other organization which appeals for funds diverts a major portion of the contributions out of the community. In our case, however, every cent collected is spent on services to residents of this area."

The Northwest Family Service association was organized in 1957 as a confidential counseling service to help families and individuals solve personal problems in marital relationships, child-parent adjustment, old age, mental and physical handicaps and other human difficulties. Clients seek its help voluntarily, or are referred to it by physicians, school counselors, clergy or village authorities.

Those who are able to do so are expected to pay a nominal fee. However, most applicants desparately needing assistance cannot afford to pay. Help never is refused for that reason.

Family Service now is occupying two small office rooms at 214 S. Emerson st. in Mount Prospect, the geographical center of the area served. New quarters are needed desparately, with additional space for caseworkers and for confidential interviews so important is such social work.

"PHYSICIANS TRUST ENTIRELY TO THE DRUGGISTS"

*(Author's Name Below)

About fifty years after the birth of Christ, Pliny, the elder, warned of the danger of obtaining medicines from unreliable sources or people whose only interest in their sale was the profit to be made. He explained that physicians trust druggists who have a professional reputation to cherish and preserve.

There have always been some thoughtless or money-hungry people attempting to sell medicines, even though they have no knowledge of the problems involved. The simplest medicine requires proper cautions against possible dangerous misuse. We pharmacists have the knowledge to protect you.

Collegetown, U. S. A. Opens At Carson's Edens Plaza

'Let's Talk College . . ." With this friendly invitation as its principal theme, Carson Pirie Scott and Co., Edens Plaza, announces the opening of the store's famed College Shop, "Collegetown, U.S.A."

Located in the sportswear area, first floor, Collegetown, U.S.A. 1959 also has headquarters at Carson's State Street store and Hillside.

The smartly understated uniform of Carson's 1959 collegd board may be the season's scene stealer. It is a Chanel-inspired 2-piece suit of grey menswear flannel, designed by Carson's fashion coordinator, Miss Mariam Lippincott. The jacket, bound in black braid, has a 3-button closing and the matching skirt has side-stitched pleats all around.

THE ACCOMPANYING over blouse of white arnel and cotton has a modified scoop neck, short kimono sleeves, and three large black buttons, matching the jacket, to close. With the outfit board members will wear black leather slippers with bows and Queen Ann heels, and hose of muted grey semi-sheer nylon in a herring-bone-like weave that gives the effect of a shadow stripe. A stitched brim grey flannel crew hat completes the costume.

Interior slogans reading "Ask the Girl in the Grey Flannel Suit" will direct shoppers to the seven youthful campus fashion authorities who comprise Carson's Edens Plaza college board. These girls are wadrobe-wise, well-trained and willing to aid and advise in choosing exactly the right clothes to take to college. A coast-to-coast survey has provided Collegetown U.S. A. with six complete and up-to-date regional lists of wardrobe needs and requirements covering more than 300 colleges and universities. These are available for the asking at Collegetown U.S.A. headquarters and will prove of tremendous value to shoppers, especially to incoming freshmen.

The campus fashion authorities at Edens Plaza are: Catherine Croisant, Ohio Wesleyan university; Lynne Cullinan, Northwestern university; Kathleen Johnson, Barat College of Sacred Heart; Kay Earlandson, Stephens college; Virginia Gray, Beloit college; Jeanette Ragner, State University of Iowa: Mary Ellen Tressel, Smith college.

"ASK THE GIRL in the Grey Flannel Suit" is the slogan at Carson's Edens Plaza. Grey flannel suits, like the one pictured, are the uniform being worn by members of the college board in the store's college shop, "Collegetown, U. S. A."

Robert L. Blaseck Takes Chicago Bride

A reception in the Pearson hotel on Chicago's near north side followed a 3 o'clock marriage ceremony May 23 in which Miss Sally Ann Cameron of Chicago, and Robert Louis Blaseck of Palatine, were united in marriage. The service was candlelight and double ring and held in Westminster chapel of Fourth Presbyterian church in Chicago.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cameron of Louisville and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Blaseck, 144 N. Forest ave., Palatine.

For her marriage, the bride chose an antique white, ballerina gown of silk peau de soie fashioned with scoop neckline, dipping to a low V in back and edged with alencon lace embroidered in pearls. From a matching flat bow at the back V, fell a panel of the peau de soie which was edged in lace. She wore a short veil of french illusion held in place by a Swedish crown of seed pearls, and her bouquet was of Amazon lilies and stephanotis. Mr. Cameron gave his daughter in marriage.

MRS. ROBERT BROWN of Rock Island was her sister's matron of honor and bridesmaid was Mrs. Charles Nylen of Wheeling, a sorority sister of the bride. Their gowns were identical in lilac silk organza fashioned with ballerina-length skirts, scoop necklines, tiny sleeves and fitted empire bodices. The full skirts were caught at the hem to form a harem line. Their shoes were dyed to match and they carried pink carnations and wore a spray of the same flowers in their hair.

The bridegroom was attended by three fraternity brothers: Andrew E. Kalnik of Glenview as best man and Robert Blomquist of Milwaukee and Richard Prugh of Oak Park as ushers.

Bouquets of white stock and asters decorated the church for the service which was performed by Rev. Hayward. One hundred guests including the bride's grandmother, attended the reception after which the newlyweds left on a week's wedding trip to Nassau. Since June 1, they have been at home at 230 Custer st., Evanston.

Greenhouses Give Gardeners 'Jump' on the Weatherman

by JACK MARTIN

It was only natural in suburban Chicago, where everything from mowing the lawn to scrubbing the sidewalks is considered gardening, that someone would want to raise flowers 12 months a year.

An adaptation of an old commercial facility, the greenhouse, is giving more ardent garden enthusiasts an edge over the weatherman. And while the idea of greenhouses is hardly new, it has been only in recent years that the home variety was within the means of the average wage-earner.

Even more sensational than the tree that grew in Brooklyn are Arlington Heights oranges, Prospect Heights lemons and Rolling Meadows orchids.

Yet Mrs. John Lazor, 1441 St. James pl., Arlington Heights, can tell you that oranges aren't really orange, but green; Mrs. Joseph Forster, 202 E. Clarendon, Prospect Heights, claims a lemon as large as a softball; and Mrs. Clarence McCormick, 2306 Campbell, Rolling Meadows, can show you as pretty a set of orchids as ever grew in the tropics.

JOHN LAZOR, an agent for Everlite home greenhouses, says the interest in home-made climate increases every year. "Prefabrication provided the impetus," the salesman states. "What was once a rich man's hobby can now be purchased at lower costs and on time payments."

The most popular type, according to Lazor, is the lean-to, which is less expensive. You can buy a 7 by 17 foot lean-to greenhouse for $572; that is, you can buy the materials for that price, and most purchasers prefer to erect their own since the same sized structure professionally built and completed would run about 1200 to 1500 dollars.

Heat and humidity are the only secret weapons with which the weather-beaters defy the northern Illinois winters. And, unless the greenhouse has a concrete floor, the owner can get along without a humidifier. Lazor suggests crushed rock or gravel.

The best heating system, but unfortunately the most expensive, is hot water; otherwise a unit heater, preferably gas, is needed.

Heating bills will not be excessive, though, Lazor claims. A 7 by 17 house will heat for about 50 to 60 dollars per year. Heating will vary with the owner's choice of plants. Tropical plants need 60 degree temperatures at night while carnations, mums, and snap-dragons can get along with the thermostat at 50 to 55 degrees.

LITTLE FUEL is used in the day-time, Lazor informs. If the sun is out, the greenhouse will heat to 60 degrees even if the thermometer at the back door reads zero.

The greenhouses do need automatic ventilators since it is almost impossible to regulate the hot and cold air mechanically. On days when the sun is continually in and out of the clouds a person would have a full-time job opening and shutting the ventilators in order to keep the temperature regular.

"A person needs to decide what he wants to grow before he buys or builds a greenhouse," Lazor asserts. "You can't grow orchids and camelias together because orchids require at least 60 degree temperatures and camelias demand no temperatures in excess of 45 degrees."

Lazor can advertise his product at home since their Westgate residence has a combination family room-greenhouse. Laughingly the Lazors complain that their greenhouse has become the neighborhood plant hospital. "They bring half-dead plants and expect miracles," John smiled.

THE BEAUTIFUL thing about family room greenhouse is that the aluminum and glass portion of the addition can be built at a lower cost than if the room were completed with brick or wood. "Fifty per cent less," asserts Lazor.

The Everlite representative tells of one purchaser who wanted a citrus grove over his garage, another who went for tropical fish in a big way, and one rather excentric chap who became attached to a pet sparrow and wanted the bird to feel at home.

Prefabricated greenhouses can cost as little as $187 for a 4 by 8½ foot lean-to or can run up to $100,000 if one wanted his back yard under glass.

"Most people start out just trying to supplement what they grow in their yards," Lazor informs.

That's how the Forsters started some 17 years ago in Prospect Heights when Joe built his own greenhouse out of scrap lumber and glass. "We have a hard time getting everything into it in the winter," Mrs. Forster laments. Her specialties are marigolds and lobelias, whose respective yellow and blue beauty provides an exquisite frame for her drive and full acre yard.

"WE SAVE money and get much earlier blooms," Mrs. Forster boasts. She has grown hundreds of geraniums (3 for a dollar in a store), and takes particular pride in her steffanotis and bird of paridise, not to mention the lemon tree.

Another gardener, Virgil Horath, 614 N. Haddow, Arlington Heights, points out that it is the wrong time of the year to really appreciate greenhouses. His greenhouse, like the rest, is practically empty now, but, and his eyes lit up, "in another 90 days and boy!"

Horath won his neighbors' admiration with his potted cinerara, whose colors were visable to Euclid st. motorists last winter. He is now working with hybrid hanging basket begonias.

MRS. CLARENCE McCORMICK, 2306 Campbell, Rolling Meadows, will devote her back yard greenhouse to the cultivation of orchids. She and her husbnad have been greenhouse gardeners only a short time.

A COMBINATION greenhouse and family room makes an attractive addition to the house, and, according to owner John Lazor, 1441 W. St. James, Arlington Heights, the addition is less expensive than a four-wall room of similar dimensions.

Carol Koenig Weds Chicagoan July 25

The former Carol Ann Koenig, an Arlington Heights girl who teaches third grade in Fairview school, Mt. Prospect, was married July 25 in Our Lady of the Wayside church of Arlington Heights to Thomas Edward McLaughlin of Chicago. The couple exchanged vows in an 11 a.m. ceremony, after which a breakfast was given in the Evanston Woman's club and open house was held in the evening in the home of the bride's parents.

The new Mrs. McLaughlin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Koenig, 343 S. Bristol lane. Coming down the aisle on the arm of her father she wore an embroidered lace over taffeta wedding gown fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves and full skirt. Her chapel length illusion veil was held by a pearl tiara, and her bridal bouquet was of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

THE BRIDE'S sister, Mrs. Norman Ryan, was her matron of honor. Another sister, Mary Jo Koenig, and two of the bride's cousins, Nancy Fraser and Margery Rauwolf, both of Chicago, were bridesmaids. All the attendants were gowned alike in dresses of white organdy over yellow taffeta complimented by white picture hats. Each carried a bouquet of white daisies and pompoms.

The bidegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. McLaughlin of Chicago, had his brother, John McLaughlin, as best man. The senior McLaughlins were privileged to see their four sons on the altar at one time during the ceremony, as their son, Rev. Edward, married the couple and their younger son, Robert, was master of ceremonies for the solemn high mass.

Assisting with the service were Fr. O'Hara of the Wayside church and Fr. Edward Reilly of Deerfield, who was formerly at the Arlington Heights church. Ushering the guests to their pews were James McCabe, and Robert Greenway, both of Chicago; Robert Riefke of Bellwood; and Ted Koenig Jr., brother of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Koenig chose an aqua silk organza with matching accessories while Mrs. McLaughlin chose a dress of deep turquoise with matching hat. Both mothers wore white orchids with purple throats.

THE NEWLYWEDS are now on a wedding trip to Florida, and after August 15 will be at home in Arlington Heights.

The bride is a graduate of Loyola university, and the bridegroom was graduated from De Paul university. He is presently employed as a public accountant, at Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co., Chicago.

Dressed-Up for Distress

From now on I must be very careful and avoid all accidents. Every time I become involved in any kind of mishap, I am not dressed properly. Furthermore, one could say that I am not even decently clothed at all.

My first encounter with misfortune occurred many years ago. There I was riding along in my auto one fine snowy morning after taking friend husband to his sweat shop. I was warmly clad in an ald skunkskin coat, furlined boots, Daniel Boone cap and a beautiful long blue nylon nightie. Any good housewife knows that this is standard apparel for early morning excursions.

A card came around a corner and struck my vehicle with his vehicle. Then he wanted me to get out of the car. I guess we were going to settle the issue with fists. I sincerely felt that I could give him my license number, name and all the pertinent information ensconced in the driver's seat and maintained my right to do so. I won but the experience unnerved me for hours.

But, I have now gone myself one better. I have had a narrow squeak in my bathing suit. I must have been a dream racing down the railroad tracks, baby in arms, clad in a bathing suit, short beach coat and golf hat. The car in which I was riding fell in a hole leaving its snout sticking out over the tracks. Not one, but two trains were approaching. Bells were ringing. People were gesticulating wildly. Trucks were trying to haul the car out of the hole.

I was trying to flag down trains with my coat which left me in only the green bathing suit, golf hat and still with the baby in arms. Those engineers must have been bugeyed at the apparition. After we got out of the hole, and we did thanks to quick thinking and acting truck drivers, I realized how I was dressed.

I would say that I have now reached the heights in casual suburban dress.

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

Davey Jones Fish Frolic

Tired of barbecued hamburgers and hot dogs? Well, have a Davey Jones Special with a "fishy" flavor.

Invitations

Cut a double-fold, grey construction paper oyster shell — inside on a white piece of paper which is cut in the shape of a pearl, write the following verse:

AHOY! Ye maties,
Join with us — Saturday 'tis the day,
We'll "cast" a "line" and "hook" our friends,
In a friendly, "fishy" way.
The shrimp and oysters, lobsters too,
Are planning on the date,
Of course, we haven't told them,
But, they'll be upon the plate.
And Davey Jones will treasures bring
A joy for all to see
Put on your favorite bathing suit

A Fish Frolic there will be.

State time, place and if you want your guests in costume. It would be fun to hold this party poolside, if you are not the lucky owner of one, however, choose a close, easily accessible lake. Include a map with clear intructions so everyone will find it. The costumes could be suggested, such as your guests coming as fishermen, fish, mermaids, ship captain or crew. Be smart and think up a different one for each guest but keep the costumes simple limiting the needs to a wig, hat or pipe. Of course, remind them to bring swimming suits and tell them if a place will be provided for quick changes. Have plenty of extra towels.

Decorations

Anything nautical is nice, if you'll pardon the pun. Captain chairs, floor cushions or mats provide seating facilities. Use a checked tablecloth or paper table mats with fish or lobsters to carry out the theme, napkins to match, of course. Lobster bibs are fun and also available in paper.

If on the beach, use two card tables for less backaches and bending. Let the guests sit on the sand, but serve buffet as it's easier on the cook. Use a reed cornocopia filled with shells, coral and starfish draped with fishnet and sprinkled with sand as the centerpiece. Or use a small weatherbeaten box or chest filled with old jewelry as a centerpice. Pearl and shell decorated placecards can be used if you serve your guests at tables.

Menu

Fish, any way, shape or form for this affair. Serve boiled shrimp cocktail letting the guests shell their own. Serve shrimp sauce in shells and for a different sauce, mix horse radish and chop suey soy sauce or have several available including just plain lemon. Clam chowder, relishes, lobster, boiled or broiled with plenty of parsley butter. Also hot rolls, chips, tossed salad and for dessert a cool, light and refreshing fresh fruit salad. Have pots of college as salty fish makes for thirst. Serve hot wet towels for mopping buttery fingers.

Entertainment

After guests arrive and while the fish is cooking, award the costume prizes. These can be fish, frozen and edible, or live in a bowl, magic paper flower shells for the ladies and any type of fishing equipment for the prizes for the fishiest, saltiest or funniest costumes.

Then let the guests enjoy a swim. This perks up appetites and the meal is a quiet, relaxing, liesurely-served one.

If your guests are too "full" after eating, don't insist on games but if the conversation drags, come up with a few flavored games. If you need help, with these or any other party ideas call CL 3-3996. Wind up the evening with the singing of sea chants and the telling of fish stories.

So don't "cast" about for a party plan, just 'troll" along with a Davey Jones Fish Frolic.

How Young Mother Keeps Up Career as Golf Champion

by JACK MARTIN

An attractive, young mother walked slowly off the 18th green at Mt. Prospect country club and was greeted by a "How'd it go?" from her sandy-haired husband, a "Hi, mommy. We've been playing!" from her five-year-old daughter, and the prospect of another interview from a waiting reporter.

She answered husband Bill with a shrug of the shoulders and a "So-so," smiled at young Karen, and told the newsman, "Let me get a drink and I'll be right with you."

TEN MINUTES later the family was on the practice tee, and the mother, golf pro Kathy Cornelius, began a lengthy practice session. Karen became occupied with a collection of sticks, and Bill began answering the reporter's questions.

Bill and Kathy have been married six years. They had met while she was a student at Florida Southern, studying journalism. He was a teaching pro at the Lakeland country club.

Karen was born a year later, and Bill left his job as a Lake Worth, Florida, golf pro in order to travel with his wife on the women's PGA circuit.

Five years of jumping from motel to motel, eating in restaurants, and swinging golf clubs have not been without rewards. 1956 was a great year! Kathy won the National Open, broke the world's record for a woman's 18 hole score while competing in the St. Petersburg tournament, captured three major tourneys, and finished eighth in list of money-winners for the year.

SINCE THEN things hadn't been going so well. Kathy, who was competing for the world's richest purse in Dick Hauff's World's Open at Mt. Prospect Country club (first place meant $8,000), hadn't won a major title in the past two years. This year her best finishes have been a fourth at Miami and a tie for fourth at St. Petersburg.

Karen interrupted the questioning with a request to go play with Janie and Bonnie, daughters of pro's Betty Danoff and Peggy Bell.

Bill watched her go and commented, "She's a great traveler. She's never been sick a day in her life. Never even had the measles! She smashed her finger last week in Alliance, Ohio, while we were staying in a private home. Probably wouldn't have happened in a motel."

"Golf doesn't bother her schedule," Bill went on. "And she's never had a baby-sitter. We take her everywhere we go. When we have to put in an appearance at cocktail parties, we take her along and stay about 10 or 15 minutes."

KATHY HAS HER own set of clubs, but is oblivious of the seriousness with which her mother treats the game of golf. "She's looking forward to the Western Open, which will be staged at Spokane, Washington in two weeks, because we're going to stop at Yellowstone on the way out," Bill smiled.

"We're planning a big birthday party for her this Saturday. Last year she had the observance in French Lick, Indiana, and the year before it was Detroit," Bill remarked.

Kathy complained that she couldn't get her nine iron to perform correctly and was about to thrust the club back into the bag when Bill, assuming his role as an instructor, tried to help her with her swing. Kathy, assuming her role as a wife, quietly disagreed.

She picked up her driver, and Bill returned. "We've only had a two week break between tournaments this year," he informed. "We have two more weeks before we report to Spokane, and then we have about eight or nine straight meets."

Traveling is, of course, very expensive. Bill estimates that it costs them nearly $250 a week to live, including lodging while on the road. They always travel by car, which, when fully loaded, contains three sets of golf clubs, a record player, clothes, and many pairs of golf shoes.

"We don't drink or smoke or our expenses would be higher," Bill said.

KATHY SIGNALED the caddy in with the shag bag, and then sent him back out. She picked up her five iron.

ANOTHER GOLFING mother, Peggy Kirk Bell, receives an enthusiastic embrace from daughter Bonnie. Mrs. Bell, pausing between the ninth and tenth holes, loses cap in the enthusiasm.

"Kathy is among the five or six women on the tour who practice quite a bit," Bill remarked. "Some practice a little, and some don't practice at all."

"We're going to settle down in another year," Bill informed. "Karen will be starting school, and I'm going to take a job." He hopes to start a driving range, but doesn't know where they will buy their home.

"We might settle up North, so Kathy can play the summer tournaments which are centered up here."

Kathy was through, and a tired caddy was putting her clubs into a bag which read Kathy Cornelius, Spalding Staff Member. "This one would be a nice one to win," the reported retorted.

"It sure would," she replied.

(B-8

BILL AND KATHY Cornelius watch daughter Karen, 5, tee up at the practice range of Mt. Prospect Country club. Bill takes care of the little girl while family travels the Women's Professional Golf association circuit. Kathy must budget some 200 to 250 dollars weekly living expenses.

Womans Club Plans Busy Fall Program

October 6 is the first meeting date of the year, and members will hear as guest speaker Saadat Hasan from the Arab Information Center in Chicago.

AT THE November meeting Mrs. Laura Sutherland will speak on the United Nations, and plans have already been made to have Dr. Blake Walker as honored guest of the spring luncheon.

The meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Richard Lacher, 328 N. Plum Grove rd., Thursday, Aug. 6, at 9:30 a.m. At this time Mrs. John Muller of Barrington will be introduced as the new advisor for the Palatine league for this year.

JULY 2 the board appointed three new members: Mrs. William Fremon, 109 S. Forest, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Lacher, 328 N. Plum Grove rd., membership chairman; Mrs. Grey Armistead, 1274 S. Smith, finance chairman, Mrs. E. W. Miller, 110 N. Inverway, new chairman on national items, will soon hold workshops on "Water Conservation."

Stratton Vetoes Water-Sewer Bill

Gov. Stratton last week vetoed House Bill 1075 by Rep. Willett which would have extended to the rest of the state the authority now effective within 30 miles of Chicago for municipalities to ban construction of houses without sewer and water facilities.

"This bill enables any municipality to prohibit the erection of buildings for any habitation on a lot unless water and sewage facilities are provided," the governor's veto message said. "Present law restricts such power to municipalities having a population of more than 500,000 persons or those within a radius of 30 miles therefrom.

"This bill could, if its provisions were utilized by a small municipality, work extreme hardship in the case of individual lot owners who could not afford the rather heavy expense of providing water and sewage facilities."

HE SIGNED Sen. Bill 713, by Sen. Little, granting sanitary districts power to collect a connection fee from new or additional users, with funds collected to be used for the general corporate purposes.

Also signed were Sen. Bill 383 by Sen. Davis, allowing school districts to grant easements for sewers, water drainage, or utility purposes to corportations, persons, and municipalities; and Sen. Bill 234, by Sen. Jones, which reduced from 31 to 21 days the minimum public notice required by municipalities in letting bids on contract work under the law creating sanitary districts and providing for sewage disposal.

Scholarships In Education Now Available

Two hundred and fifty new state scholarships for high school graduates who agree to take courses in education are provided in House Bill 1022 signed last week by Gov. Stratton.

The scholarships are for four year courses at any of five teacher colleges: Illinois State Normal university, Northern Illinois university; Eastern Illinois university; Western Illinois University, and Southern Illinois university. Application is made to the state superintendent of public instruction.

Senate Bill 277, also signed, permits members of the general assembly to nominate persons for scholarships also at other state supported universities than the University of Illinois.

DISPOSITION of school fund from reorganized school districts is provided for in House Bill 809 by Rep. Alsup, also signed. After such funds have remained with the county collectors for three years, the law provides they shall be distributed to each district in accordance with the proportion represented by students in that district to students in the entire county.

A recount in school elections is allowed by House Bill 1162, by Rep. Eberspacher, also signed, providing the contesting candidate has received 95 per cent of the votes of anv successful candidate, pays $5 per precinct he wants recounted, and files his petition with the canvassing board within five days of the proclamation.

House Bill 712, by Reps. Pollack and Wendt, eliminates clerks from school district elections, while House Bill 712 provides the polls in school elections shall be open from noon to 7 p.m.

Appealing Array of Recipes Offered by Home Economist

An extensive array of appealing recipes has been shared with us this week by a home economist, Mrs. Richard G. MacDermott of 263 Pleasant Hill blvd., Palatine.

Her recipe collection is so extensive that it was difficult to choose just one or two favorites. So we have selected several from her repertoire; some are unique, two are originals devised by this good cook, and all are very tasty yet simple enough for the novice to prepare

A graduate home economics major from Western Michigan university, Mrs. MacDermott was employed for several years as a home economist for the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co. During the war she served as a first lieutenant in the Women's Army Corps.

ABANDONING her career, Mrs. MacDermott is now a full time homemaker, active in several community organizations. She is a member of the Deaconette of the First Presbyterian church and is president of the recently organized Ladies Auxiliary of Arlington Heights BPO Elks.

For hobbies, this housewife enjoys golf, bridge and, of course, cooking. One of the recipes she devised herself is a butterscotch sauce. Not satisfied with any of the recipes she had for a butterscotch sauce, Mrs. MacDermott experimented until she perfected one which suited her. Rich and creamy, it is delicious served hot or cold over ice cream or meringues filled with ice cream.

Another of her original recipes is for a refreshing blueberry salad. Blueberries are molded in blackberry jello flavored with cream sherry. The sherry gives this salad an "out-of-the ordinary" elegant flavor.

Mrs. MacDermott suggests serving this salad with roast beef hash and Brazilian Rice. The hash is an excellent recipe for making use of leftover roast beef or pot roast. She combines the beef with onions, raw potatoes, green pepper, beef stock and seasonings and bakes the ingredients for two hours.

The Brazilian rice is a tasty beef dish. Different and delicious, this casserole combined boiled rice with eggs, sharp Cheddar cheese, milk, chopped spinach, herbs and seasonings. This is good to serve with many different meals, and is nourishing as well.

Mrs. MacDermott feels that far too often vegetables are neglected or deemphasized in a meal, so she has suggested a few recipes that make this important food more interesting to eat. One is for a tomato pudding which is especially good to serve with broiled ham slices or baked ham. Another is for peas and crispy water chestnuts cooked together in chicken broth, making them more flavorful and delicious.

AS AN accompaniment for hamburgers, Mrs. MacDermott suggests Curried Beans instead of the more common baked beans. In this dish red kidney beans are combined with bacon, onion, green pepper, tomatoes, deviled ham, dry mustard, molasses and curry powder.

For using up leftover lamb, beef or pork, she recommends a simple Barbecue recipe in which the meat is mixed with a tangy barbecue sauce. Spooned onto buns, the barbecue is good served with corn on the cob and a tossed salad. An interesting salad note: Mrs. MacDermott tosses in some thinly-sliced small zucchini squash.

So here you have a variety of recipes which are favorites of a food expert. Pick one or try them all; they are sure to please.

Butterscotch Sauce

½ cup margarine
2 cups brown sugar
Dash of salt
4 tablespoons light corn syrup
1 small can evaporated milk

Melt margarine, sugar, salt and syrup in the top of a double boiler. Mix until smooth. Add milk and cook 10 minutes until smooth and thick.

Makes one pint.

Blueberry Salad

1 package blackberry jello
1¾ cups hot water
¼ cup cream sherry
1½ cups fresh blueberries

Dissolve jello in the hot water. Add the blueberries and wine.

Pour into mold and refrigerate until firm.

Roast Beef Hash

4 cups cooked, diced roast beef or pot roast
1 cup chopped onions
1 cup diced raw potatoes
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 cup beef stock
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon Accent

Combine ingredients in a 1½ quart casserole. Bake covered for two hours in a 300 degree oven.

Brazilian Rice

3 cups boiled rice
¼ cup margarine
4 beaten eggs
1 pound grated sharp Cheddar cheese
1 cup milk
1 package unfrozen and drained chopped spinach
1 tablespoon chopped onion sauce
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon Accent.
½ teaspoon marjoram
½ teaspoon thyme
½ teaspoon Rosemary

Melt the butter and add the remaining ingredients. Mix the sauce well and stir in the rice.

Pour into a buttered two-quart baking dish and bake in a pan of water in a 350 degrees oven for 35 minutes.

This dish may be frozen and later baked.

Serves 8.

Tomato Pudding

2 cans tomato puree
1 cup brown sugar
¼ cup butter
2 cups soft bread cubes

Boil tomato puree, sugar and butter until heated through.

Place bread cubes in a greased casserole and pour tomato mixture over them.

Prepare ahead of time and place in the refrigerator for several hours.

Bake in a 350 degree oven for one-half hour.

Serve with broiled ham slices or baked ham.

Peas and Water Chestnuts

2 packages frozen peas
½ to 1 can water chestnuts
1 can chicken broth

Thaw peas in a pan. Add thinly-sliced water chestnuts and chicken broth. Cook, uncovered, until peas are tender.

Drain and add 2 tablespoons butter and ½ teaspoon Accent.

Curried Beans

5 slices bacon
1 medium onion, chopped
¼ cup chopped green pepper
2 cans red kidney beans, well drained
2 cups solid pack tomatoes, well drained
1 can deviled ham
¾ teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon hot water
3 tablespoons molasses
1 tablespoon curry
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon Accent

Fry bacon until slightly crisp—then dice. Mix together with all the remaining ingredients.

Pour the mixture into a casserole and place a strip of bacon on top.

Bake for 30 minutes in a 400 degree oven.

Serves 6.

Barbecue

2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons catsup
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons Heinz 57 sauce
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 teaspoon mustard

Slice meat ¼ inch thick, using leftover lamb, pork or beef. Add to the above ingredients which have been combined together.

Heat thoroughly and serve on buns.

Serves 4.

Arlington Branch of AAUW Will Organize August 6

The American Association of University Women is in the process of starting a new branch in the northwest suburban area, to be called the Arlington Heights branch of the AAUW. At a meeting set for August 6 at 8:15 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Sam Cullison, 511 N. Hickory, Arlington Heights, the new group will organize.

All women in the area who hold degrees from colleges and universities approved for AAUW membership are invited to join the branch. Those interested may call Mrs. Cullison at CL 5-5410 or Mrs. John Gussert, CL 3-5360.

AT AUGUST 6 meeting the new branch will adopt its by-laws, elect officers and plan its program for the coming year. The group will begin meeting regularly in September on the first Thursday of each month.

Each AAUW branch works out its program according to the interests of its members and community needs. The common purpose is educational work in the widest sense, and on a level to make use of college training. In general the women who join a branch find it encourages their interest in education, international relations, social studies and also aids gifted women scholars through graduate fellowships.

Large Bridal Party For Palatine Pair

June 6 was the wedding day of a Palatine couple who repeated their marriage vows at 5 o'clock in the afternoon in St. Peter Lutheran church of Schaumburg. Rev. F. A. Hertwig united the former Esther Sporleder, daughter of the Edgar Sporleders of route 2, and Bruce King, son of the W. A. Kings of 723 S. Brockway st., in a candlelight setting of white gladioli and carnations.

Five bridesmaids, a flower girl, ringbearer and maid of honor preceded the bride down the aisle of the church. The bridesmaids were all dressed in floor length gowns of pink taffeta with embroidered silk organza overskirts. The gowns' only accents were pink taffeta roses at the bodice and back of the waist, which ended in streamers hanging to the floor. The briesmaids' bouquets were of white feathered carnations and pink garnet roses. The girls were Carrol Lee Sand, Marilyn Hansen and Diane Breitholz, all of Palatine, and Patricia Nerge and Sandra Zoellick, both of Elgin.

ETHEL SPORLEDER, the bride's twin sister, served as her maid of honor in a gown identical to the bridesmaids' but in aqua taffeta, and she carried a bouquet of red garnet roses with white carnations. Flower girl was Linda Plate, the bride's cousin, who wore a dress similar to the other attendants' and carried a colonial bouquet of red garnet roses and white carnations. The bridegroom's nephew, Kevin King, was ringbearer.

Best man was Lee Mudlaff of Palatine, and the ushers were the bride's brother, Leo Sporleder; Daniel Lemanski, Richard Wisner, Gerald Segebrecht and Raymond Plate, all of Palatine.

APPROACHING the altar on the arm of her father the bride wore a chantilly lace wedding gown and a fingertip veil held in place by a headpiece of seed pearls and sequins. Her bouquet was of stephanotis and feathered carnations surrounding a white orchid.

Soloist for the late afternoon wedding was Carol Wille, who sang "Today O Lord" and "O Love that Casts Out Fear", and organist was Mrs. F. A. Hertwig.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Bartlett Firemen's hall for 400 guests. The birde's mother received in a powder blue silk organza dress with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother chose a pink lace dress with white accessories and orchid corsage.

Alabama was the destination of the bridal pair for a week's honeymoon, and they are now at home in Palatine. S

Success is made up of three ingredients: (1) work, (2) hard work, and (3) silence at the right times.

People who are misers with their money often are philanthropists with their troubles.

A lot of men have to hand it to their wives—they know they'd get it anyway.

Svoboda Brothers Active On Boating Scene

Joe With Buccaneer Crew On 333-Mile Yacht Race

by BOB FRISK

A relative newcomer to the Chicago boating scene, Joe Svoboda of Arlington Heights reached a highlight in his sailing during the recent 333-mile Chicago to Mackinac Island Yacht Race.

One of two brothers to take an active interest in the sport the past few years, Joe was a member of the Buccaneer's crew in the Class C division of the 52nd annual race. Owned by Bob Hansen of the Columbia Yacht Club and including another area man, Roger Frejd of Mt. Prospect, among its crew, the Buccaneer finished eleventh in its initial racing venture.

"We were all interested in just how well it would do, Joe related, "as it had never been raced before. It's a new 39-foot steel hull boat."

THE BUCCANEER pushed off on the 333-mile grind at 1:15 p.m. Saturday, July 18, and traversed the distance in 69 hours 11 minutes and three seconds.

"We had a full moon for three nights and no problem with the weather," Joe explained, "and that's unusual for Mackinac. There was a downwind for the final 28 hours. There were seven of us on the crew and we took four hour watches with four on and four off. A cook was also carried among the crew."

There were no serious accidents over the 333 miles although the Hornet, owned by Walter Heimichem of Chicago, was on the rocks off Ille Aux Gallegs, about 35 miles west of Mackinac. Small damage was reported.

THE YAWL SABRE, owned by Roman Brotz of Sheboygan, Wisc., and currently the largest unit at 86-feet on the Great Lakes, was the first boat to finish the race in the elapsed time of 61 hours and four seconds. With her time allowance handicap deducted, taking into consideration water line, sail area, etc., the Sabre had a corrected time of 63 hours, 33 minutes and five seconds, good for 13th place in the Class A division.

Officals of the race said the leaders ran into 10-15 m.p.h. southerly winds in the Straits of Mackinac. Earlier the fleet had reported little progress due to calm weather.

Both Joe and Jim Svoboda are graduates of Maine Township high school and Northwestern University and are now working at J. Svoboda and Sons men's clothing store at 12 So. Dunton in Arlington. They first became interested in sailing three years ago and have been with the Columbia Yacht Club at the Monroe street harbor for two years.

THE BROTHERS are co-owners of a Dragon sloop, the class of which has been designated as an official sailing craft of the Pan-Am Games. This design of racing sailboat has gained in popularity in the United States since 1953, and the North American Champion is Dick Kraus of Toledo, Ohio.

The Dragons are identical in hull design, spars and standing riggings as well as the size and shape of their sails. Owners are given complete latitude in the arrangement and type of under-deck fittings, both cockpit and cabin. The Dragon, as pointed out in a handbook of the International Dragon association, is just under 30 feet in length with its mast rising 32 feet above the deck. The boat is sloop rigged, which means that it carries a mainsail and jib. When running downwind, the Dragon also flies a spinnaker, a balloon-type sail often made in distinctive color and design according to the preference of the owners.

Mainsail. . .spars. . .jib. .! Terms unfamiliar to many are commonly used by sailing enthusiasts. And two men who have to be considered among the "new class" of ardent sailing fans are Joe and Jim Svoboda!

THE DESIGN OF racing sailboat called the Dragon has gained tremendous popularity in the United States in the past few years. The Svoboda brothers own one of these Dragons and keep it at the Columbia Yacht club in Chicago.

To No Avail

Harvey Foster, Palatine catcher, failed to bring his shoes to Monday evening's game with Park Ridge.

He borrowed Don White's shoes, since he wasn't pitching. However, when White was summoned to the aid of Jack Nelson, he used Nelson's shoes instead.

The shoe trading didn't do any good as Park Ridge won, 6-5, to win the ninth district title.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

By BOB FRISK

DICK HAUFF'S INITIAL golf promotion is now a matter of record.

The 1954 graduate of Arlington high staged the richest women's professional golf show in history and although reports have it that the tourney didn't exactly boom financially, the women golfers put on quite a show for the four days.

LOUISE SUGGS

You couldn't ask for a tighter tourney and with both the course record and nine hole standard cracked by the touring pros, it was obvious that the female golfers were geared for that big money tossed their way by Hauff.

Whether or not the tourney will return to Mt. Prospect next year is just speculation at this juncture. It appears doubtful with the women's Western Open slated for Chicago next summer. Attendance would undoubtedly pick up for that second venture, providing Dick got a better break from the weatherman. Sunday's crowd—expected to be the largest of the four days—was cut down due to the fact that rain postponed opening day and pushed the important 18 hole finals off to Monday.

The first attempt in a promotion of this sort is the hardest. With this behind him, Hauff should be able to go into another big meet with a sharper insight into the do's and don'ts of tourney promotion.

The women's golf circuit is starting to pick up more and more players because there are more tournaments each year. The interest naturally increases as the money goes up. As Louise Suggs points out, "When the women's circuit first started, the leading money winner was Babe Zaharias with only $3,400. Now you can make more than that in one tournament."

Miss Suggs was perhaps the sentimental favorite of the Mt. Prospect tourney because of an unfortunate incident in an Alliance, Ohio meet the previous week. She was dropped from the meet for the absurd reason she didn't show up for a pre-tourney cocktail party put on by the sponsors. To say Louise wanted to win that big prize at Mt. Prospect is putting it lightly, but although she didn't get the top money, she did pick up a respectable $1,100 for fourth place behind the winner Betsy Rawls.

Marlene Bauer Hagge, the petite young golfing sensation who plays out of Churchill Valley country club in Pittsburgh, Pa., rates Miss Suggs the greatest woman golfer of all time. "Patty Berg would be a close second but Louise is No. 1. Babe Zaharias would be third. She was a great golfer but wasn't as consistent as Louise."

Marlene didn't experience one of her better tournaments at Mt. Prospect, but, as usual, the 5-3, 110 pounder attracted a large following. At 25, Marlene has been on the pro circuit for nine years and she played in her first tourney at seven in Chicago's Western Amateur. By the time she was nine, she had already broken 100 and a year later she cracked 80.

Who attracted the largest following at Mt. Prospect? None other than the steady veteran of 19 years on the pro circuit, Patty Berg. Patty, who graciously consented to conduct golf clinics at both Rolling Green and Old Orchard this week, finished eight strokes of the pace at Mt. Prospect, but still exhibited the style and finesse that have made her such a great golfing name.

It's been said that Patty handles a golf club as well as any man playing the game. In any respect, Patty Berg is still the girl the pros know they have to beat in a tourney.

Hauff has indicated he lost $27,500 on the tournament but one shot almost upped that total. Saturday on the fourth hole, Peggy Kirk Bell, who plays out of Pine Needles Lodge in So. Pines, N. C., missed by inches recording a hole-in-one. As Hauff watched the ball head toward the cup, you can be sure he was thinking of a certain prize of four figures that would have to be doled out for the ace.

When the ball rolled past the pin, Hauff, probably still considering the prospect of adding another prize to what was already apparently costing him a lot of money, almost tipped over his golf cart.

Do you blame him?

A COSTLY KISS from two "cool" misses, Betsy Rawls (left) and Mickey Wright who walked away with $8,600 of a $20,000 pot of gold, is experienced by Promoter Dick Hauff who put up the largest sum ever offered women golfers. Miss Rawls won the World's Women's Open at the Mt. Prospect Country club Monday with a five under par 291, one lower than Miss Wright's score.

Park Ridge Beats Palatine; Advances to County Finals

A two-out inning run without benefit of a hit spelled the difference as Park Ridge defeated Palatine, 65, in the third and final playoff game Monday evening at Maine township high school.

The win gave Coach Glen Van Proyan's team, which tied Palatine at 12-2 in league play, the ninth district championship and the right to enter Saturday's Cook county finals against Skokie on the Recreation park diamond in Arlington Heights.

Monday's game was necessitated by Palatine winning Saturday's opening playoff contest, 4-3, and Park Ridge's Mel Tierney post coming back to outsluge Palatine, 8-3.

PALATINE PITCHER Jack Nelson, breezing along with a 4-1 lead, saw himself removed from the game in the sixth when he lost his normally tough control around the fringes of the plate, walking three and allowing a single and double.

The sixth began innocently enough when Mike Rowlee popped to Bill Baumrucker at first. Then Park Ridle got going. Nelson, who lasted just two innings Sunday, walked both Bill Wagner and Bob Kunkel. Ron Michaelson doubled down the right field line, scoring Wagner and cutting Palatine's lead to 4-2.

Pinch hitter Jim Hammann drew the third walk of the inning off Nelson, loading the bases. Bruce Murdock tied the game with a single to center scoring Kunkel and Michaelson. This brought Palatine Coach Claude Bailey from the bench and the signal for Don White to come on in relief.

WITH BAILEY yelling that Park Ridge might try a squeeze, Van Proyen's team did just that. Cliff Ianella laid down a perfect bunt and White was caught flat footed as Hammann scored and Ianella beat out the bunt.

Palatine had its chance in the eighth when they loaded the bases with one down on walks to Bill Phillips and Don Hicks and White being hit by a Jim Humay pitch. Humay, coming back after only one day's rest, got Lenny Rose to strike out swinging. He did the same to Bob Barr to end the threat. The pitch that hurt was a hard wide one which Barr swung at and couldn't reach. Had Barr let the ball go by, Humay would have been behind 3-1 on the batter.

AFTER TWO were down in the eighth, Park Ridge scored what proved to be the winning run. Ianella walked and then stole second. He went to third on a wild pitch and when Bill Dietrich failed to come up with the ball on Don Humay's bounder, Ianella scored.

Palatine didn't play dead in the ninth. After Dietrich took a called third strike, Harvey Foster walked. Fred Barr singled Foster to third after Foster advanced to second on a wild pitch by Humay. Bill Baumruiker flied to Ianella in left, and Foster came home without a play. Barr then advanced to second when Bill Phillips walked. Don Hicks grounded hard to Rowlee at first, who came up with the ball and beat Hicks to the bag to end the game.

Post 690's big in ing was the second when they counted three times. Baumrucker led off with a single. After Phillips forced abaumrucker at second, Ken O'Rilley was safe on Murdock's error. Nelson sacrificed his two teammates along. Wagner's muff on Rose's ground ball permitted Phillips and O'Rilley to score. Bob Barr walked, advancing Rose to second from where he scored on Dietrich's single.

Recreation Park Site of Finals

by BOB FRISK

For the second straight year Recreation Park will be the scene of the Cook County Jr. Legion baseball finals.

Four of the finest legion outfits in this area will convene at Arlington's popular diamond Saturday to kick off four—or possibly five days of tournament baseball.

To the winner goes a trip to Murphysboro, Ill., Aug. 7-10, for the state finals.

Sponsored by Merle Guild Post 208 of Arlington Heights, the 1959 double elimination tourney will get under way Saturday at 1 p..m with Park Ridge's Mel Tierney Post battling Skokie.

In the second contest Saturday either Berwyn of the fifth district or Stanley Sullivan Post of the fourth district will meet Calumet City of the eighth.

THE CONCLUDING tilts on both Saturday and Sunday's card are tentatively set to open at 3:30 p.m.

Sunday, the two losers of Saturday's contests will meet with the two winners also tangling.

When the firing is over Sunday afternoon, one team will have been eliminated in the double elimination. Monday at 5 p.m. the only unbeaten team in the tourney will clash with the victor in the two losers' clash of Sunday.

ANOTHER GAME is set for 5 p.m. Tuesday with a deciding contest, if necessary, set for 5 p.m. Wednesday. A team must drop two games before dropping out of the tourney.

Last year Skokie entered the Cook County tourney as a heavy favorite off its showing in high school ball. But the Skokie nine dropped two straight contests with Oak Park eventually edging Park Ridge for the championship.

Park Ridge will carry the ninth district hopes in the '59 tourney. With Glen Van Proyen in his first year as head coach, Park Ridge tied Palatine for the district title, then knocked off Claude Bailey's nine two games to one in a playoff series.

JIM HUMAY, most valuable player in the state high school baseball tournament last spring, and Bob Kunkel handle Park Ridge's pitching chores with Kunkel developing into a capable starter. Used infrequently in high school ball due to the presence of the talented Humay and fireballing Rich Peterson, Kunkel just needed the work to bring out his best efforts.

Saturday evening at 7 p.m., following the first day of action, the county finalists will be honored at a banquet put on by Merle Guild Post 208 at Old Orchard Country club.

Refreshments will be served at all the tournament games and a loud speaker will be in service. In addition, a fence will be added to the outfield at distances from home plate specified by the tourney officials.

Park Ridge Falls, 4-3, To Palatine

Palatine, scoring three times in the first inning, blasted Park Ridge, 4-3, in the opening playoff game Saturday on the Maine high school diamond.

Don White was credited with the win and Jim Humay was charged with the loss, his second this year to Palatine.

Humay created his own downfall by walking the first two Palatine batters, Lenny Rose and Bob Barr. Bill Dietrich singled Rose home. Harvey Foster's single scored Barr. With two down, Bill Phillips walked, sending Foster to second from where he scored on Ken O'Rilley's single.

Park Ridge got a run back in the fourth on a single by Ken Buccieri and Bob Barr's error of Bruce Merdock's grounder.

Coach Gen Yan Proyen's Park Ridge team tallied twice in the sixth to tie the score. Kunkel and Michaelson both singled. After Buccieri fouled to Foster, Murdock singled both men home.

Palatine's winning run came in the seventh when Bob Barr singled, took second on a wild pitch, and scored on Dietrich's single.

All-Star Tilt In 26th Year

In 1934, when the Chicago Tribune sponsored for charity a football game between college seniors graduated that year, and the Chicago Bears, champions of professional football, few would have predicted its continued success.

Yet this football spectacle, the All-Star game, will be played Aug. 14 in Soldiers' Field for the 26th consecutive year. The game survived World War II, with its handicap of insufficient material. It has contributed more than $2,000,000 to Chicago Charity.

In 1934 the game was played before 79,000. On Aug. 14 the crowd in Soldiers' Field will be augmented by millions watching television on more than 130 stations and hearing it by radio on more than 500 stations.

22 Athletes In Pan-Am Preview

A spectacular sports exhibition program featuring 22 top athletes will be held in the Loop the first week of August as a preview of the Pan American Games.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

Locally and in the Chicago area this has been a great summer for sports both from the standpoint of spectators and participants. The weather has been ideal and the program of events outstanding with August the biggest month of them all.

Highlighting the August schedule are the All-Star football game between the college stars of 1958 and the world champion Baltimore Colts of the National Professional League. The Stars are working out at Northwestern and appear to have the personnel to make a great showing. However, this year's pro team will be one of the finest and we think they will win. Overshadowing even the All-Star game will be the Pan-American games near the end of the month starting on Aug. 27 and extending through Sept. 7 (Labor Day weekend). The track events will be held at Soldier Field and on the basis of the class of the American competitors in the U. S. A. — Russia met two weeks ago in Philadelphia, fans are in for a great event.

Palatine Has Finest Legion Team

LOCALLY ARLINGTON'S American Legion Post will be host August 1-4 to the Cook County finals in Junior Legion baseball in a four-team round robin tournament. At this writing the entry from this district was uncertain. Park Ridge and Palatine played to a tie in the final league standings and in a playoff Palatine won the first game 4-3 and Park Ridge the second 8-3 with the clincher played Monday night. Park Ridge won this game, 6-5, and will compete in the county competition. Palatine has had the finest Legion team in the history of the sport in the community and, all the boys will be available to play on the high school team in Palatine's first year in the North Suburban Conference next spring. The major part of Coach Claude Bailey's fine squad will be juniors next school year.

Derby Day Finishes in Tie

WE ALWAYS KNEW THAT Bill Dietrich was a money player. He and his partner, Tom Sweazy, came through to tie for first place in the annual Derby Day competition at Inverness with Phil Prassas and Ted Fleming. Third place went to the team of Way Thompson and Bob Hamor. Dietrich and Fleming are leaders on the sports promotional committee at Inverness and their fine playing promoted themselves into the big money in this 36 hole classic. Rain the weekend of the tournament caused postponement of the second day of play to last Saturday. It is surprising what a few heavy rains in succession can do to a golf course. Inverness changed back to the lush green fairways of May and the high handicap players who had depended on 100 yards of roll on poorly hit drives were not as great a factor in the tournament as usual.

Entering a Horse in a Race Is Like a Poker Game

by BOB BUCHANAN

Entering a horse in a major stakes race is like a poker game.

Unlike poker, the stakes for which horse owners play could keep many poker games going for months.

When a poker player draws his first cards, the horse owner is doing the same thing. Let's use Saturday's $100,000 added Arlington Futurity for two-year-olds as an example. "The first cards he draws" is a check for $125 to nominate his horse. A total of 408 horses paid this fee before Nov. 1, 1958 in order to race Saturday. This is before the horse is even two-years-old and has seen his first race.

When the poker player makes his discard and draws for the second time, this is when horse owners are making a final eligibility payment of $250. Like most poker players, most owners will stay around for this round. At least 266 did for the Futurity.

As is the case in most poker games, late comers are eligible. They (horse owners) don't have to equal the pot but they do have to cough up $7,500 10 days before the Futurity. (Supplementary fee in the Arlington Classic was $15,000). The owner of Bally Ache, a promising two-year-old, paid this fee to enter his horse.

After all the cards have been dealt, the game gets down to cases. This is true in horse racing. As the hands are bet, so horse owners must put up $500 to pass the entry box. Only 10 or 12 horses are expected to pass the box.

When the final bets are made, the horse owner Saturday will be paying $1,000 additional to put his horse in the starting gate.

When the cards are shown or the race is run, the winner will pick up all the chips. This is pure profit for a poker player. For a good many horse owners, it's doubtful that even a $100,000 added purse will name him a winner. ($100,000 is added by the Arlington Park Jockey club to nominating fees, eligibility payments, supplementary entry fees, entry box fees, and starting gate fees making some purses run as high as $160,000 to $170,000).

A good example is Calumet Farms, America's leading stables. Generally, 20 nominations are made annually for their two-year-olds at Arlington Park. Yet, only one two-year-old has gone, to the post in the last eight or nine years.

Purchasing a two-year-old, based upon breeding and conformation, for $70,000 even though the horse has never raced, is not uncommon.

Establishment of the $100,000 added Arlington and Washington Park Futurities through the efforts of Arlington Park's executive director, Benjamin F. Lindheimer, has given two-year-old racing horses and the future of American thoroughbred racing a shot in the arm by helping owners to recoup their investment. These futurities give owners incentive to build tomorrow's racing greats.

Stakes racing always has been a gamble ever since the days of George Washington and Thomas Jefferson when they held races with various opponents to determine whose horse was the fastest.

Kamps' Signs Scores Easy League Win

Long hitting Marv Kamps continued to pace his Kamps Signs team in Old Orchard scratch play by offsetting three starting bogies with consecutive birds on the 540 yard 15th hole and 35 yard 16th hole. Marv then made his pars o nthe 17th and 18th for a big match point low ball and teamed with Mike Graft and Kuerten to score the season's first whitewash. The victims brushed off the course were sad components of the Arlingtno Rest Home team.

Fred Steinken took matters into his own hands and proceeded to make sure he was a Paddock entree by shooting eight pars and a bogie for his 36. Fred hit six greens in his round and bogied the sixth hole when he missed the green with his second and two putted. Steinken's efforts and Big Bill Hugo (39) keep the elite McLennon Tile quintet in first place by an eight point margin. The McLennon men helped settle the Webber brushmen by a 6-2 score. Best ball for the Webber painters was Bob Blessings (37) that contained a bogey on No. 3 and No. 6. The sixth was giving almost every player a hard time.

TUTOR DAN MUSSER gave forth a fine 36 for his effoorts but he couldn't contain the Roto Mercury power of Wm. Bracken, Bob Hornbostel and Frank Matyas so his Lohr Pharmacy team went down to a 5-3 defeat. The big Driver for the Mercury men was Frank Matyas who birdied the 485 yard 5th hole.

Esther Foley Gets Most Unusual Nod

by BOB BUCHANAN

Putting is an individual art. Golf fans who followed the lady pros around the Mt. Prospect course last weeknd found that true more than ever.

Three young ladies, Marlene Bauer Hagge, Mickey Wright, and Esther Foley, all had unusual ways of performing the art.

Marlene, the first one to use the unorthodox stance five years ago, spreads her feet wide apart and almost uses her club to form a pyramid as she strokes the ball.

Mickey putts normally. It's her method of reading the green which is most unusual. She holds the club high in the air and then sights through the bottom of the shaft with her dominant eye. This tells her which way the green falls.

However, the "most unusual" title must go to Esther Foley, who swings a putter in much the same manner as hitting a croquet ball.

The one big difference is that both thumbs are toward the extremities of the shaft and the right hand is behind the club pushing it.

"Puttin gthis way, there's no backstroke problem," Esther said. "My pro, Eddie Nowak — he's at the Bakersfield (Calif.) country club—taught it to me and he's a real good golfer, shooting in the high 60's."

Oddly enough Mickey Wright picked up her method of sighting from young California golfers and found it to be an excellent help. Mickey only three-putted one of 72 greens in the World's Women's Open tournament.

Esther was asked if hers was a specially built putter. She replied that's "just a standard model."

"If it hadn't been for other odd "Putting this way, there's no had the nerve to do it. Now I'm glad," she remarked.

Asked by a fellow lady pro if a skirt would bother her, Esther retorted that she didn't rightly know but once she got home she sure was going to find out since "I don't like to play tournaments in skirts."

Results This Week in Heights Leagues

Brown, Luber Record No-Hitters in Minors

Arlington's summer baseball leagues are heading down the home stretch now with interest starting to focus on next week's important playoffs.

Rain cut into a good part of the schedule last week but several individuals and teams turned in impressive performances.

Brown of the Minor League Sox twirled a no-hitter in setting down the Blues, 11-2, in Northside Juniors action, and Bob Luber turned in a hitless job as the Buckeyes of the Southside loop topped the Angels, 112.

In the Senior League Spencer of the Browns drove in one run, scored another, and was the winning pitcher in a 2-1 decision over the Lions.

Quackenbush was the winner in the Indians' easy 10-3 conquest of the Bears, and Berg got the decision in the Hawks' 3-1 victory over the Lions.

Jim Murphy twirled two hit ball in an impressive 7-0 Indians' victory over the Redlegs, and Scofield bested Jerry Lind as the Hawks blasted the Redlegs, 10-4.

In the final report the Browns, with T. Staahl on the mound, topped the Bears, 6-4.

In the Varsity League, game information, outside of the scores, was scarce so only the final results can be passed along: Rams 9, Falcons 2; Phillies 11, Falcons 7; Vikings 4, Orioles 3; Eagles 11, Vikings 4; Orioles 8, Phillies 7.

After erupting for eight runs in the first frame, the Yankees and Senators settled down and battled to an 8-8 tie in the American League. Billy Swarthout, Senators' third baseman, had a good day at bat with a homer and two singles while the Yanks' Benny Gow hit a three run homer.

Two-hit pitching by Guy Henken led the Yankees to a 41 win over the Red Sox. Henken whiffed 12.

Musser was the winner as the Senators came back to dump the White Sox, 7-3, and a five run third, keyed by Whitter's triple, sent the Red Sox past the Tigers, 5-4.

Splitdorf bested White in the Athletics' 7-0 decision over the White Sox.

In the National League the game reports were also limited. The Dodgers slipped by the Carinals, 7-6, but the Cards bounced back for a 9-5 triumph over the Pirates.

Jim Jakubiec got the win in the Pirates' 7-6 victory over the Cubs, and the Braves stopped the Giants, 4-1. The Cubs and Giants battled to a 4-4 tie with Grom of the Giants and Ewert and Martin of the Cubs turning in impressive mound stints.

In Southside Juniors play the Spartans continued their winning ways with victories over the Buckeyes and Atmos. Greg Moody hurled a one-hitter in a 22-7 victory over the Buckeyes, and Johnny Nebel slapped a two base hit with one out and the bases loaded in the last inning to give the league leaders an 11-10 win over the Atoms.

The Oaks bounced the Beavers, 13-8, and Taylor got the decision as the Wrens also took the measure of the Beavers, 16-10. The Oaks had no trouble disposing of the Atoms, 30-2.

McDougall fanned ten and allowed only two hits in the Padres' 13-4 triumph over the Wrens, and Kasl tossed a one hitter in the Padres' 6-2 decision over the Angels.

Horcher and McNamara blasted triples as the Robins rocked the Bisons, 24-3, in the Northside Juniors league, and Kushner's grand slam homer wasn't enough as the Millers topped the Gulls, 6-5.

The Larks held on to stop the Blues, 11-7, and the Owls erupted for 17 runs on just four hits in a 17-3 victory over the Bisons.

Shawhan did the pitching and Langhout was the hitting star as the Badgers decisioned the Sox, 7-3, and John Vetter and Scott Guilfoil had three hits each as the Owls topped the Gophers, 15-7.

A nine run third inning, with Hall slapping a homer, was enough for the Gulls in an 11-6 victory over the Larks.

Price and Christensen supplied the offensive power as the Huskies crushed the Solons, 15-6, in Southside Intermediate play, and the Ravens scored three times in the first and third, then added an insurance run in the fourth in downing the Stars, 7-2. Hagenbach had two homers and a triple for the Ravens.

The Seals had no trouble with the Dons, taking them to the tune of 27-6, and the Ravens, with Habenbach once again the team leader, edged the Huskies, 6-5.

Spence got the win on a one-hitter as the Huskies pounded out ten hits, adding seven runs in the fourth, in an 11-1 triumph over the Rangers. Steve Christiansen had a homer and two singles for the winners.

Down picked up the win in the Seals' 16-7 conquest of the Rangers, and the Rangers and Terriers engaged in a freescoring affair with the Rangers coming out on top, 15 1.

Steve Coates hit a homer with two on to power the Terriers to a 10-9 win over the Solons and he also picked up the mound triumph.

In the Northside Intermediate division Pat Hawley fanned 14 and the Redbirds edged the Doves, 1-0, and Borgen got the win as the Hornets stopped the Colonels, 9-6.

In the final games the Colonels topped the Mohawks, 6-4; the Lancers bounced the Bruins, 6-4; the Comets blanked the Redbirds, 140; the Broncs edged the Hornets, 10-9, with Ungaro getting the win; and the Mohawks scouted the Doves, 19-8.

Park Ridge Evens Playoff Series

Park Ridge evened the series Sunday by belting out 15 hits in an 8-3 triumph over Palatine tn the Palatine high school diamond.

Jack Nelson started on the hill for Palatine and after giving up single runs in the first and second was blasted for four runs in the third before Bill Dietrich was called in to pitch.

Meanwhile, Bob Kunkel scattered nine hits in receiving credit for the win. Kunkel, after allowing a first inning run, racked up seven goose eggs before Palatine scored its final two runs in the last inning.

The crowning blow was six consecutive Park Ridge hits in the third. They were a single by Jim Humay, single by Mike Rowlee, a double by Bill Wagner, good for two runs, a single by Kunkel for another run, and Ron Michaelson's single. Dietrich came on but the first man, Ken Buccieri, singled driving in the fourth run. Ianella's double play ball got Dietrich out of further trouble.

Jim Humay's single and Wagner's double netted Park Ridge its first run but Palatine tied the count in its half of the inning when Rose led off with a walk, advanced on Bill Dietrich's single and scored on Harvey Foster's single.

After Park Ridge had advanced the score to 8-1, Post 690 scored two runs in the bottom of the ninth. Don Seidel got a pinch hit single. Fred Barr also singled. MacAfee's pinch single scored Seidel and Rose's sacrifice fly to right scored Barr.

MP Legion Nine Triumphs, 5-0

Mt. Prospect's Jr. Legion team blanked Franklin Park, 5-0, in its final game of the ninth district game.

Backing Fritz Peterson's effective three-hit pitching with an eleven-hit attack, Mt. Prospect was sparked by the hitting of George Bork, Gerry Haenggi, and Fred Boedeker.

The trio had two hits each with Bork and Boedeker both driving in two runs.

Art Cameron To Captain Stavros Entry

James Stavros entry in the Paddock Classic Traveling League has been completed for the new season slated to begin next month, with Art Cameron, Jr., of Arlington Heights, serving as captain.

The squad representing Jeffery Lanes of Wheeling, and sponsored by James Stavros, Wheeling township Democratic committeeman, will average, 949. All of the teams in the Paddock Classic will be built to 950 averages this year.

OTHER MEMBERS of the team include George Stone of Glenview, Hector Healy of Northbrook, Bill Harris of Wheeling, Buck Perkins of Woodstock, and Bud Cecconi of Prospect Heights. Perkins is new to the high flying loop and is carrying a 199 average, based on competition in four different leagues last season, including both North End and Northwest traveling loops.

Captains of other teams in the Paddock Classic Traveling League are requested to turn in their team rosters as early as possible for promotion purposes. These rosters should be mailed to sports promoter Bob Paddock at Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, no later than the end of next week.

NEW SCHEDULE for the coming season is slated to be drawn up within 2 weeks with competition expected to start near the end of August, according to loop president, Ward Siewert.

4 Meadows Homers Fail To Stop Glenview Nine

Four Rolling Meadows home runt, two each by Ken Peters and Mike Murawski, couldn't offset five first inning errors as Glenview defeated Rolling Meadows, 9-8, in the first round of Little League district playoffs Tuesday night at Lindheimer field.

Following the five first inning miscues which netted Glenview two runs, the visitors picked up four more on the third, mainly on the strength of Terry Skocher's double which cleared the bases.

Skocher's home run in the fifth with two teammates aboard gave him six RBI's for the night.

Rolling Meadows got rolling when Murawski hit a solo home run. Peters then homered in the fifth and after Larry Simms got a pinch single, Murawski bashed out his second home run, also in the fifth.

In the bottom of the sixth, Glenview got a scare when Ken Peters socked a grand slam home run. Scoring ahead of Peters were Ray Prucha who was safe on an error, Eddie Gilreath who doubled and Ricky Ulbrich who walked.

Murawski then came to the plate but Glenview wanted no part of him, walking him on four straight pitches, before ending the game.

Score by innings:

| | | | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Glenview | 204 | 030 | — | 9 | 6 | 1 |
| Rolling Meadows | 000 | 134 | — | 8 | 8 | 7 |

The Loop's first and only public ticket office for the Pan American games was officially opened last week as a public service by the State Street Council in the main lobby of Chicago Federal Savings, 100 N. State st., at the corner of State and Washington.

Tickets for all 27 events will be sold, both reserved and general admission seats. Information on the games is available with full schedule of events and locations. The ticket center, decorated with miniature flags of the Pan Am countries, is just inside the main entrance of Chicago Federal.

Sigwalt, Bluebirds Keep Pace

The Bruns and Payne Bluebirds defeated the Owls, 28-8, Sunday to remain tied for first place.

Tom Waldron, besides being the winning pitcher, also homered. But he was bettered by Gordon Granger who had two home runs and in turn he was bettered by Jim Wilson who had three circuit blows. Herb Born was credited with a fine defensive game for the winners.

Sigwalt shut out the American Legion team, 14-0, to remain tied with the Bluebirds. George Mass and Lou Winslow each had three hits for the winners. Don Dahlquist was the winning pitcher, allowing only two hits. In two innings, Dahlquist threw only three pitches.

The Garden Liquors Saints beat the Hawks, 24-13. For the Saints, Lou Stevens had four for six and Ron Feiereisel had five for five. Art Mueller was credited with the win.

Standings:

Deadline Nears For Paddock's Golf Tourney

To be or not to be—that was the question.

To be or not be in the Paddock tournament has been uppermost in the minds of hundreds of twilight league golfers throughout the area with 60 men selected to compete by this Saturday ni[illegible], August 1.

From now on the comparison to the Gaelic leader's famous speech will be wrong, for the good that men do in golf tournaments lives after them, while the evil is quickly forgotten.

FIRST PLACE teams of 15 twilight leagues will be eligible for the big Paddock Publications Inter-Leage Handicap golf tournament Sunday, August 16, at Glendale country club. Initial tee-off according to foresomes that will be published in the paper August 13, will start at 11 a.m. Golfers will be grouped according to ability with the best duffers shooting first and other foresomes following immediately thereafter until all 15 groups have taken the field.

Up for grabs are the large traveling team trophy, 12 individual medals and a dozen golf balls, the latter award to be given to low individual net. The tournament is a handicap affair with meet sponsors using 80 per cent handicap based on a golfer's five best nights during the current league season.

Deadline date for all league secretaries to turn in their official entry blanks, plus cash for greens fees to the tune of $16.00, is Saturday, August 8. Publications is hoping, though, many secretaries will turn in their reports by Tuesday morning of next week for promotion purposes.

LAST MINUTE substitutions in the lineup can be made up to the time of tee-off, but league officers, who have the responsibility of selecting the actual participants, should attempt to secure substitutions of approximately equal playing ability with any missing golfers necessary.

First Annual DeMolay Golf Tourney Aug. 3

On August 3 the First Annual De Molay Golf tournament will be held at the Rob Roy Country club.

This tournament is being arranged by Prospect Chapter, International Order of De Molay in Mt. Prospect and three other chapters have also entered — Excalibur, Skokie and Austin.

At the present time about 30 De Molay members have entered and it is expected that the final entries will total close to 50.

Numerous prizes have been donated and will be awarded strictly on a handicap basis.

As a special incentive to these boys, the grand old timer of golf, Chick Evans, has expressed hopes of being present when the boys tee off at 9 a.m.

Correct Your Slice; Cut Down Your Score

(This is the tenth in a series of golf columns by Chuck Pedersen, Class A PGA professional at Rolling Green country club.)

Slicing is a common fault among the average golfers. Correcting the slice will cut your score down five to ten strokes. The first common fault is in the grip.

First of all, move your left hand more on top of the shaft so that at least three knuckles show. Place right hand so that "V" formed by thumb and forefinger points to right shoulder. Keep the left hand especially firm throughout the swing. Take a square stance (toes on line parallel to target). If the slice persists, use a slightly closed stance (right foot drawn back).

YOU START the clubhead back low, keeping the right elbow close to your hip throughout the swing. At the top of the back swing keep your left wrist straight. Also be sure the right wrist is under the shaft. Start your downswing with a hip turn, swinging around your head as a fixed point.

The slice is caused by hitting with an open club face and/or by hitting from outside in. A correct grip will eliminate open club face; hip turn on downswing will correct outside in swing.

CORRECTING THE HOOK

In your grip, move your left hand more on the front side of the shaft so that only one or two knuckles show. Place the right hand so that "V" points toward the chin. Grip more firmly with your left hand than your right. In your stance, be sure it is square or even slightly open. BE SURE the ball is played off your left heel.

YOU START your backswing without breaking your wrists and guard against picking up your clubhead with your right hand. Avoid a flat backswing by starting the clubhead straight back from the ball. Do not roll your wrists during your backswing and try to keep your left arm straight throughout the swing.

The reason why you hook is because the club face is closed to the direction it is following. If the clubface is especially closed as to reverse natural lo't of the club, a smothered hook is the result. "Hooking" grip and too far inside backswing closes the club face. A correct grip and a fairly upright backswing will minimize your hook.

AN OPEN CLUB FACE, as illustrated here by Chuck Pedersen, causes a slice. A correct grip will eliminate the open club face.

Mt. Prospect Course Not A 'Patsy' Girls Find Out

Mt. Prospect country club, the course everyone thought the gals would tear apart, showed what a little toughening can do.

This was not the same course that the evening leagues played with ease Most every tee was moved back 20 yards. Pins were not in favorable spots. The roughs, especially around the greens, were let grow. Fifty sand traps were added.

The best girl golfers in the world showed that the 6,421-yard Mt. Prospect country club layout was not a "patsy" as had been believed.

True tournament winner, Betsy Rawls, broke the course women's record with a five under par 69 Saturday. But only 22 of the more than 150 rounds played in the four-day tourney broke par.

Three shot 70's. One had a 71. This means only five rounds were three below par or more. Eight shot 72's and nine 73's. Based on men's par, only four had sub-par rounds.

Following last Thursday's postponement of first day activities, Friday's scores zoomed. Only Louise Suggs with a one under 73 was able to master the course.

The rough close to the small greens made it quite difficult to hit there and then roll onto the greens. The girls had to have pin-point accuracy to hit the greens and too often it wasn't there.

Friday nearly all the gals were putting short, even those who had seen their opponents putt before them on the same greens in the same direction. By Sunday a good many women pros were still putting short.

As Betsy Rawls said in claiming her winning record, "This is a very deceiving course. I really had to struggle."

Wonder how the men would do over this course?

VFW Golf League

Our apologies to Joe Urick for the error on his score last week-but even that could not stop the Walls Team from adding another 4½ points to bring their total to 63½ points this week. They are 11½ points ahead of the second place Jones team. We'll have the cheering section out for Dahl, DeRosa, Urick, McDougall, and Chartrand—the Walls Team—when they play in the Paddock Tournament.

Sam Rauworth, of the Hogans took low gross honors with 36 3- net 33. Andy Graczyk and Red Koelling split the honor of low net 32. Vacations are nice but they are wrecking our attendance as there were 10 men absent Monday night. Have fun, Mac, you're next on the list.

Weather Hampers Wayside League

Rain hampered play Wednesday evening, July 2, at Chevy Chase in the Wayside-Colette Golf League. It didn't rain until after everyone had teed off but it did send some of the less hardy players back to the clubhouse before play was completed.

Quadriga Mfg. Co. could gain only ½ point over Arlington Milk in their race for the chance to compete in the Paddock tournament. Quadriga won all but one match from Garden Liquor to walk off with a 5-2 victory. Frank Plennert did all the scoring for the liquor store by getting low net while Quadriga's points were gained by Oscar Dolleslager, Bob Ulbrich, Sr., Dick Ulbrich and Stan Bailey.

Continental Can won by a 6-1 margin over slipping Lauterburg & Oehler. Bob Wirth with a 31 net was top man while Chuck Cronin, Jim Cronin and Bob Paglai formed the winning combination. Chuck Cronin's 39 gross was the league's best score for the evening. Ed Coyle counted L & O's lone point.

JIM'S SERVICE Station showed plenty of power by overcoming Catino Bldrs. 5½-1½. Tom Barrett. Jack Rafferty, Irwin Fromm and Bill Hickey made up Jim's winning group. Jordan Italia and Jack Boland were the only two to do any good or Catino.

Arlington Milk continued to lead the league by snatching a 4½-2½ win from Roll King. Jim Stahlhut and Howie Jack tied for low net with 34's. Dick Michalski, Mert Taylor and Larry Taylor pitched in for the dairy's points while Roll King cashed in on Merle Kingsley and Bob Ulbrich, Jr. sharpshooting.

Low net went to Tom Barrett and Bob Wirth with their 31's. Birdies were recorded by Tom Barrett on 6, Bob Wirth on 14 and Tom Waldron on 3. Waldron's birdie came on a 140 yard 8 iron shot into the cup.

Two-Ball Play

On Sunday August 2, 1959 the wives of members of the St. Raymond's Twilight Golf League will attempt to duplicate the golfing prowess of the women professional golfers who recently played at Mt. Prospect C. C. They will attempt to demonstrate the first hand lessons they observed during the tournament, in the second annual Husband-Wife two ball foursome, to be held at Mt. Prospect C. C. at 2:00 P.M. Husbands, beware, because they will prove that golf is not strictly a man's game.

Webber Paints Holds Lead

Webber Paints regained a 1½ point lead in the Friday night league at Arlington country club by virtue of their 6½-½ point win over Arlington Furniture.

The win dropped Wheeling Lumber out of first after only a week. Russ Knight, Rog Hertel, Lou Ruggio, and S. McCandless posted wins for the Paints while Cider Vogt gained another ½ point in his match with Bud Haut.

The Grigsby Co. and Wheeling Lumber teams are now in a tie for second place. Though both teams won their matches, their 5½ and 4½ point totals could not match the Webber total.

THE GRIGSBY CO. team accumulated its 5½ points with wins by Wallace Wilkerson, Maury Weil, Dick Burke, and a half point by Bob Sabin in his split with Al Steingraber.

Grigsby will meet Webber Paints Friday as the league plays a position night to determine the league representatiev for the Paddock tournament. Friday's golf will be followed by a golf movie and a business meeting. Sandwiches and refreshments will be served.

Low gross and low net went to Ray Noble with a 38-6-32.

Warren Helps Betsy Win Golf Title

The first time that 15-year-old Warren VanderVoort caddied for a "big name" pro, he hit the jackpot.

The clubs he carried through the 72-hole World Women's Open belonged to Betsy Rawls, who walked away with a 291 total and $6,500 first prize money.

Warren, who lives at 408 S. Na-Wa-Ta in Mt. Prospect, said he suggested the club most of the time and when there was doubt that Betsy usually discussed the situation with him.

Betsy called Warren "a gem of a caddy."

Warren himself shoots in the high 80's, and was a member of Prospect high's freshman golf team last spring.

All the caddies at the Mt. Prospect country club, where Warren normally caddies, were congratulating him all day Tuesday.

One of them was his 13-year-old brother, Gary, who caddied for Fay Crocker, third place finisher.

Betsy on Her Way to Winning Golf's Richest Purse

DRIVING — APPROACHING — CHIPPING — PUTTING

Betsy Rawls Wins Richest Golf Tourney by 1 Stroke

by BOB BUCHANAN

A willow leaf can mean $4,000 difference and it did to Betsy Rawls Monday as she won Dick Hauff's World Women's Open at the Mt. Prospect country club on her way to becoming the richest feminine golfer in any one year.

Betsy, who fired a five under par 291 over the 72 holes, including a record 69 Saturday, picked up $6,500—largest purse any woman has won—by finishing one stroke ahead of her roommate, Mickey Wright.

Added to her previous 1959 earnings of $13,154, Miss Rawls now earned $19,654, just $581 short of Marlene Bauer Hagge's 1956 record earnings of $20,235. The record may be broken in Betsy's next big tournament a week from now in Seattle, Wash.

Miss Rawls, tied with Beverly Hanson for the lead going into Monday's final 18 holes, picked up two strokes on only one hole against Miss Wright. That was the sixth hole where a willow tree played an important part.

BETSY, ONE STROKE behind Miss Hanson and Miss Wright, put her drive across the creek but under a limb of the willow tree on the dogleg right hole. Her second shot, a six iron, nicked the leaves of the tree. It slowed Betsy's ball down just enough so that it rolled on green 15 feet away from the pin. Had the ball not touched the leaves, it more than likely would have overshot the green. Betsy, who had consistently been missing the 10-12 footers Sunday and early Monday, dropped this one for a birdie three.

Micky landed in about the same position but she hit a limb of the tree and took a bogie five, giving a stroke lead to the leaders, Beverly Hanson and Miss Rawls.

Mickey, two strokes behind Betsy with the final nine to go, evened the affair on the 11th with a birdie four. From that point, Mickey, longest driver among the women pros at 250 yards, led or was tied until the final green.

IN FACT, by parring the 13th and birdieing the 14th, Mickey took a two stroke lead over all comers. Betsy took a bogie on the 13th by putting her drive into a bunker to the right of the green.

Miss Rawls just missed an eagle three on the 15th by a few inches while Miss Wright missed a five-footer on the 15th to take a par five and drop a stroke.

The match became even on the 16th, Mickey's nemesis green, when she missed another short one for a four while Betsy was putting her second shot within three inches for a par.

BOTH GIRLS parred No. 17. Miss Rawls finished with a par four on the final hole. Mickey, in the threesome behind Betsy, needed a birdie three to win, a par to tie.

Mickey put her drive out 240 yards. She dug on her second shot, sending the ball into a sand trap in front of the green. The ball rolled back into an indentation. She blasted out but the ball only reached the edge of the green. Her 15-foot putt to tie lipped the pin and bounced two feet beyond. Mickey sank the extra stroke and then was awarded $2,100 second place money.

Fay Crocker lost her last chance on the 17th hole when her putt for a birdie missed the hole by an inch and then she missed the return putt to take a bogie five. She still claimed $1,400 third prize money.

MISS HANSEN, two strokes behind at the end of nine, lost one stroke on both the 12th and 13th and then two strokes with a bogie on the 14th to drop out contention and into fifth place with a 296 score.

Louise Suggs, most consistent golfer of the tournament with two 73's, a 74 and a 75, found the 14th and 15th tough as she lost a stroke to put her four back. Louise finished the day with a 75 and 295 score, good for $1,100 fourth prize money.

Miss Rawls failed to let a drive into Weller creek on No. 4 bother her. She put her third shot on green and sank a 17 foot putt for a bogie four.

MICKEY WRIGHT, who played superb golf on most holes, generally had two "nightmares" each 18. Sunday she drove out of bounds on No. 2, took a double bogie six on No. 14 despite one putt, and then recorded her first three putt green of the tourney on No. 16 to get a bogie four. Monday hitting a tree on No. 6 caused her trouble as well as that 16th green again.

Fay Crocker was never in the lead throughout the tournament, yet she remained right on the different leaders' heels. Monday on No. 1, 2, 4, 10, 11, 12, and 16, she was just one stroke off the pace.

Louise Suggs, first day leader, found herself one stroke out after 36 holes as well as 54 holes.

Who Said Women Can't Drive?

Women made their strongest bid this year to challenge the supremacy of men drivers in the Mobilgas Economy Run, capturing two firsts and one second place in the six classes of the event. Mary Davis, shown above with Harry E. Chesebrough, General Manager of Plymouht, astounded observes with her initiative and ability as she personally made emergency repairs to her car following a mishap 50 miles from the finish and won second place, behind another Plymouth in the low price V-8 class. She had been leading all the way with an average of more than 21 miles per gallon when her car struck a deep hole at a grade crossing, damaging the tie-rod. She sprinted five blocks to a dealership, obtained a new part, returned to her car and installed it herself. A fuel penalty for the 28 minutes she lost cost her the victory to Pierce Venable, who averaged 21.15 miles per gallon to give Plymouth its third consecutive win. But Miss Davis won the admiration of all men drivers and special congratulations from Plymouht's Chief Executive.

Toll Evasion Is Now Misdemeanor

PART 5

Toll evasion on the Illinois Toll Highway became a misdemeanor last week, punishable by a fine of $5 to $100 for a first offense, in a law signed by Gov. Stratton.

Known as House Bill 591, by Rep. W. C. Harris, the law amended the Toll Highway act by making it a misdemeanor not only to use the highway without paying the toll, but also attempts to use counterfeit tickets or coupons.

A SECOND law, House Bill 592, increases the penalty for a second violation within one year to $25 to $200, and for a third to $100 to $300.

Gov. Stratton vetoed, however, Senate Bill 686 by Sen. Arrington, amending the same law to require competitive bidding in the purchasing of supplies and services by the Toll authority. His veto message said:

"This bill provides a purchasing procedure for the Toll Highway commission similar to that of the Illinois Purchasing Act. The present act gives adequate protection to the public interest. The commission does not expend money derived from taxes and is thus different from the agencies which are subject to the Purchasing act."

HE SIGNED House Bill 1166 by Rep. Lloyd Harris providing that except as provided under the Toll Highway act, no commercial establishment for serving motorists shall be located within the right-of-way of publicly-owned or leased land, except telephone service "where necessary for the safety and welfare of motorists." # Extreme Care Urged In Use Of 2,4-D Weed Killer

Farmers and home owners using 2,4-D weed killer may severely injure other broadleaf crops and ornamental plants if they do not use extreme care when applying this useful but deadly chemical.

Tomatoes, snap beans, soybeans, melons, grapes, roses, chrysanthemums, redbud trees and birch trees are especially sensitive to 2,4-D. In some cases they are more susceptible to injury than the common broadleaf weeds. Plants may be injured or killed if they are sprayed directly with 2, 4-D or if exposed to its mist or vapor, according to M. B. Linn, University of Illinois plant pathologist.

Injury may also be caused by percolation of 2, 4-D through the soil to the roots of the plants.

PLANTS MAY BE exposed to injury in several ways. A sprayer operator may overshoot the weeds along a roadside or fence row and hit the adjacent crop. Or plants may be exposed to mist when the sprayer is not correctly operated.

Trees, shrubs, flowers and garden vegetables may be injured by the vapor when lawns, parks, cemeteries and other grass areas are sprayed with high-volatile esters. This injury may occur a considerable distance from where the spraying was done.

Exposure through the soil may occur if excessive amounts of the chemical are sprayed on the soil close to trees and shrubs. Damage may also be caused by spraying on slopes that permit the sprayed chemical to be carried to the base of the plants by surface water.

TO PREVENT INJURY, University of Illinois research workers make these recommendations:

Plan your spraying operations so that wind and air currents will not carry the weed killer mist in the general direction of susceptible crops.

Do not use the high-volatile esters of 2, 4-D and 2, 4-5-T unless you thoroughly understand the dangers of using them. Do not use any form of these herbicides within one-half mile of sensitive crops, such as tomatoes and grapes.

Use the flooding type of flat-fan spray nozzles, if you are spraying in the vicinity of susceptible crops.

USE A REASONABLY high gallonage of water per acre and as low a pressure as possible—not over 30 pounds. Never try to increase the output of the sprayer by raising the pressure.

Granular formulations of 2,4-D are safer than liquid sprays to use on lawns and other grass areas in the neighborhood of susceptible vegetable and ornamental plants.

A new publication, "Prevent 2, 4-D Injury to Crop and Ornamental Plants," by M. B. Linn, F. W. Slife, and B. J. Butler has just been published by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Copies may be obtained from your County Farm Adviser. (FM

Jugenheimer Named As Assistant Dean

The University of Illinois board of trustees today approved the appointment of Dr. Robert W. Jugenheimer as assistant dean of the College of Agriculture and assistant director of the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station.

The new assignment was recommended by Dean Louis B. Howard of the College of Agriculture and approved by University President David D. Henry. Jugenheimer has been professor of plant genetics in the department of agronomy. The appointment is effective immediately.

As assistant director of the Agricultural Experiment Station, Jugenheimer will work with Associate Director Tom S. Hamilton on the general supervision and coordination of the research projects of the station, which are supported by state, federal and trust funds.

HE WILL ALSO assume some of the administrative responsibilities relative to the participation of the experiment station in research programs of the North Central Agricultural Experiment Station organization.

His work as assistant dean will include supervisory responsibility for the extensive foreign visitor program in the field of agriculture. He will also assist with student recruitment programs and alumni relationship activities.

A native of Iowa, Jugenheimer received his B. S. M. S. and Ph. D degrees from Iowa State University. Before joining the Illinois staff in 1945, he was in charge of corn breeding work at Kansas State College from 1938 to 1944, when he was named corn breeding research director for the Pfister Associated Growers of El Paso, Ill.

IN 1950 JUGENHEIMER served for six months as a special adviser to the Minister of Agriculture in Turkey, and in 1952-53 he served as coordinator of the cooperative hybrid corn program of the Food and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations. Since 1955 he has been chairman of the College of Agriculture's Committee on foreign operations administration programs.

Weeds and Water Of Most Concern To Home Growers

Many home gardeners are fortunate to have "green thumbs." Everything they plant seems to grow vigorously and produce bountiful crops. However, those gardeners who are not so fortunate can still have productive vegetable gardens if they will follow a few recommended practices during this summer.

Adequate watering and control of weeds, insects and diseases are the most important phases of garden care. Watering is particulary necessary during dry weather. Soak the soil about once a week to a depth of five or six inches.

WEEDS, A PERENNIAL problem, are easily controlled by hoeing or cultivation. A two—to four-inch mulch will help to control weeds and also conserve moisture. Weeds harbor insects and diseases and compete with the garden plants for moisture and necessary nutrients.

If it is ever necessary to control weeds in your lawn by applying 2, 4-D, take extreme precautions to see that the spray does not drift. This chemical will kill a number of vegetables and flowers. It is also wise to use the amine form of 2, 4-D rather than the ester form.

Damage Losses From Spraying Can Be Recovered, Says Prof

Persons suffering property damage because of a neighbor's careless crop spraying or dusting can usually collect at least part of the damages.

That's the report from H. W. Hannah, University of Illinois professor of agricultural law. According to Hannah, here are some of the situations where payments have been made:

Livestock killed when they grazed pastures where insecticides containing arsenic had drifted from nearby cotton fields.

Bees killed by insecticides sprayed on nearby vegetable, melon and cotton fields.

Cotton, tomatoes and potatoes damaged by 2, 4-D Drift.

Soybeans damaged by sprays applied to ditch banks in a drainage district.

Turkeys injured when a low-flying crop-dusting plane frightened them.

Cattle poisoned when grasshopper bait was improperly distributed on adjacent pasture where cattle grazed through the fence.

A dairy cattle owner was reimbursed when a potato grower poisened the pasture and the owner had to buy feed.

HANNAH ADDS, HOWEVER, that a person who believes his property has been damaged must prove the damage. He must also establish who caused it, and in most cases prove that the person was negligent, before he can recover his losses.

In damage suits, courts have accepted testimony by agricultural specialists to prove that weed-killing chemicals injured crops. On the other hand, a beekeeper could not recover his losses when the bees were poisoned on hiscity that can be used as evidence neighbor's fields. The court ruled that landowners and persons spraying crops are not responsible for trespassing bees.

Another court ruled that a cattle rancher could not collect damages because he didn't like the crop growing next to his land and feared that sprays might drift to his pastures.

ONE TEXAS COURT established negligence because the property owner suffering crop damage had warned the spray operator about the drift.

Determining who caused the damage may not be easy. When several surrounding farmers have used 2, 4-D it is difficult to find the exact source of the damage.

The path of damage and wind direction provide the the usual method for spotting the damage source. However, the wind velocity that can be used as evidence to establish negligence has not been clearly defined.

ACCORDING TO HANNAH, property owners do not always receive as much compensation as they would like to. Settlements in damage suits are usually figured by estimating the crop value at maturity. Then costs of completing production and marketing of the crop are deducted. Crop yields are estimated on the basis of neighboring fields of about equal yielding ability or on the basis of undamaged areas in the same field.

A property owner suffering damage cannot collect damage for losses he could have avoided. For example, a farmer who failed to cultivate and care for his crop after it was damaged received only about two-thirds of the damage he had claimed.

Down on the Farm

CARL F. MEES

with Your Farm Adviser

The supply of many of the fresh vegetables in this area is ample to take care of most of the demand. This is especially true of sweet corn, cabbage, greenbeans, squash and onions. Another vegetable that is beginning to appear in quantities is the tomato. It is probably one of the most popular among consumers.

Homegrown tomatoes are very tasty and can be used in a variety of ways such as sliced, in salads, cooked alone or cooked with other vegetables.

THE AMOUNT OF vegetables we purchase usually depends on how tasty the first lot is. I recently purchased some sweet corn which I wished later I had never seen. It had not been taken care of properly for it had little or no taste to it.

For corn to be tasty it should either be eaten or cooled within four hours after it is "pulled." Heat will convert the sugar to starch, thus eliminating the sweet taste found in corn. So if you are purchasing corn either from the store or roadside stands insist that you get corn that has been properly handled.

To the stand operators, I would suggest that you take special precautions to sell your customers corn that has been handled properly, for if you do they will be a regular customer of yours.

WHILE SPEAKING ABOUT sweet corn, I recently had an inquiry as how to control earworms in corn. That is the fellow that is present when you pull the husk back. Follow this procedure and you should get good control:

Mix three quarts of 25 per cent D.D.T. emulsion concentrate with two and one-half gallons of a highly refined horticultural oil of a mineral type (viscosity 45 to 90 Saybolt). Then add enough water to make 25 gallons of spray. Apply this amount to an acre of corn. The first application should be made when about 20 per cent of the ears in the field show fresh silk. The crop must be sprayed at three to five day intervals until four or five applications have been made. Apply the spray on the silks.

If you are interested in a publication on "Controlling Earworms in Corn" I would be happy to send you a copy. (FM

Training, Tour, Beehives Listed for Home Bureau

The July 2 meeting of Elk Grove Home Bureau was held at the home of Mrs. Glenn Pasvogel. The lesson for the meeting "Understanding People With Handicaps," was given by the home adviser, Mrs. Claradehl Upham. Mrs. Upham described and explained the many different types of handicaps, both mental and physical, the various degrees of handicaps, and the necessities and care of these people.

Mrs. Harold Heinkel, Mrs. Wilfred Kolpin and Mrs. John Haseman were guests for the evening.

Mrs. Upham announced dates for the various training schools to be held, and local leaders were chosen to attend them. September 25: dried flowers, silk screening, and Christmas crafts will be taught; September 28: the sewing machine clinic will be taught how to repair and clean a sewing machine; September 29: the lesson, "Delusion of Joint ownership" will be taught.

The training school for the December major lesson, "Christmas Toys to Make at Home, Christmas Around the World, and Christmas Games," will be held either the third or fourth week in November. The definite time will be announced in the next news letter.

OCTOBER 6 IS the date of the county tour. It is planned to board the bus in the loop about 8:30 a.m. and drive to Lisle, to visit the Morton Arboretum. From there, members will go to the Spinning Wheel for lunch and a fashion show. After lunch they will visit the Grau Mill and then return to the loop.

For Home Bureau members who wish to remain downtown for the evening, Mrs. Upham will purchase tickets in a block to attend "Cinerama." Members will make their own choice for dining in the evening. Reservations definitely must be in by September 15 at the home bureau office in Des Plaines. The exact location for boarding the bus will be known at the September meeting.

THE ANNUAL Cook County Home Bureau meeting will be January 21, 1960, at the Merchants and Manufacturers club in the Merchandise Mart, Chicago.

Up and Doing 4-H club conducted a bake sale at the July meeting. Pies, cakes, cookies, and bread were baked by the club members.

Mrs. Arthur Busse and Mrs. Clarence Heinkel were the only two members who attended the 3-day homemaker's camp this year. Mrs. Busse gave an account of the activities at camp.

Wednesday, Oct. 14, the Busy Beehive session craft day will resume by meeting at Mrs. Clarence Heinkel's home at 10:30 a.m. The beehive session will meet the second Wednesday of each month.

August being an open month, no activities have been arranged, so the next meeting will be September 23, at the home of Mrs. George Koelper, 8100 N. Washington, Niles. (Fm

Lake County Fair Opens for 5 Days

Lake county's 1959 Fair and 4-H club show opens Wednesday morning, July 29, to continue through Sunday night August 2. This fair promises to be one of the biggest and best ever held in Lake county according to Ray T. Nicholas, Lake county farm adviser.

More exhibit space has been provided to take care of the increased number of exhibits in all departments. Three new buildings have just been completed to house the sheep, domestic and fine arts, flowers, and horticulture, farm crops, and automobiles.

THE LAKE county fair will be held on the Fairgrounds located on route 45 about one-half mile north of route 120. This is about 10 miles west of Waukegan and one and one-half miles east of Grayslake.

The 1959 fair promises plenty of action. The 4-H club horse show with 55 riders is planned for Wednesday afternoon, July 29, starting at 1 p.m. Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m. will be the open class horse show featuring the best horses and riders in northern Illinois.

Saturday's equine attraction is the all-shetland pony show starting at 1 p.m. with ponies and drivers from Illinois, Iowa, and Wisconsin. Each evening at 8 p.m. the famous Calzavara Bar M Ranch Rodeo will give a thrilling performance by daredevil riders.

THE THURSDAY and Friday evening programs will be fireworks extravaganza.

Wednesday, July 29, has been designated 4-H club day. In addition to the 4-H club show that afternoon, nearly 200 top 4-H members will present a stunt and novelty talent show at 8 in the evening on the stage in front of the bleachers.

Saturday evening at 7:15 and Sunday afternoon at 4 will be the huge livestock parades led by purple champion ribbon and blue ribbon winners. In this mile long parade will be seen some of the best livestock in the entire county.

Both beauty and talent will be on display at the Lake county fair in the 1959 fair queen contest. The climax of the queen contest will come Sunday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. when the Fair Queen of 1959 will be crowned. The six bachelor judges will select the queen, not on appearance alone, but on other talents as well.

FOR THOSE who seek thrills, the huge midway with its carnival-like atmosphere will provide more thrills for those who enjoy the lighter vein of the fair.

On Saturday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. the champion and reserve champion steers, wethers, and barrows will be sold to the highest bidders. Other blue ribbon livestock will also be sold in this sale.

On Thursday morning following the Holstein cattle judging, a purebred Holstein dairy calf will be sold to the highest bidder.

The fair will conclude on Sunday night, August 2, with an entertainment program starting at 8 p.m. by 4-H club members and other Lake county entertainers.

Kentucky Bluegrass Is Favorite For Lawn Use

By: JAMES FIZZELL,
Assistant Farm Adviser

There are many different types of grass which are used in lawns. Many of these grasses are quite desirable, and have a use in the lawn. Some are easy to handle, whereas some require almost constant attention.

The most widely planted lawn grasses in this part of the country are Kentucky Bluegrass and its varieties Merion Blue and Delta Blue.

Kentucky Bluegrass is a species which is especially well adapted to this climate, and is often the dominant grass in uncultivated fields. It has a good, dark green color and can easily be identified by its boat-shaped leaf tip. The blue grasses spread by underground rhizomes and thus make a dense sod. A very long-lived perennial, some fields of bluegrass are known to be more than 60 years old.

BLUEGRASS IS primarily a cool weather grass, and in exceptionally hot summers, it may turn brown unless ample water is applied. When properly managed and fertilized, it remains a very attractive green from early spring to very late fall.

The fescues are a large group of grasses in which there are many varieties unsuitable for lawns, and a few varieties which are very useful. The desirable fescues are the fine-leaved varieties, two of the most useful being red fescue and chewing fescue.

Red fescue is a creeping grass which spreads by underground stems. Chewing fescue is a tufted type grass and does not creep. Both the fescues have a bright green color, and are hardy, robust plants. They are especially well adapted to dry, shady places in the lawn.

SOME OF THE tall coarse fescues are being in corporated by seedsmen into inexpensive lawn seed mixtures. These grasses are not desirable in lawns as they do not make a good turf, and are very hard to mow.

Perennial rye grass is often sown in new lawns and incorporated in grass seed mixtures because of its ability to produce a turf quickly. Rye grass has a tough stiff leaf, which makes it hard to mow. It is a coarse grass and does not give a good turf in the summer months. For these reasons it is not usually considered desirable for permanent lawns.

The bent-grasses are considered by many people to be difficult to grow; however, there is one bent grass commonly known as redtop which is quite the opposite. Redtop has an outstanding ability to grow under a variety of conditions. It is one of the best wetland grasses, but also resists drought, and will grow on soils so low in lime that other grasses fail.

It is ideal for use in lawn mixtures where quick establishment is desired, because it germinates rapidly and does not offer extreme competition to slower growing, more permanent grasses.

THE FINE BENT-grasses, Colonial, creeping and velvet, are the grasses commonly used for golf greens. All the bents have given good results in lawn mixtures, and it is when they are grown alone that difficulty occurs.

The heavy turf and close cutting needed to produce the carpet-like effect make lawns of bent very susceptible to disease.

It is necessary to cut pure stands of bent as often as four times a week to maintain the lawn, and the fertilizer and water required can be quite costly. Bent-grasss in mixtures are quite desirable. (Fm

Up and Coming on the Farm

Future Farmers of America — FFA — 4H CLUB

Dainty Darlin's 4-H Report on Meeting

Dainty Darlin's 4-H local achievement was held at the Roselle Methodist Youth Center July 8 with Mrs. Tehl from the Girls of Schaumburg as a guest for the evening. Most of the girls' mothers were present; skirts were judged and proof of the cooking was in the eating.

County achievement was held July 21 at the Higgins school. Seven girls received A in cooking: Ruth Carver, Diane Emmert, Gail McFee, Karen VanderWerf, Carmella Westergaard, Marilyn Zyk and Susan VanderWerf.

RITA JESCHKE, a first year girl, got an A on her skirt; Mary Albers, a third year, girl, got an A on her blouse. Of the 23 club members, 12 are taking first year sewing, three with two or more years. Nineteen are taking cooking, 13 in the first year. Eighteen are enrolled in party a month.

Nancy Okoren and Marilyn Zuk are junior leaders of the group, and adult leaders are Mrs. Harold Albers, Mrs. William Kjar and Mrs. Clarence Carlson, all of Roselle.

Two Area Youths To Participate In Conference

Two North Cook County 4-H Club members are joining more than 350 Illinois 4-H'ers at the State Junior Leadership conference this week. The meeting is being held at the 4-H Memorial camp near Monticello.

Local 4-H'ers attending are Larry Babbit of the Barrington Pioneers and Lynn Rodewald of the Mt. Prospect Busy Fingers. Both were selected for their outstanding leadership in 4-H activites during the past year.

OBJECT OF THE annual conference is to give 4-H members training in leadership. By working on committees and taking part in camp activities, they learn new methods and ideas on leadership to bring back to 4-H members in their counties.

This year's conference program, planned with the council of 10 delegates elected to a continuation committee at the 1958 conference, features a special program of lectures on "Keys To Leadership" by John Banning, associate leader of 4-H Club work and youth programs for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Sports, crafts and tours are also included in the conference program. Illinois 4-H staff members are supervising the event. FM

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Disparity; state of being dissimilar; difference. "It is unfortunate when a husband and wife have a disparity in tastes."

Affront (noun); a deliberately offensive act or word. "Young people soon forget affronts, while older people tend to remember them."

Dullard; a stupid person. "How are we to enlighten these dullards among us?"

Periphery; circuference; perimeter; edge; outer limit. (Pronounce peh-riff-er-ee, accent on second syllable). "We must operate within the periphery of good taste."

Divest; to unclothe; to dispossess (Pronounce die-vest, accent seond syllable). "It is difficult to divest oneself of all vanity."

Industry Zoning No 'Magic Wand'

Zoning farm and prairie land for industrial development isn't a magic wand that automatically attracts industry, according to the experts.

"Zoning property doesn't bring industry. Industry picks the land," says Andrew J. Dallstream, chairman of the Cook county zoning board of appeals.

HE AND OTHER county officials repeatedly emphasized that point at hearings last week as several suburbs stepped forward demanding more unincorporated land near their borders be set aside for industry.

Typical was this bluntly acknowledged comment by Robert Atcher, village president of Schaumburg Center: "We need industry to help with the tax load. Our township has no industry now and our taxes are going sky high."

The suburbs are speaking up now because the county has under consideration a new zoning ordinance designed to serve as the guide for all types of development — residential, business, and industrial —of the countryside in the next 20 years, or until 1980.

PERHAPS the rural school district the hardest pressed financially is the Feehanville school district in Wheeling township. And its financial future may be as bleak as the present.

"We are not a wealthy school district," said its representative, Edward Reinfranck. "We need more business and manufacturing zones because we're interested in more tax revenue dollars per student. We need the money."

Harry F. Chaddick, county zoning consultant, noting the Feehanville area is tagged for residential development, dashed hopes for a change.

"We could take 10,000 acres and zone it industrial. But this is an area where I don't think industry will build."

Industrial zones proposed in the new ordinance are sites where experts expect industry to go, he added. (B8

We Need Nation Of Strong People

By LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

An easy life makes a weak man; a hard life, a strong one. Over and over again, history has repeated itself—nations which became wealthy, with limitless food and easy living, have been defeated by savages living hard and disciplined lives. Softness indicates decay. A good body is made by hard work, plain food. A strong personality is made by hardship and self denial.

Perhaps for the first time in the history of our nation, we are moving toward destruction. Easy living, improper eating and devitalized foods, no great physical demands on the body, an ever decreasing emphasis on the need for character and self control and the ability to endure, is weakening our population. What won the last world war for this nation was not our manpower, but our machines. We starved and blasted the enemy into submission—with the aid of the whole civilized world. What could lose the next war for us is an immoral, physically weakened nation, directed by confused, inadequate leaders.

IF WE ARE TO survive as a nation indefinitely, we must learn to sacrifice and to endure. Somehow we must bring into the training of all of our youth the stability they need to endure physical, moral and mental hardship, and we must develop the leadership we need to lead us in the fight for existence. Each of our children must be taught that to grow physically, he must struggle against physical odds; to grow strong mentally, he must train himself to think; to grow strong emotionally, he must learn to control, and direct his emotions.

Our children must also develop their spiritual nature. They must learn the consequence of sin, how it can weaken character, body and mind. They must learn how to destory the powers of sin, with a strong Christian faith.

When a boy or girl, man or woman, has learned to be spiritually, morally and physically strong, he or she can bear all things with courage; and a nation with a population of such people, will endure as long as the world endures. (B8

Universalists to Hear Artist-Clergyman Sunday

Rev. Ben Richardson, noted artist as well as clergyman, will be guest speaker at Countryside Universalist Fellowship, Roselle, this Sunday morning, 10 o'clock. His topic will be: A Faith For These Times.

Mr. Richardson is minister of All Soul's Unitarian church, Chicago. Recently he was "written up" in the midwest magazine section of the Chicago Sun-Times and his portrait of Jesus, which has been widely acclaimed, was reproduced in the Chicago Tribune.

A PRESBYTERIAN minister for 14 years, Mr. Richardson began his ministry in the Unitarian denomination in 1954. He received his A.B. degree from the Florida A. and M. university; his S.T.B. from the Harvard university divinity school; and holds a certificate in education from the Newark State Teachers college.

In his sermon-address Sunday Mr. Richardson will, in part, explore the relationship between religion and art. Following his presentation there will be a discussion period so that those present can get further clarification and make their own contributions through comments and observations.

A COFFEE AND fellowship hour will follow the morning service. The worship service will be in charge of the fellowship's chairman, Dr. Arthur E. Hoover. The minister, Albert F. Harkins, will be officiating at the summer festival of Universalists at Mukwonago, Wis.

Countryside Universalist Fellowship, an affiliate of The Council of Liberal Churches (Universalist-Unitarian), meets in the Parkside public school, Maple and Howard st., Roselle. A baby sitting service for small children is provided during the time of the church service. (A13
